ORDERS BY THE LIEUT.-GOVERNOR OF BENGAL.

MUNICIPAL AND LOCAL.

NOTIFICATION.

The 25th September 1891.—The following draft of revised rules for the establishment and maintenance of hospitals and dispensaries by local authorities, which the Lieutenant-Governor proposes to make under section 69(b) of Bengal Act III of 1884, and section 138(k) of Bengal Act III of 1885, and in supersession of all existing rules under these sections, is published for general information under section 143 of the latter Act. These rules also include rules for the management of hospitals and dispensaries under Government supervision, which supersede those forming part of the Dispensary Manual, issued with the Government of Bengal Notification, dated the 2nd September 1886. The draft rules will be taken into consideration on or after the 1st November 1891, when any objections or suggestions which may be made by any person, and received before that date, will also be considered.

H. H. RISLEY,
Offg. Secretary to the Govt. of Bengal.

RULES FOR THE MANAGEMENT OF HOSPITALS AND DISPENSARIES UNDER THE SUPERVISION OF THE GOVERNMENT OF BENGAL.

PRELIMINARY.

IN these rules—

(a) "Local authority" means any body of persons for the time being invested by law with the control and administration of any matters within a specified local area. It includes a Joint-Committee under section 30 and a Local Board under section 101 of Bengal Act III of 1885.

CLASSIFICATION.

RULE I.—Hospitals and dispensaries under Government supervision are divided into the following classes:—

CLASS I.—State hospitals and dispensaries maintained by Provincial Funds and under Government management. (The fact that an institution is possessed of endowments, or receives contributions from local funds or private subscriptions, does not remove it from this category so long as Provincial Funds are practically responsible for all the charges connected with it.)

CLASS II.—Local Fund hospitals and dispensaries under the control and administration of local authorities (i.e. District Boards, Local Boards, and Municipal Committees), or guaranteed or maintained by local funds. [The fact that such an institution is aided by private subscriptions, or receives assistance from Government in the shape of part of the salary of the medical officer, grants of medicine, or otherwise, does not remove it from this category so long as its existence is practically dependent upon local funds.]

CLASS III.—Private hospitals and dispensaries. This class is sub-divided into—

(A)—Institutions maintained entirely at the cost of private individuals or associations or from private endowments. [The fact that Government supplies superior inspection or registers does not remove an institution from this category.]

(B)—Institutions supported by private subscriptions or endowments, but receiving aid from Government or local funds.

CONDITIONS UNDER WHICH GOVERNMENT AID AND SUPERVISION WILL BE GIVEN.

RULE 2.—A dispensary may be opened by a local authority with the sanction, general or special, of the Commissioner, and on provision of the necessary funds in the annual budget, and it may be closed by the same authority with the same sanction. When thus opened or closed by a local authority, the fact shall be reported by the Civil Surgeon to the Inspector-General of Civil Hospitals, in order that the dispensary may be added to or struck off from the list in Class II. No dispensary in either Class II or Class III in which a Government medical subordinate is employed shall, however, be closed without the sanction of Government. All dispensaries maintained by local authorities with public funds entrusted to them by Government are subject to all the rules hereby laid down for the management of such institutions. Whenever a dispensary under Class III is opened or closed by a private individual, the fact shall be reported by the Civil Surgeon to the Inspector-General of Civil Hospitals. If it is desired that such institution shall be brought under the supervision and inspection of Government officers, or if it receives aid in any way (other than grant of forms and registers free of cost) from Government or local funds, it shall be brought on to the Government list, but not otherwise. If brought on to the Government list, it shall be subject to these rules.

RULE 3.—Applications for grants from Government in respect of any dispensary shall be submitted to Government through the Magistrate and the Commissioner.

The Lieutenant-Governor reserves the right to withdraw Government supervision or aid in any case, or at any time, when it may seem desirable to do so.

No grant may be made by a local authority in aid of any hospital or dispensary which has not received the recognition of Government and been classified under these rules. Grants-in-aid shall be made only in accordance with these rules.

RULE 4.—A guarantee bond for the maintenance of a dispensary for a given period may, if thought necessary, be required from the intending supporters of an institution in Class III as a condition precedent to their obtaining assistance from Government in money or in any other way.

RULE 5.—The Managing Committee of every hospital or dispensary under these rules, whether in Class I, Class II, or Class III, shall submit to the Medical Department, through the Civil Surgeon of the district, such reports, returns, and accounts as may be prescribed by the Inspector-General of Civil Hospitals from time to time. Such reports, returns, and accounts shall be in such forms, and be submitted on such dates, as may be prescribed. All books, registers, and forms which may be necessary for the preparation and submission of such reports, returns, and accounts will be supplied by Government free of cost.

RULE 6.—Every institution which is recognised by Government and brought under these rules is subject to inspection and supervision by the Commissioner of the Division, by the Civil authorities of the district, by the Civil Surgeon, by the administrative officers of the Medical Department, and by any other person who may be generally or specially appointed by the Commissioner of the Division in that behalf. No charge will be made for such inspection or supervision.

RULE 7.—Government aid to a hospital or dispensary will be conditional on the observance of due economy in the management of the dispensary funds. The Inspector-General of Civil Hospitals will bring to the notice of Government any instance in which he considers that such economy is not observed, and that the Government aid should be continued or withdrawn.

RULE 8.—Every dispensary under these rules, which has accommodation for in-patients, shall admit all cases brought by the police for examination and treatment; and shall provide facilities for post mortem examinations being conducted in such cases. At head-quarters of sub-divisions, where a special provision of medicines is made for Government servants, these medicines shall be separately stored and dispensed to Government servants in the dispensary and by its establishment.

APPOINTMENT, PAY, LEAVE AND PENSION OF MEDICAL OFFICERS.

RULE 9.—The medical officer of every institution in Class I of these rules shall be a member of the Government service, and shall be appointed by the Inspector-General of Civil Hospitals.

The medical officer of a dispensary in Class II shall be nominated by the local authority and approved by the Inspector-General of Civil Hospitals. In the case of dispensaries situated at the head-quarters of districts or of sub-divisions, he shall be a member of the Government service, and shall in all cases possess such qualifications as may be declared to be necessary for such an appointment.

The medical officer for a dispensary in Class III shall ordinarily be appointed by the supporters of the institution in any manner they think fit; but if the dispensary receives pecuniary aid from Government, the grant of such aid may be coupled with any suitable conditions as to the qualifications requisite for the officer in charge.

RULE 10.—The qualifications required in the preceding rule are, in the case of a dispensary in Class II, if the medical officer nominated is not a member of the Government service,—

(a) that he be a duly qualified medical man, licensed or certified by a recognised medical college or school, his license or diploma being subject to examination and approval by the Inspector-General of Civil Hospitals;

(b) that he be not a dismissed servant of Government, or disqualified for his duties by age, infirmity, or character; and

(c) that in the event of misconduct, insolvency, or professional incompetence by reason of age or otherwise, being proved against him to the satisfaction of the Medical Department, he be removed from his charge on the requisition of the Inspector-General of Civil Hospitals.

In the case of dispensaries in Class III assisted by Government funds—

(a) that he be not a dismissed servant of Government, or disqualified for his duties by age, infirmity, or character; and

(b) that in the event of misconduct, insolvency, or professional incompetence by reason of age or otherwise, being proved against any medical officer in a dispensary in class III assisted by Government funds or in class II, to the satisfaction of the Medical Department, he shall be removed from his charge on the requisition of the Inspector-General of Civil Hospitals.

RULE 11.—In the case of a hospital or dispensary situated at the head-quarters of a sub-division, the Government medical officer in charge of the sub-division will be in charge of the hospital or dispensary in addition to his other duties, and will receive from the managers of the dispensary an additional allowance of Rs. 10 a month if he is a Civil Hospital Assistant, or Rs. 20 a month if he is an Assistant Surgeon. It will be open to the managers, however, to obtain the services of a medical subordinate of the Government establishment of such higher rank as they may desire, on the payment by them of the full amount by which the authorised pay and allowances of such officer may exceed the amount sanctioned by Government for the medical charge of the sub-division.

RULE 12.—The Inspector-General of Civil Hospitals may at any time, for departmental or other reasons, remove or transfer any Government medical subordinate whose services have been lent to an institution in Class II or III, and may appoint another medical subordinate to succeed him. In every such case, except as hereinafter provided, the transit pay and travelling allowances both of the officer transferred and of his successor shall be entirely paid by Government Provided that, if any officer is transferred at the request of the local authority or Managing Committee, the transit pay and travelling allowances both of the officer transferred and of his successor shall be entirely paid by the local authority or Managing Committee concerned.

RULE 13.—The pay to which a Government medical subordinate in medical charge of any dispensary is entitled is only the pay of his grade, and no allowance in excess of his authorized pay can be granted by a local authority without the consent of the Inspector-General of Civil Hospitals.

RULE 14.—A Government medical subordinate appointed to the charge of a hospital or dispensary under these rules will retain his right to pension and leave allowances under the rules of the Civil Service Regulations.

RULE 15.—All applications for leave from Government medical subordinates must be submitted, through the Managing Committee and the Civil Surgeon, to the Inspector-General of Civil Hospitals, Bengal, who alone is authorized to grant the leave and to appoint a substitute whose transit pay and travelling allowance will be paid by Government.

RULE 16.—Medical officers in charge of hospitals or dispensaries in Class II or Class III, who are not in Government service, shall be entitled to such leave as the local authority or Managing Committee may grant; provided that in the case of an institution in Class II, if rules for the grant of leave have been framed by the local authority concerned, leave shall only be granted in accordance with such rules. The Local authority or Managing Committee shall appoint a locum tenens duly qualified under rule 9, and shall provide for any expenditure that may be incurred on account of the pay of the medical officer while on leave, and the pay and travelling allowances, if any, of his locum tenens.

RULE 17.—The salaries or part salaries of Government medical subordinates, including such enhanced pay as they may be entitled to on promotion, as well as the contributions towards their leave and pension allowances, which are due from a local authority or manager of a dispensary, must be paid each month, and the Magistrate of the district will be held responsible that such payments are duly made, and that steps are taken to recover their amount from the managers of the dispensary. In special cases, where on a full consideration of the entire income and expenditure of the local authority concerned, the Magistrate and the Commissioner are of opinion that it is really unable to meet the increased charge arising from the promotion of a medical subordinate, the Government will be prepared to help either by appointing an officer on lower pay, or by granting the amount due from Provincial funds.

MEDICAL STORES.

RULE 18.—The indents for medical stores for hospitals and dispensaries in Classes II and III must be drawn up by the medical officer of the institution and be checked and passed by the Civil Surgeon before the stores are purchased. Such institutions shall make their own arrangements for the supply of medicines and medical stores. Cinchona febrifuge and quinine can, however, at the option of the managing body, be obtained from the Government Quinologist direct on payment.

RULE 19.—Medical stores will be supplied to State hospitals and dispensaries from the Government Medical Store Department; but the indent must be checked and countersigned by the Civil Surgeon, and the supply will ordinarily be confined to the articles specified in the list given in Appendix B, Form XV. It will, however, be in the discretion of the Inspector-General of Civil Hospitals to sanction or disallow any demand.

RULE 20.—Medical stores to be supplied from the Medical Store Department must be indented for annually, and the annual indent must be submitted on the date fixed by the Civil Surgeon, to enable him to submit the combined indent for his district punctually on the date fixed by the Inspector-General of Civil Hospitals, Bengal.

MANAGEMENT AND SUPERVISION.

RULE 21.—The management of hospitals and dispensaries under these rules shall be vested as follows:—

If the institution is in—

(b) Class II—in the local authority which provides the major portion of the funds from which the institution is maintained, or in a Managing Committee appointed by that authority. Such Managing Committee may include persons who are not members of the local authority. The members shall be notified by the Commissioner in the Calcutta Gazette, and the Commissioner shall exercise in respect of the hospital or dispensary for which it is appointed such powers as may be delegated to it by the local authority.

(c) Class III—in a Manager or Managing Committee to be nominated by the Commissioner of the Division; provided that no Committee shall be appointed for any institution in this class, which receives no aid from Government or Local funds, unless the proprietors or chief supporters apply for such appointment.

No medical officer and no employé of the dispensary shall be eligible for appointment as a member of the Dispensary Committee.

RULE 22.—In cases falling under (b) and (c) of rule 21, the Local authority or the Managing Committee shall elect two of their number to be Chairman and Vice-Chairman respectively, and may also elect another of their number as Secretary.

RULE 23.—The Managing Committee shall meet at least once a quarter, and shall scrutinize the accounts and enquire into all matters affecting the welfare of the institution. They shall examine and pass the monthly accounts, and shall keep a minute-book in which their proceedings shall be recorded.

RULE 24.—The Managing Committee shall be responsible for the management of the funds of the institution. It shall be their duty to see that the guaranteed and promised subscriptions are regularly collected. After defraying the current expenses of the institution, the balance at the end of the month, if any, of the donations, subscriptions and interest realized by the Committee shall be deposited by them in the Post Office Savings Bank. When the amount at credit of the dispensary exceeds Rs. 200, the Comptroller-General should ordinarily be asked to invest the whole or a part of it in Government securities. No other mode of investment will be allowed without the previous sanction of Government.

RULE 25.—The Secretary shall keep the accounts of all funded and other property belonging to the institution. He shall receive from the medical officer in charge a monthly account of the receipts and disbursements, and shall examine and countersign all the establishment pay and contingent bills of the institution. He shall, at the end of each month, prepare a statement of the accounts, which he shall submit to the Committee at their next meeting. A copy shall also be sent to the Superintendent.

RULE 26.—In the case of institutions in Class II, all subscriptions, donations, and the interest on endowments shall be credited to the local fund, but a separate account of dispensary receipts and expenditure shall be kept. The endowments and subsequent investments, which must be made in Government securities, shall be held in the custody of the Comptroller-General apart from the assets of the local fund. Small sums available for investment should be placed in the Government Savings Bank. The securities must not be sold, and these invested funds must not be appropriated or used in any way without the sanction of Government.

RULE 27.—The Civil Surgeon shall be the Superintendent of every hospital and dispensary in his district which is classified under these rules, and shall exercise complete control, both professional and administrative, over the medical officer in immediate charge.

RULE 28.—The Superintendent shall scrutinize the expenditure and accounts of every hospital and dispensary in his district, and shall call the attention of the managing body to any irregularity or other circumstance which, in his opinion, deserves notice. The managing body shall be bound to consider any communication from the Superintendent, to afford him full information as to the conduct of the medical officer in charge and all other matters affecting the welfare of the sick and the management of the institution. In all professional matters the opinion and action of the Superintendent will be supreme; but if any difference of opinion arises between him and the managing body regarding any non-professional matter affecting the management of the institution, a reference must be made to the Inspector-General of Civil Hospitals or to Government for a decision.

RULE 29.—The Superintendent shall visit each dispensary in his district not less than four times annually, except by special dispensation from the Inspector-General of Civil Hospitals, and shall prepare and submit promptly to the Inspector-General of Civil Hospitals inspection reports in Form XXVI given in Appendix D.

RULE 30.—The Superintendent shall furnish an annual report of the working of the hospitals and dispensaries in his district to the Inspector-General of Civil Hospitals, according to the scheme given in Appendix C, and annual returns in accordance with the forms annexed.

RULE 31.—The Managing Committee of every hospital or dispensary shall cause to be kept at the institution—

(a) a record of the work done, showing day by day the number of patients treated, the affections for which they were treated, and in important cases some account of the symptoms, the treatment, progress, and the result;

These shall be written up daily by the medical officer in charge, and shall be open at all times to the inspection of inspecting officers.

The medical officer shall write up all other books and records prescribed under these rules, and in any case in which this is not done, the reasons should be stated in the inspection report of the Superintendent.

RULE 32.—An extract from the proceedings of each meeting of the Managing Committee and of the local authority, so far as they relate to hospitals and dispensaries, shall be promptly frowarded to the Superintendent, who may, if he thinks fit, and shall, if the Managing Committee so desire, submit it with his remarks to the Inspector-General of Civil Hospitals.

RULE 33.—A Visitors' book shall be kept in every hospital and dispensary, in which will be recorded the remarks of visitors. A copy of these remarks shall be forwarded, on the day of entry, to the Superintendent, who will, if necessary, transmit it with his remarks to the Inspector-General of Civil Hospitals within three days of its receipt in his office.

GENERAL.

RULE 34.—The medical officer in charge of a hospital or dispensary is responsible for the proper treatment of the sick, and this duty shall not on any account be delegated to a subordinate; he is also responsible for all matters connected with the comfort and well-being of the patients, and for the proper working of the dispensary establishment.

RULE 35.—The Managing Committee shall prescribe the hours of attendance (which shall not be less than four hours in the morning and two hours in the afternoon) within which the medical officer must be present at the dispensary. He must also give attention to urgent cases at other hours.

The hours of attendance shall be clearly stated in a notice posted in some conspicuous part of the dispensary.

RULE 36.—Any person attending at a charitable dispensary is entitled to receive advice and medicines free of charge; but the medical officer should impress upon any person who is not poor the duty of subscribing to the dispensary or paying for the medicines supplied to him, and should bring to the notice of the Committee any cases in which the privilege is abused.

RULE 37.—No medicines shall be issued from the dispensary stock to any one who does not receive treatment at the dispensary either as an in-door or out-door patient.

RULE 38.—Where special accommodation has been provided for paying patients, fees may be levied according to a scale previously sanctioned in that behalf by the Managing Committee.

RULE 39.—The medical officer in charge of a dispensary has the privilege of engaging in private practice, provided it does not interfere with his attendance at the dispensary during the hours prescribed in rule 35, or in any other way with his dispensary work.

RULE 40.—No medical officer in charge of a hospital or dispensary, or any compounder, dresser, or other servant of such institution, shall have any interest in a private dispensary or druggist's shop. A medical officer may, with the consent of the Civil Surgeon, keep a private supply of medicine for the use of his private patients.

RULE 41.—When accommodation is provided for the medical officer in or near the dispensary, he must live in the residence provided for him.

RULE 42.—In dispensaries in which there are house-patients, a bed-head ticket in the prescribed form shall be hung over the bed of each in-patient.

RULE 43.—Medicines and instruments shall be kept under lock and key, except small quantities of the articles in daily use during the attendance of patients.

RULE 44.—Poisons must be kept under separate lock and key.

RULE 45.—No building for the location of a dispensary or hospital in Classes II and III, and no extension of such building, shall be constructed by the local authority or manager until the plan of such building or extension shall have been approved by the Civil Surgeon. If in-patients are to be accommodated, each patient should have at least 60 superficial and 810 cubic feet of space, and the beds should be so placed that the patients will not be obliged to sleep in a draught of air. Plans and estimates of dispensaries in Class I must be approved by the Inspector-General of Civil Hospitals, Bengal.

RULE 46.—In the case of institutions in Class II or Class III, repairs to the dispensary buildings shall be executed by, and be chargeable to, the Local authority or Managing Committee as the case may be.

RULE 47.—Menial servants will be appointed and discharged by the Managing Committee of the institution. Compounders and dressers will also be appointed and be liable to removal by the Managing Committee subject to the approval of the Superintendent.

RULE 48.—Dispensary servants must not be employed in the private service of the medical officer.

RULE 49.—The employment of apprentices is prohibited, except with the special permission of the Superintendent in the case of candidates training for the compounders' examination in the sudder dispensary at a civil station.

RULE 50.—Articles of clothing which are not infected, and other moveable property belonging to deceased house-patients, should be sent through the police to the local Munsif or District Judge for disposal under the provisions of Regulation V of 1799.

BOOKS AND FORMS.

RULE 51.—The following books and forms are required to be kept up by the medical officer at hospitals and dispensaries brought under these rules (See Appendix B.):—

1. Diary and register of in-door patients (Form I).
2. Register of operations (Form II).
3. Bed-head ticket (Form III).

This should be written up daily and be filed so as to preserve a concise history of the case and treatment. It is advisable also to keep a case-book for recording all special or important cases.

4. Register of out-patients (Form IV).

5. Ticket for out-door patients (Form V).

6 A book of copies of certificates given in police and medico-legal cases (Form VI).

7. A blank book for record of post-mortem examinations, medico-legal or otherwise, and for keeping detailed records of wounds or other police cases. Instead of a book being kept up, a copy of Form VII, which is to be used when despatching viscera to the Chemical Examiner, may be filed as a record of medico-legal post-mortem examinations.

8. Monthly return of in and out-patients (Form VIII). This should be prepared and submitted to the Civil Surgeon soon after the close of the month, and a copy should be kept in a book for the more easy and accurate preparation of the annual return.

9. Monthly bill in detail of establishment, diet, and contingencies (Form IX). These are to be prepared by the medical officer in charge and sent for examination, countersignature, and payment to the Secretary or Managers. In all cases in which there is expenditure for establishment, diet, or any other charge to be paid by Government, the bills of such expenditure are to be kept separate from the private accounts of the charity.

10. A bill-book for copies of all the dispensary bills.

11. A daily account or cash-book showing actual receipts and expenditure in detail. This is to be kept by the medical officer, and the account totalled up at the end of each month.

12. A diet book in Form X. This is required only in dispensaries in which there are in-patients.

13. Monthly return of medical subordinates and hospital servants, including acquittance-roll (Form XI). This is to be sent monthly to the Superintendent.

14. A stock ledger of medicines (Form XII).

15. Annual indent for European medicines and instruments (Form XIII). This is to be submitted to the Civil Surgeon in printed form and in duplicate.

16. Emergent indent for European medicines and instruments (Form XIV). This is to be submitted to the Civil Surgeon in printed form and in duplicate.

17. Form XV shows a list of medicines that may ordinarily be indented for from the Government Medical Store.

18. Form XVI shows a list of the principal articles of the materia medica which are procurable in bazars.

19. Annual indent for forms (Form XVII).

20. Annual returns (Form XVIII). These should be sent in the printed form and in duplicate, in the first week of January, to the Civil Surgeon for check and for the transmission of one of the copies to the Inspector-General of Civil Hospitals not later than the 10th January.

21. Operations are to be entered in the annual return in accordance with the classification given in list XIX.

22. A season monthly register of vaccination for use in dispensaries to which vaccinators are attached (Form XX). This form can be obtained from the Superintendent, to whom a copy duly filled up should be submitted every month for incorporation in his monthly return to be submitted to the Sanitary Commissioner.

DIRECTIONS AND EXPLANATIONS.

Col. 2.—The yearly numbers commence with the first new case admitted in the year and proceed regularly through the 12 months, the last number thus recording the number of admissions in the year and corresponding with the total of column 12.

N. B.—The monthly aggregate of the daily total numbers treated divided by the number of days in the month gives the "average daily sick" required for the monthly return.

Col. 3.—All the cases remaining at the end of a year are to be entered on the following 1st January by the previous year's yearly number and monthly date. Such cases and cases remaining from day to day will only re appear on the date on which their result is recorded. Besides being recorded on the day of its occurrence the result should also be noted (in red ink or in brackets) opposite the original entry.

Col. 5.—Hindoo, H; Mussulman, M.; European, Eu.; Eurasian, Eu.; Native Christian, N. C.; and other classes, O. C.

Col. 6.—Male, M; Female, F; Children to be recorded as such when under 12 years old.

Col 9.—Diseases, injuries, operations, &c., are only to be denominated by the name and number specified in the official "Nomenclature," and no name is ever to be used that does not appear in that book.

If variety or sub-division is to be recorded, the letter or figure in the book must follow the number of the main disease.

In the column headed "Otherwise" a reference number and foot-note are to used to indicate the mode of discharge—unrelieved, absconded, removed by friends, &c.

When Police cases are admitted into hospital, they should be distinguished by the letter P being placed after the yearly number, as 5 P on the 2nd January.

REVENUE DEPARTMENT.

REVISED ADVERTISEMENT.

A Dictionary of the Economic Products of India

BY DR. GEO. WATT, C.I.E.

Reporter on Economic Products.

Published under the authority of the Government of India in the Revenue and Agricultural Department.

The first five volumes of this work are now ready for issue, and intending subscribers are invited to register their names with the Superintendent of Government Printing, Calcutta.

The Dictionary is intended to deal with the products of India—animal, vegetable, and mineral; each product being treated after a uniform plan, the paragraphs of which give the scientific, vernacular, and European names; habitat of source; history; properties and uses (both chemical and industrial); trade statistics; markets; &c. The work is arranged alphabetically according to scientific nomenclature, but commercial and important vernacular names are also given as cross references, so that little difficulty need be experienced in finding the account of a product even when its scientific name is unknown to the reader.

An important feature of the Dictionary consists in the fact that derived information is in every instance given under quotation marks, and with a reference to the original publication. Numerous contributors have, however, furnished the results of new discoveries and confirmed the vernacular names, so that the Dictionary is not only a complete compilation of published information, but has been brought abreast of the most recent inventions and discoveries.

Volume I contains the letters A and B, and consists of 559 royal octavo pages; Vol. II embraces the letter C in 689 pages; Vol. III contains the letters D, E, F and half of G. Vol. IV latter half of G to middle of L; and Vol. V contains the latter half of L to end of "O." The whole work will, it is expected, be completed in seven volumes during the current year; but an eighth volume may also be issued consisting of an Index to all the vernacular and other names contained in the Dictionary. The Index will practically be a Glossary of the vernacular and European names of the plants, animals and minerals of India, and as such will be a work of reference, which, it is hoped, may prove of considerable value.

The price to subscribers will be in India Rs. 30 and in England 2 guineas, payable in advance, for the complete set (exclusive of the Index for which a separate charge will be made).

For copies bound in half calf or half morocco, Rs. 6 and 8 shillings respectively will be charged extra for the whole sets.

No copies will be issued to non-subscribers till the work is complete, and no single volume will be sold separately. The price to non-subscribers will be Rs. 45 in India and 3 guineas in England. The period of registration of subscribers' names will expire on the 1st October.

PAYMENT OF REWARDS FOR THE DESTRUCTION OF TIGERS IN THE SUNDERBUNS RESERVED OR PROTECTED FORESTS.

RESOLUTION.

JUDICIAL.

Dated Darjeeling, the 25th September 1891.

A notification dated the 19th December 1884, issued by this Government in the Judicial Department, regarding the payment by the Forest Department of rewards for the destruction of tigers and tiger-cubs in the Sunderbuns.

Letter No. 25M.G., dated the 30th April 1891, from the Conservator of Forests Bengal.

Letters Nos 2Ct.—J.G. and 26Ct.—J.G., dated respectively the 13th July and the 13th August, 1891, from the Commissioner of the Presidency Division.

Under the existing arrangements, the Forest Department pays a reward of Rs. 25 for each full-grown tiger and of Rs. 10 for each tiger-cub killed in the Sunderbuns reserved or protected forests, in addition to the authorized rewards paid by the Civil Department. The Conservator of Forests, Bengal, having pointed out certain defects and difficulties in the working of this system, the Lieutenant-Governor directs, in supersession of all previous orders on the subject, that from the 1st October 1891 either the Forest Department or the Civil Department shall pay a reward of Rs. 50 for each full-grown tiger or tigress, and of Rs. 20 for each tiger-cub proved to have been killed in the Sunderbuns reserved or protected forests, and in respect to which there is no reason to believe that a reward has already been given by the State on a previous occasion. The skin and skull of each tiger, tigress or tiger-cub killed should be taken either to a Ranger or Forester in the Sunderbuns, by whom they should be retained until the arrival of a gazetted officer of the Sunderbuns Forest Department, and produced before him for inspection, or to the District Magistrate, or, during the absence of the latter from head-quarters, to the officer in charge of the district office, for inspection. The authorized rewards should be paid after the inspecting officer is thoroughly satisfied that the skin is intact and attached naturally to the skull, and that the animal was killed in the Sunderbuns protected or reserved forests. He should also personally see that the skull is destroyed so that it cannot possibly be used again.

2. As the amount of reward is chargeable in moieties to the Civil and Forest Departments, the expenditure incurred on this account should be adjusted at the close of the financial year by those Departments after mutual communication.

ORDER.—Ordered that a copy of the above Resolution be forwarded to the Conservator of Forests, the Commissioners of the Presidency and Dacca Divisions, and to the Accountant-General, Bengal.

Ordered also that the Resolution be published in the Calcutta Gazette.

By order of the Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal,

JOHN EDGAR,

Chief Secy. to the Govt. of Bengal.

REPORT ON THE ECONOMIC AND ART SECTION OF THE INDIAN MUSEUM FOR THE YEAR 1890-91.

REVENUE DEPARTMENT—MISCELLANEOUS.

RESOLUTION No. 317 MIS. (F)

READ—

The Report of the Trustees of the Indian Museum on the Economic and Art Section of the Indian Museum for the year 1890-91.

The Report of the Assistant Curator of the Economic and Art Section of the Indian Museum on the Economic and Art Museum, with the remarks of the Trustees, was received on the 1st September 1891.

The record of the year's work is divided under three heads, namely, 1st, the preservation and arrangement of existing specimens; 2nd, the collection of new specimens for the Economic and Art Section; and 3rd, the collection of specimens for other institutions. The first is at the present moment the most important function of the Section; the collection of new specimens is retarded by financial considerations, but the collection of specimens for other institutions furnished sufficient employment during the year of report as in previous years. The want of proper accommodation has had an injurious effect on the preservation of the existing specimens, and the Lieutenant-Governor regrets to find that fourteen specimens of rugs and carpets "have been utterly destroyed, rendering them unfit for show." The completion of the Sudder Street extension to the new buildings has now removed the want of house accommodation, and it is hoped that the early removal of the specimens in the Economic and Art Section to the new quarters will secure their better preservation, and also admit of their being arranged and catalogued on a more permanent and satisfactory basis.

2. Upwards of sixteen hundred new specimens were added to the Section, viz., twenty-seven consisting chiefly of New Guinea curios, presented by Mr. Simon Koch, to the Ethnological Branch; 1,263, of which 925 were the duplicates of the collection made at the instance of the Government of India for the Imperial Institute, London, to the Economic Branch; and 316 to the Artware Branch comprising (1) a collection of art manufactures, consisting of water-colour pictures representing phases of native life, papier maché heads representing turbans and forehead marks of different sects and races, two beautiful specimens of wood carving, sixteen of Jaipore brassware, and one hundred marble figures of gods and goddesses, received from the Jaipore Durbar in exchange for Bengal articles supplied by the Indian Museum; (2) twenty-five heads distinguishing turbans received from Poona; and (3) seventeen good specimens of wood-carving received from Burma, representing different occupations of men and women. The total number of exhibits in the Ethnological Court was 7,171 against 7,145 in the preceding year; 18,217 in the Economic Branch against 16,954 in 1889-90; and in the Artware Court, after allowing for breakages and other losses, 10,842 against 10,526 in the year before.

3. Besides the 925 economic specimens, with duplicates for Bengal and other provinces in India, collected for the Imperial Institute, London, thirty-three articles of ethnological interest were supplied for the Berlin Museum to the German Consul at Calcutta, and two more consignments, consisting of 78 specimens of Indian fibres required by the Kew Museum and the Chamber of Commerce, Manchester and Dundee, were despatched.

Mr. C. E. Buckland filled up the place of Mr. P. Nolan in the Board on the latter's departure on leave for England on the 24th March 1891. Another member nominated by the Lieutenant-Governor, Mr. A. Simson, left for England on the 14th March 1891, Mr. J D. Maxwell being appointed in his place on the 17th April 1891

By order of the Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal,

C. E. BUCKLAND,

Offg. Secy. to the Govt. of Bengal.

RESOLUTION ON THE ANNUAL REPORT OF THE DIRECTOR OF LAND RECORDS AND AGRICULTURE, BENGAL, FOR THE YEAR 1890-91.

REVENUE DEPARTMENT—LAND REVENUE.

RESOLUTION No. 1118 L. R.

Read—

The Annual Report of the Director of Land Records and Agriculture, Bengal, for the year 1890-91.

The Director's report is divided into two main parts, of which the first deals with the surveys and settlements in progress during the year; the second relates to agricultural enquiries and improvements and cognate subjects.

I—SURVEYS AND SETTLEMENTS AND MAINTENANCE OF VILLAGE RECORDS.

2. The main portion of the report contains a brief account of the progress of the work in a large proportion of the total number of estates under settlement, and is illustrated by three Appendices (A, B, and D), which show in tabular form the estates, whether Government, temporarily-settled, wards' or private estates, which are under survey and settlement during the year, the areas surveyed, the cost of survey and of settlement, the progress of survey and of recording and settling tenants' rents, the effect of the settlement on the rentals, and the names of the settlement officers under whose immediate control the settlements were conducted.

It is observed that the order of the different estates, as given in the Appendices and in the body of the report, is not uniform, and that they are not, moreover, arranged according to any strict geographical plan. In future an intelligent geographical order should be adopted both as regards the civil divisions and the districts and estates in those divisions, and the same order should be adhered to in the report itself and in each of the Appendices attached to it. Some definite principle should be laid down as to what settlements should be treated of in this report, and what should be omitted. In all riparian districts along the Ganges and Brahmaputra in Eastern Bengal, there are a great number of chars and islands, sometimes belonging to Government and sometimes to private owners, which are subject to diluviation and in which settlements are constantly going on. Some of these settlements in Dacca, Backergunge and Noakhali have been selected for inclusion in the Appendices or for mention in the report, and the majority are not included; but it is not clear on what principle this selection has been made. Again, it is also observed that in some instances estates entered in the Appendices have not been noticed in the report, but the grounds for this omission are not apparent. If it is not considered advisable to refer in the report to every settlement, the natural course, and that which should be adopted, would be to notice the larger and more important operations; but this does not appear to have been done in the present instance, where such small settlements as those of the Khosalpur estate in the Nuddea district, and of certain chars and small private estates in the Noakhali and Tipperah districts, have been selected for particular mention. The statements given in Appendices A and B should also be totalled for convenience.

3. With regard generally to the accounts of the different survey and settlement proceedings given in Chapter I of the Report, the Lieutenant-Governor would observe that it is not necessary that the report should deal with past history, as has been done in the present report in the cases of Angul (paragraph 5), Jalpaiguri (paragraph 17), Chittagong (paragraph 21), the Srinagar-Baneli Ward's Estates (paragraphs 42-44), the Dakhin Shabazpur Ward's Estate (paragraph 61), and other instances. What is required in the Director's report is a clear and sufficiently full account of what has been done and what has been spent during the year under report both on survey and on settlement; the name of the officer who was in charge of the settlement, as well as of his assistants, and their share in the work and the number of days spent by each away from head-quarters should be mentioned; and when the account of the work done consists in reporting the number of villages in which khanapuri was completed, or the number of ryots whose status was decided or whose rent determined, the figures should be referred to a common standard of progress, so as to enable Government to judge whether the settlement is in a satisfactory state of progress or not. An early opportunity will be found for carrying out these instructions. Orders have lately been issued in Government order No. 135T—R., dated the 18th June 1891, to the Board of Revenue, under which, in addition to the report, which is to be mainly financial and statistical, for the financial year ending the 31st March, and to be accompanied by the present agricultural part of the report, the Director will submit annually a further administrative report containing full information with regard to all surveys and settlements for the survey year ending the 30th September. Advantage should be taken of these orders to correct the shortcomings pointed out by this Resolution on the report now submitted. In a subsequent letter to the Board of Revenue, No. 455T—R., dated the 24th September 1891, detailed instructions have been given as to the nature of the information which is to be supplied by the Settlement Officers in their half-yearly Progress Reports, and which will be embodied in the Director's two reports.

4. The work of settlement is being carried out on a large scale in three tracts which are under the supervision of the Director—Orissa, Chittagong, and the Jalpaiguri Duars—as well as in a portion of the Sonthal Pergunnahs which is not under Mr. Finucane or the Board of Revenue. The history of the progress of these important settlements should be set in the forefront of the report.

5. General survey and resettlement of Orissa.—The progress made by Mr. Patterson's survey party has been rather disappointing. The expenditure on survey is given in the report and in Appendix A up to the end of June 1891; it should have been given to the end of the year under report, i.e. to the 31st March 1891. There are, moreover, discrepancies between the report and the Appendix A, as to the figures of the area surveyed up to and during the year. The report speaks of 360 square miles cadastrally surveyed in the Puri district in 1889-90, and 643 during 1890-91, or 1,003 in all; whereas Appendix A shows 549,003 acres, or 858 square miles, surveyed during 1890-91, and none in the previous year. The discrepancy is probably due to the confusion between the survey and the financial year. The Deputy Superintendent of Survey estimates that the cadastral survey of these 1,003 square miles, which was completed by the end of June 1891, has cost Rs 139 per square mile, but apparently this estimate omits the cost of the traverse. The total expenditure on the 1,003 square miles is stated as Rs. 1,67,996, or about Rs. 165 per square mile.

The Settlement Officer, Mr. H. Reily, joined his appointment in February 1891, and the Assistant Settlement Officers at various later dates. During the remainder of the year their time was occupied in demarcating in advance for the survey party, testing the khanapuri, attesting areas of holdings, recording rights and existing rents, and making arrangements for utilising the kanungos, patwaris, and chaukidars of the country. The report states that the holdings of 11,734 tenants were attested and their rents recorded by the end of the year, and this seems a considerable amount of work, since settlement operations began so late in the year.

There is a further discrepancy between the report and the Appendix D, as to the number of Assistant Settlement Officers, the former showing 7 and the latter 8.

6. In Chittagong, survey and settlement have been going on in two parts—Old Thana Ramu and the Sudder sub-division. In the former, where work was begun in 1888, the survey of the whole area of 156,390 acres was completed, as well as the attestation of all the holdings in the 50 villages under the direct management of Government. The draft records of 40 villages were published, and of 12 villages finally published, but the final publication of the records of the remaining villages could not be made pending orders of Government as to the status to be assigned to the Noabad talukdars. Government has since issued orders on this point, under which they will be treated as tenure-holders. This part of the settlement was under Baboo Jogendro Kumar Bose, Assistant Settlement Officer, whose progress seems to have been satisfactory. The survey, which was finished before the year under report, cost annas 6-11 per acre and the settlement has cost annas 1-3 so far as it has gone.

7. The main strength of the staff was thrown into the Sudder sub-division, under Mr. Slack as Settlement Officer with a Covenanted Assistant, Mr. Allen, and three uncovenanted officers under him. The Professional Survey Department completed 1,448 square miles of traverse and 863 square miles of cadastral survey, out of a total area of 1,630 square miles, in the two years 1889-91. During the year 1889-90 the average cost of survey per acre was as high as 7 annas 9 pies, the reasons assigned being the small size of the plots, the high rate of wages, and the extreme complexity of tenures. With a view to reducing the cost of survey, the khasra writing was during the year under report made over to the Settlement Department, the result being that 308,480 acres were surveyed at a cost of Rs. 1,21,195, or an average of 5 annas and 4 pies per acre.

8. The settlement staff were mainly engaged in completing the survey records of 195 villages, and in demarcation and settlement of boundary disputes; but the rents and status of over 7,000 ryots were recorded during the year. Fuller information as to the work done by each officer individually will be looked for in the Administration Report. The total cost of survey and settlement up to the end of the year was Rs. 1,99,768, and the settlement has been estimated to result in an increase of revenue of Rs. 1,20,000.

9. Jalpaiguri, Western Duars.—The account of the year's work is again far too brief. The Lieutenant-Governor personally inspected the operations in April last, and it then appeared that the figures as to the survey given in paragraph 17 of the Director's report for the year 1889-90 were not quite correct. The report stated that in the season of 1889-90, 782 square miles had been traversed, and the 4-inch topographical survey of 118 square miles and cadastral survey of 304 square miles had been completed. The figures as given by Colonel Strahan, the Deputy Surveyor-General, showed, however, that during that season traverse had been completed of 730 square miles, cadastral survey of 275, and that no 4-inch topographical work had been done. The estimate of work turned out during 1890-91, as far as then known, was as follows:—

Cultivated	...	... Traverse 92, cadastral 188.
Cultivable	...	... Ditto 195, topographical 383.
Forest	...	... Ditto 109, detail 150

This left about 170 square miles to be surveyed topographically and 300 of forest detail to be completed.

The cadastral work showed the following results for 1890-91 :—

Pergunnah South Mainaguri—all the maps, amounting to about 1,200 in number, were finished and sent in.

Pergunnah North Mainaguri—out of 934 maps, 697 were finished and sent in.

Pergunnah Chengmari—out of 1,143 maps, 1,112 were finished and sent in.

All of these were expected to be in by the middle of April.

In Moraghat very few, and in West Madari no maps were sent in.

Many errors and defects were found in these maps and the accompanying records, and the Settlement Officer was much delayed in his proper work by the delay in completing them, and by the necessity of correcting them when sent in. He submitted a report on proposed settlement rates, on which orders were passed by Government, and he prepared during the year the assessment, in accordance with those orders, on the larger part of the jotes in the South Mainaguri pergunnah.

10. The next class into which the operations of the Department may naturally be divided is the settlement of certain large scattered Government estates in different parts of the country. The only representatives of this class are Angul and Banki in Orissa, and as to the work done in these during the year, the report gives very little information. It appears from Appendix A that Rs. 13,928 were spent during the year partly on survey and partly on settlement in Angul, but there is nothing to show exactly what work was carried on, nor does the report show who was in charge of it. Appendix D should have shown this, if the report itself did not mention it; but it is observed that no settlement officer's name is entered for Angul in that Appendix.

As to Banki, where Rs. 5,003 were spent mostly in settlements during the year, the only details of work mentioned by the Director are as follows :—"The entries in the khatians and the new rentals were explained to the raiyats during the year and their signatures taken." There is nothing either in the report or in Appendix D to show under whom the work was carried on. The survey and settlement of the estate, which comprises 76,800 acres, were completed during the year at an average cost of 7 annas 10 pies per acre, the only important work remaining to be done being the reorganization of the surbarakari establishment. In their letter No 644A, dated the 27th August 1891, the Board of Revenue have stated that the final report is still being awaited nor has that report been yet received by Government. The Lieutenant-Governor regards this delay as very unsatisfactory.

11. Next come the small scattered Government estates, mostly chars or islands in the great rivers, which were never settled with any one, or which have fallen into the hands of the Government through default of their proprietors by reason of diluviation. As already mentioned, many of these exist in all the riverain districts, and it is not known why certain of these have been selected for description here. The largest collection of these appears to be the Backergunge Government Estates. The report with its Appendices exhibits great confusion as to the actual number of estates under settlement in this district. Excluding the Dakhin Shabazpur Estate, which is under the Court of Wards, Appendix A shows 31 estates under survey and settlement, there being nothing in the Appendix to show which of these are under Babu Piari Mohan Bose and which under Mr. Dwija Das Dutta. The body of the report mentions 39 estates as under the former Babu, viz. 4 under the Tenancy Act and 35 under the regulations, and 17 under the Tenancy Act as in charge of Mr. Dwija Das Dutta. Neither the figures in the Appendix A, nor those in the report, agree with those which were supplied to Sir Charles Elliott at his inspection of the Burisal office, on which occasion there were said to be 20 settlements pending under the Tenancy Act and 23 under the old regulations Of these 48, 2 were represented as being under the Sub-divisional Officer of Bhola, 4 under the Sub-divisional Officer of Patuakhali, 9 under Sub-Deputy Collector Babu Akhil Chunder Roy, and 6 under Sub-Deputy Collector Babu Kali Prosad Chatterjee. None of these latter are, however, mentioned in the Director's report.

The Director should in his next report explain to Government the exact number of surveys and settlements pending in the Backergunge district, stating their names and the officer under whom each is placed.

12. Government Estates in Midnapore.—The report does not state, in the case of either of the two estates under settlement, what work was done during the year. In the case of the Bhetia estate it appears from Appendix A that Rs. 192 were spent, but it does not appear on what the expenditure was incurred; in Kamina Chak nothing was spent, and it is stated that settlement operations have been completed. It should have been reported whether anything, and if so what, was done.

13. Government Estates in Nuddea.—Out of 17 estates under survey and settlement during the year in the Nuddea district, only one, that of Khosalpur, is mentioned in the Director's report, and the information given as to that estate is altogether incorrect. The Director writes:—"This estate, containing 476 acres, was purchased by Government at a sale for arrears of revenue. The measurement was completed during the year at a cost of Rs. 137, or 4 annas and 7 pies per acre on the area surveyed." It appears, however, from the progress report for March 1891, submitted by the Collector of Nuddea, that the estate contains 13 villages, and therefore presumably more than 476 acres, and that up to the end of the year 1890-91 only 4 out of those 13 villages had been demarcated, and 1,440 bighas or 476 acres (this is apparently what was in the Director's mind), were cadastrally surveyed, the survey operations up to the end of the year having cost altogether Rs 64 5-5. The progress of this survey, which is under Babu Hem Chunder Mitter, has been very unsatisfactory.

14 Government Estates in Noakhali.—Mention is made of three chars only in this district, namely, Pir Baksh, Char Ghazi and Char Fakira. No account is given to show what settlement work was carried out in estate Pir Baksh during the year, beyond a statement that an increase of Rs. 184 was obtained in the rental.

15. Government Estates in Tipperah.—The settlement of Government estate Jowar Baluakhandi, comprising an area of only 2,762 acres, took two years to complete under Babu Rajani Kumar Dutta, Deputy Collector. The progress appears to the Lieutenant-Governor to have been unduly slow. In pergunnah Singargaon Rs. 705 were spent during the year, the only work done being the decision of certain disputes about boundaries, and objections as to soil classification. No satisfactory explanation is given of the delay in the decision of these disputes, which had the effect of raising the average cost of survey and settlement to the abnormally high figure of 13 annas and 9 pies per acre.

16. The fourth important class of estates under the Settlement Department are those belonging to the Government Wards. One of the largest of these is the Srinagar-Bancli Ward's Estate. The report explains the method adopted of settling fair rents on the basis of existing rates, an allowance in the area being made for difference in the method of measurement and for more accurate survey; but no account is given to show in what actual work the Settlement Officer, Mr. Collin, was engaged during the year.

It appears that the settlement of 30 villages with an area of about 15 square miles was left pending at the close of the year owing to a dispute as to the standard of measurement, but it is understood that the matter has since been settled, and the submission of the final report, which has already been sent in to the Director, is now awaited by Government.

17. Burdwan Jote Khas Mehals.—In Sujamutha Rs. 10,252 were spent during the year on settlement but here again very little information is given by the Director as to the work that was carried on. The Lieutenant-Governor inspected the settlement personally in the month of February last, and His Honour in a note recorded at the time expressed his dissatisfaction with the amount of work that had been done, and with the want of energy of the Settlement Officer, Mr. Dwijendra Lall Roy, who appeared to be under the mistaken impression that a Settlement Officer's camping season lasted only up to the month of March.

The sum of Rs. 8,133 was spent during the year on the settlement of the Hukumápur Estate under Babu Sukumar Haldar; but Appendix A shows nothing entered either against this estate or against Sujamutha as expenditure on survey from the commencement of the operations. An explanation of this should be submitted.

18. Kanika Ward's Estate.—Here also the Lieutenant-Governor notices a want of information as to what was done during the year. The report states that the survey was completed during the last year, by which is presumably meant the year 1889-90; whereas in Appendix A, 166,400 acres are entered as surveyed during 1890-91 at a cost of Rs. 33,165. The Lieutenant-Governor met the Settlement Officer, Mr. Srinath Dutt, during his visit to Orissa, and was obliged to find some fault with him for having conducted the work of attestation and settlement of rents at too long a distance from the villages concerned.

19. Kujong Ward's Estate.—The same discrepancy as to survey occurs in this case as in that of Kanika referred to above. The report states that the survey was completed last year, but the Appendix A shows Rs. 3,028 as expended on survey during 1890-91, although no area is entered as surveyed during that year. Explanation of these discrepancies should be given. The total number of ryots in the estate is 36,085, and of these the rents of 14,512 were settled during the year; but it is not known, either from the report or Appendices, how many settlements were made up to 31st March 1890, nor, therefore, how much work remains to be done. From the fact that Rs. 6,007 were spent on settlement up to the 31st March 1890, it would appear that the rents of some raiyats had been settled previous to the year under report.

20. Dinagepur Ward's Estates.—These comprise the estates of the Wards of Sunkerpur, Churaman and Maldwar. Final reports have been received by Government in the case of all these estates, and Government Resolutions have already issued on the two latter. The report on the Sunkerpur estate is now under the consideration of Government.

21. Dakhin Shabazpur Ward's Estate.—Paragraph 61 of the report, which explains the reasons why settlement was determined on after the estate came under the Court of Wards in 1886, is not required.

The only account of the year's proceedings is contained in two lines of the report, which state that during the past cold weather the Settlement Officer, Babu Piari Mohan Bose, was engaged in completing the khanapuri which was left undone by the Survey Department. The Lieutenant-Governor does not consider this a satisfactory history of a year's work, there being nothing to show either how much work was done or what remains to be done.

22. Serail Pergunnah Ward's Estate.—The survey of the estate was completed during the year, and good progress was made in the settlement work by Babu Kali Sunker Sen, Settlement Officer, who settled fair rents for 1,410 tenants between December 1890 and the close of the financial year. The total area surveyed was 180,664 acres, at a cost of Rs. 1,21,298, giving a rate of over 10 annas and 8 pies per acre, not of 8 annas per acre as entered in column 16 of Appendix A. In arriving at the average for survey as 8 annas, the Director has apparently only taken into account the cost incurred in 1890-91, and not the previous cost, which amounted to Rs. 30,969. No explanation is given of this exceedingly high rate.

In the Serail pergunnah the lands of the villages are divided into what are locally known as "bandha" according to their bearing (north, west, south or east) from the villages, each "bandha" having a single prevailing rate. With regard to the Director's remark that this is one of the very few cases met with in settlement operations in Bengal, where a true prevailing rate exists, the Lieutenant-Governor believes that such a rate exists more often than is supposed, if the term "prevailing rate" is used in its true sense as a theoretical rate, which actual rates often agree with and always tend to approach. If a rate cannot be called a prevailing rate because a few exceptions are found, or if great accuracy is insisted on, then no doubt the Director's remark is true; but the Lieutenant-Governor does not use the term in that sense. In the Settlement Reports which have been submitted recently, he finds frequent reference to the theoretical existence of prevailing rates; and it is hardly conceivable that there should not have been one, although it may have been effaced or disguised by subsequent changes of area without change of rent.

23. The last class of estates which have come under settlement operations consists of those which belong to private proprietors and in which a record of rights is prepared under section 177 of the Tenancy Act, because of serious disputes between land-owners and the tenants. Mention is made in the report of such estates in four districts. The account of the year's work in the Dubalhati, Mollarpur, and Alakdia-Durgapur estates is meagre. There is nothing to show on what the expenditure of Rs. 17,381, shewn under settlement against the first of these estates, was incurred, nor what was done in Mollarpur besides the survey. In Alakdia-Durgapur no expenditure on settlement is shown up to the close of the year. The submission of the final report of the operations in the Dubalhati estate should be expedited.

24. Maintenance of Records.—The Director has only mentioned this important subject in the case of three settlements—those of the Angul and Banki estates in the Orissa Division, and of the Srinagar-Baneli Ward's estates. In the two former estates it is said that the sarbarakars will maintain and correct the records in accordance with rules which have been recently approved by the Board of Revenue.

In the Srinagar-Baneli Ward's estates the records will be kept up by the patwaris, 104 in number, of whom 48 have already obtained certificates of proficiency in surveying, while the rest are said to have received some training. This is so far satisfactory, but future reports should state what steps, if any, have been taken with a view to the maintenance of the village records in other estates in which settlement proceedings have been completed during the year or have approached completion.

PART II.—AGRICULTURAL ENQUIRIES, EXPERIMENTS, AND IMPROVEMENTS.

25. Analysis of Districts.—The Government Resolution, dated the 23rd September 1890, on the Director's report for the year 1889-90, noticed the completion by Mr. Bhupal Chundra Basu and Mr. Nogendra Nath Banerjee, the Director's Assistants, of the analysis of the two districts of Dacca and Lohardugga. During the year now reported on, Mr. Basu has been engaged on a similar analysis of the Nuddea district, while Mr. Banerjee has been making a tour of the district of Cuttack, on the agriculture of which he is now engaged in writing a report. The experimental farms at Sibpur, Burdwan, and Dumraon and other places have also been under the direct supervision of these officers.

26. Emigration to Burma.—The Director has given his attention to the question of emigration to Burma as a means of relief to the over-populated tracts of Behar and Chota Nagpore, and an agreement has been entered into with the British India Steam Navigation Company, under which that Company has undertaken to reduce the deck fare to Rangoon from Rs. 10 to Rs. 7-8, of which Rs. 2-8 will be paid by the Bengal Government as a subsidy, the balance being paid by the emigrants. It is hoped that local recruiting agencies will soon be opened in various parts of the tracts to be relieved.

27. Arboriculture.—With the exception of the planting of fruit trees along the road-sides, which must be regarded rather as an administrative measure adopted for shade purposes and the preservation of road alignments, than as an agricultural experiment, the arboricultural efforts of the department do not seem to have been extensive or productive of much practical good. The Lieutenant-Governor does not, for instance, see much use in planting date-palms where nature has not planted them, or in pushing artificially the cultivation of such trees as the Eucalyptus, Divi-Divi, or the rain-tree.

28. Silk Experiments.—The experiments at Berhampur, undertaken with a view to the mitigation of pebrine, were continued by Mr. Nitya Gopal Mukherjee under the direction of the Silk Committee. The information given in the report as to the objects and results of the out-stations opened at Pakhuria, Alipur, Nagri, and Kalimpong is, however, exceedingly vague, and gives no idea of what Mr. Mukherjee really did at these places during the year.

Since the close of the year it has been decided that the direct control of Mr. Mukherjee's work should be retransferred from the Silk Committee to the Director with a view to his giving more attention to the rearing of healthy silk at the out-stations. The experiments at Berhampur will nevertheless be continued, as also will those of Mr. Keighly in the Midnapore district, in the direction of detecting pebrine and other diseases without having recourse to microscopical examination.

29. Experimental Farms.—Agricultural experiments were carried on at the three experimental farms at Sibpur, Burdwan, and Dumraon, and also on a smaller scale in various Government, wards', and private estates in the divisions, especially of Burdwan, the Presidency, Rajshahye, Orissa, and Chota Nagpore, the principal products experimented on being paddy, wheat, potatoes, sugarcane, and fodder grasses.

With regard to paddy and wheat, the chief experiments were made at Dumraon, and were designed to test the relative merits of deep and shallow ploughing and of different kinds of manure, and, in the case of wheat, of well-water and canal-water. With transplanted paddy a mixture of crude saltpetre and linseed cake gave the heaviest outturn, and with broadcast paddy cowdung produced the best results, while deep-ploughing to a depth of four or five inches gave an increase in outturn of 24 seers of grain and 3 maunds 20 seers of straw per acre. Wheat appeared to be particularly benefited here by a manure of saltpetre alone or mixed with ashes, while in the Burdwan farm bone-meal yielded a large increase. The extra yield obtained by irrigating the crop with well-water did not repay the extra expense as against that of canal water The largest outturn of potatoes was obtained at the Dumraon farm with green manures, but it is unfortunate that the outturn of the crops on the Burdwan farm is given per bigha, while that of Dumraon is given per acre, thus rendering comparison difficult. In future reports all outturns should be referred to a common standard. The uncertainty of all these experiments is exemplified by the fact that at Dumraon crude saltpetre applied to paddy failed this year to produce any increase in outturn, although in the preceding year it gave the best results of all manures; and also by the fact that, whereas in Sibpur the experiments in sugarcane showed a distinct advantage in favour of the Saharanpur as compared with the Samsara variety, the experiments in Burdwan produced a directly opposite result. Among fodder grasses sorghum and buffalo grass (Reana luxurians) were cultivated with great success at Sibpur. The latter grass gave an outturn of 192 maunds per bigha, and was sold at a net profit of 1 anna per maund.

30 Agricultural Implements.—Thirty-two wrought-iron Sibpur ploughs were issued during the year, and are said to have given satisfaction. A native gentleman in the Jessore district expressed an opinion that one ploughing with these instruments was as effective as four or five ploughings with the ordinary native plough. Some interesting experiments in the use of European butter-making machines were made in the Dharampur pergunnah of the Purneah district, by the late Mr. E. G. Williams, Manager of the Durbhunga Raj. The results of these experiments and of trials in other districts tended to show that the European methods might be adopted with advantage in the hills and in the districts bordering upon the hills, but that good results could not be obtained in districts where a temperature of under 75° Fahrenheit cannot be depended upon.

31. Veterinary Establishment.—The Director writes:—"The scheme for the establishment of a veterinary college is still under the consideration of Government. No progress appears to have been made in the matter during the year." Government was in fact awaiting the final decision of the Committee of the Sodepore Pinjrapole with respect to a suggested contribution from that institution towards the site and building expenses of the veterinary college. Since the close of the year to which the Director's report relates, Babu Shew Bux Bogla, one of the leading members of the Committee of the Pinjrapole, has generously offered a site and has contributed the sum of Rs. 30,000 towards the college and hospital, thus relieving the Pinjrapole Committee of the necessity of contributing. The work will now be proceeded with without further delay.

32. Tour.—Appendix H to the report shows that the Director's tours amounted to 134 days, divided as follows:—

	Days.		Days.
Orissa ...	... 32	Sonthal Pergunnahs ...	... 8
Chittagong ...	... 23	Sujamutha ...	... 7
Dacca Tipperah Dakhin Shabazpur	... 16	Hukumapur ...	... 5
		Silk enquiries in Midnapur district	... 4
		On tour with Dr. Voelcker	... 14
Srinagar-Baneli ...	... 9	Simla Conference ...	... 16

His Honour has no doubt that Mr. Finucane made great efforts to carry out his inspections effectively, but regrets that he was unable to visit the important settlement operations in the Jalpaiguri Duars during the year. He has been asked to propose a tour of inspection of all the important settlements for the coming season, and the programme will be finally settled on Mr. Finucane's return from leave, and after a decision has been arrived at as to the resumption of the Behar survey and settlement.

33. In conclusion, the Lieutenant-Governor wishes to record that, although the report reviewed above is not as complete and accurate in its details as he desires, he is satisfied that Mr. Finucane has shown ability and energy in his supervision of this important department, and in advising and controlling the settlement officers under his supervision, while he has at the same time paid some attention to the considerable agricultural works which it is his duty to superintend.

Ordered that the Resolution be published in the Calcutta Gazette.

Ordered also that a copy of the Resolution be submitted to the Government of India in the Revenue and Agricultural Department for information, and that a copy be forwarded to the Board of Revenue, Lower Provinces, for information, guidance, and explanation on the several points noticed in the Resolution.

By order of the Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal,

C. E. BUCKLAND,

Offg. Secretary to the Govt. of Bengal.

RESOLUTION ON THE BOARD'S LAND REVENUE ADMINISTRATION REPORT FOR THE YEAR 1890-91.

REVENUE DEPARTMENT—LAND REVENUE.

RESOLUTION No. 1119L.R.

READ—

The Report of the Board of Revenue on the Land Revenue Administration of the Lower Provinces for the year 1890-91.

Read also—

The Board's letter No. 603A, dated 14th August 1891, submitting the Director's report of the Department of Land Records and Agriculture, Bengal, for the year 1890-91.

Preliminary.

These reports have been submitted by the Board with commendable punctuality, and follow the lines laid down of recent years with the approval of Government. The district maps furnished illustrate chiefly the surveys and settlements in progress and prospect under the Tenancy Act and the old Regulations; but this year they include also the Government and tuccavi embankments and important drainage works undertaken by Government for the improvement or reclamation of land for agricultural or sanitary purposes, or protection from floods. These maps have improved from year to year, and sufficiently exhibit the subjects indicated. The provincial map, which was previously designed to show the percentage of the land revenue collections in each district, has been omitted, as it only supplied in a pictorial form the information contained in statistical tables. The arrangement of the Board's report into four parts—(1) the Collection of the Land Revenue, (2) the Administration thereof, (3) Rent, (4) Miscellaneous—and 41 subjects (with sub-divisions) is as good as can be devised. The Lieutenant-Governor has referred to the orders of the Government of India, which ruled only that a separate review of the Director's report was not necessary, and has decided, in the absence of prohibition, to issue another Resolution dealing with its contents.

COLLECTION OF THE LAND REVENUE.

Standard of collections of land revenue.

2. The Government of India having commented unfavourably on the large arrears of land revenue which accrued in 1888-89, the whole subject of the collections of land revenue has been fully examined by the Board and Government before and since the close of 1890-91. For some time past District Officers have been expected to attain a standard of collections of 95 per cent. on the total demand (current plus arrear) from class I, i.e., permanently-settled estates, and 90 per cent. from all other classes of estates. The Board have now, with the consent of Government, issued a circular which prescribes a standard percentage of current collections on current demands as follows:—viz., 99 for permanently-settled estates, 95 for temporarily-settled estates held by the proprietors for definite periods, 93 for ryotwari tracts, 90 for temporarily settled estates managed direct or farmed and Government estates. With regard to the balances due from the previous year, it has been enjoined that such arrears ought to be collected wholly or nearly so within the next year. It is admitted that special circumstances may exist from time to time to make the attainment of these ratios impossible; but failure to comply with this standard will necessitate a special explanation from the responsible officers. The Lieutenant-Governor has also recently undertaken a revision of the number, dates, and amounts of the instalments in which land revenue is paid with a view to making them more convenient to the landed interests and the treasury. This measure is not yet matured, but His Honour trusts by these changes to attain a higher rate of collections, both current and arrear, and with greater facility than has ever before been achieved.

Numbers of estates of classes I to IV.

3. The numbers of revenue-yielding estates of the several classes have risen considerably within the five years, 1886-87 to 1890-91, both inclusive. The following statement admits of an easy comparison of the figures:—

	Class I. Permanently-settled estates.	Class II. Temporarily-settled estates.	Class III. Government estates.	Class IV. Ryotwari tracts.	Total.
1886-87 ...	148,732	7,800	3,053	27	159,612
1887-88 ...	150,544	7,855	3,058	28	161,485
1888-89 ...	151,908	7,884	3,307	32	163,191
1889-90 ...	153,609	7,978	3,374	21	164,982
1890-91 ...	154,553	8,049	3,513	21	166,136

These figures show the growth in the number of estates, at the rate of 6,524, in four years, or about 1 per cent. per annum. The increase goes on at a much faster rate in some districts, and the work of officers and their establishment is considerably increased thereby. The subject of partitions has the attention of Government: for the rest, improvement in the methods of administration is the only resource. Some of the sources of growth seem to be avoidable. Thus with regard to such lands as the 34 resumed thanadari lands in Hooghly settled as estates, the Lieutenant-Governor thinks it would be better that such lands should be settled, if possible, with the proprietors of the villages in which they fall, if thanadari lands, or the villages out of which they were originally taken for roads, railways, &c.

Classification of estates.

4. The Lieutenant-Governor is of opinion that the fourfold classification of estates, which was ordered by Sir G. Campbell in paragraph 2 of the Government Resolution of the 2nd April 1873 on the Board's Land Revenue Report for 1871-72, and was carried out in 1875-76, requires a little modification. The class called temporarily-settled estates is divided into those—(a) settled for definite periods, (b) managed direct owing to the recusancy of proprietors, (c) farmed for the same reason. This classification is incorrect, as estates held direct for want of any one to take the settlement are not temporarily-settled, and should be transferred to the third class. Again, Government estates leased to farmers for a term of years should be transferred from the third to the second class, as they are temporarily-settled.

As for the ryotwari tracts, hitherto known as class IV, His Honour believes that there is no real distinction, except that of size, between them and those entered in the present class III as Government estates. The standing order is that lands the property of Government and held under direct management are called "ryotwari tracts" when the area of the tract is not less than 5,000 acres. The size of the tract does not make any real difference in the mode of collecting the revenue, which is done directly through tehsildars. It is true that these are not estates in the ordinary sense of the term. In Jalpaiguri, for instance, the ryotwari tracts are blocks of many hundred jotes, each of which pays revenue separately to a tehsildar, and the jotedars have their ryots under them. In the Tooshkhally estate in Backergunge, on the other hand, the collections are made direct from the ryots; as also in Kalimpong in Darjeeling. It does not, however, appear to His Honour that it serves any useful purpose in this connection to distinguish these large tracts from the scattered estates which are owned by Government as having been bought in at revenue sales, or having never been settled with a proprietor; and he has decided that the present class IV of ryotwari estates should be abolished, and that in future the classification of revenue-paying estates is to be—

I.—Permanently-settled estates.

II.—Temporarily-settled estates, viz.—
- (a) those settled for periods with the proprietors:
- (b) private estates, leased to farmers for periods;
- (c) Government estates, leased to farmers for periods.

III.—Estates held direct by Government, viz.—
- (a) those managed for proprietors;
- (b) those owned by Government as proprietor.

The Board's statements and appendices should be revised accordingly, and the changes introduced in their report for 1891-92.

Demand.

5. The current demand varies little from year to year, as the following table shows:—

Class of Estates.	1886-87.	1887-88.	1888-89.	1889-90.	1890-91.
	Rs.	Rs.	Rs.	Rs.	Rs.
I. Permanently-settled estates ...	3,22,97,484	3,22,91,720	3,22,90,777	3,22,92,924	3,22,91,318
II. Temporarily-settled estates ...	27,26,304	26,48,556	26,54,561	26,15,488	25,82,300
III. Government estates...	22,36,201	22 32,370	23,08,684	23,82,339	24,22,705
IV. Ryotwari tracts ...	8,35,309	8,43,757	8,59,079	8,62,077	8,71,374
Total ...	3,80 95,298	3,80,16,403	3,81,13,105	3,81,03,828	3,81,67,697

These figures show how stationary the land revenue is in Bengal. The tendency is, in class I to diminish slightly, in class II more considerably; whereas Government estates and ryotwari tracts show a rise, almost continuous in each case, though small in amount.

6. The demands, collections, remissions and balances for the same quinquennial period are exhibited below:—

The Lieutenant-Governor is glad to learn that the Board are issuing the necessary instructions with a view to "showing the real demand of the year and the full amount actually recovered within the year." And they have done a great deal by the addition of columns 23 and 24 to the set of Statements II to IID to correct errors of this character, which arose from showing as arrears instalments which could not legally be collected within the financial year, and from not showing as collections sums which had actually been paid in within the financial year, but which through the dilatoriness of the tauzi and account branches had not been credited in the year's accounts. The total amounts under these two heads were Rs. 1,05,462 and Rs. 1,41,563 respectively. He regards the prompt recovery of the current demand as a more important test of administrative ability than the collection of arrears. He would therefore like the three Statements, which will in future be IIA, IIB. and IIC, to have their columns arranged so as to show the ratio of the last column under three heads—ratio of current collection to current demand, of arrear collection to arrear demand, and the total ratio as at present.

Collections and balances.

7. The main facts of the year are that the current demand was Rs. 3,81,67,697, showing an increase of Rs. 64,869 only from 1889-90, but the current collections increased by Rs. 5,27,891, viz., from Rs. 3,62,05,567 or 95·02 of the current demand to Rs. 3,67,33,458 or 96·2. The arrear collections fell off in actual amount from Rs. 24,60,255 in 1889-90 to Rs. 18,52,435 in 1890-91, and in ratio to demand from 84 to 82 per cent. The total collections of the year under report were Rs. 3,85,85,893 instead of Rs. 3,86,65,822 in 1889-90, but the total balance due at the end of the year was Rs. 17,85,164 against Rs. 22,60,785, for the preceding year—a reduction of nearly 5 lakhs of rupees. Indeed, taking into account the errors in the demand and the payments not brought to account, referred to above, the true balance at the close of the year was only Rs. 15,38,139, or 3·8 of the total demand, or in other words the total collections were 96·2 per cent. of the total demand. Having regard to the higher standards attained in other provinces of India, which are not permanently settled, the Lieutenant-Governor cannot be satisfied with these figures, especially as regards the arrear collections, but he trusts that with the standards now prescribed, and the greater attention that should be paid to these matters, better results will be attained in future.

Remissions.

8. Out of a total demand of Rs. 3,85,85,893, the remissions of grace amounted to Rs. 43,066 only. Analysing these figures, it appears from the Appendices to the Board's report that Rs. 16,687 were remitted in temporarily-settled estates managed direct, and Rs. 23,488 in Government estates managed direct; total Rs. 40,175, out of the Rs. 43,066. These figures illustrate the loss incurred by direct management, besides the cost of the establishment. The largest remissions allowed in certain districts are stated by the Board in their paragraph 15, with an explanation of the grounds on which they were granted. Sir C. Elliott desires that it may be clearly shown in future what proportion of the larger remissions was allowed in estates under direct management.

Collections in permanently-settled estates.

9. Turning to the different classes of estates, the Lieutenant-Governor notices that, in respect of permanently-settled estates, only two districts, Patna and Shahabad, fell short of the standard hitherto required, viz., 95 per cent., and that in both these cases excessive leniency is considered to have been shown in the working of the sale law. The Board have no doubt called for a full explanation, through the Commissioners from the Collectors in charge. As the total collections were 97·95 on the total demand, and Rs. 10,13,042 were collected out of an arrear demand of Rs. 10,28,456, His Honour does not think there should be any real difficulty in attaining the new standard of 99 per cent., or in collecting all or nearly all the arrears in the ensuing year.

Collections in Wards' estates.

10. The improvement in the collections from Wards' estates shows that there was bad management in former years, apart from the Burdwan Raj default of 4 lakhs of rupees in 1888-89. As their collections ought to be, as a rule, at least double the Government revenue, there is no excuse for arrears under the Court of Ward's management, especially if the order is given that the land revenue is to be a first charge on the estate, to be paid before anything else. It recently came to His Honour's notice that in a trust-estate an arrear was allowed to occur in the Government revenue, so that a payment might be made to the trust fund. It must be distinctly understood that the Government revenue has the priority over all demands, and that the salaries of the Managers and establishments are not to be paid until the Government demand has been provided for. The Board are requested to issue the necessary rules to this effect.

Collections in temporarily-settled estates.

11. The balances in temporarily-settled estates have been reduced from Rs. 5,56,088 to Rs. 4,47,273; but even this is too high a proportion on the total demand of Rs. 31,07,478. The difficulties in Midnapore are well known to Government, and have caused Rs. 2,58,737 of the arrears. The Board (paragraph 22) have drawn attention to the trouble given by the farmers in Eastern Bengal; this remark, though true of Dacca, is not applicable to Chittagong, as the figures in column 16 of Appendix IIB relating to the latter division are comparatively low. Everywhere else, except at Burdwan, Nuddea, and Khulna, the farmers have paid up their dues better, and in most cases remarkably better, than the estates managed direct. The Lieutenant-Governor would discourage direct management as far as possible, but the Commissioner of Dacca should see that more care is taken in requiring adequate security from farmers and punctual payments. Instances of neglect of proper precaution of this kind came recently to His Honour's notice at Mymensingh, and again at Barisal. His Honour entirely agrees with the Board that there seems to have been mismanagement in leasing certain estates to a farmer at Mymensingh without substantial security, and in not realizing the sums due from him while he was making collections from the tenants.

Collections in Government estates.

12. In Government estates the collections were only Rs. 24,73,283 or 83·91 per cent. out of the annual total demand of Rs. 29,47,239, but the balances were reduced from Rs. 6,12,716 to Rs. 4,49,789. The current collections were only 82·2 of the current demand, and the arrear collections 75·5 of the arrear demand. Only in 11 districts the current collections exceeded 90 per cent. of the current demand. These figures speak for themselves of the laxity of administration, and in particular instances the results were very bad, even after all allowances are made. The Boar. are desired to obtain detailed explanations from the districts named in the margin, against which the percentages of collections in accordance with column 25 of Appendix IIC are recorded and to convey to the Collectors concerned their opinion on the sufficiency of those explanations. In comparing the two systems of direct management and farming of Government estates, the financial results in the form of percentages of collections, which are 84·6 and 81·6 respectively appear to recommend the former, but a closer inspection shows that the remissions were Rs. 23,488 under the former and Rs. 679 under the latter system, and of the still outstanding arrears it is anticipated that about Rs. 45,000 will have to be remitted in the directly managed, and less than Rs. 3,000 in the farmed estates. The Lieutenant-Governor understands that in Eastern and Central Bengal at least the reason why these estates belong to Government is to be found in the movements of the great rivers; as they have been either so diluviated that the rents no longer covered the revenue, and they were sold for arrears and bought in by Government, or else they were found in the beds of great rivers and accrued to Government, not having been included in the permanent settlement. The management of such estates is very difficult and laborious in many cases. His Honour in some cases found the receipts to be less, or little more, than the salary of the collecting establishments: there are also great delays over the settlement of these estates, and no doubt much peculation occurs. He would therefore discourage the direct management of these estates, and sell them, where possible, or else farm them out for short terms of five or seven years.

Monghyr	49 3	Dacca	63·51
Patna	58·6	Burdwan	65·16
Midnapore	60 81	Mozufferpore	68·6
Mymensingh	61 23	Pubna	78·14
Moorshedabad	63·	24-Pergunnahs	78·3

Collections in ryotwari tracts.

13. The total collections of the year from the so-called ryotwari tracts were Rs. 8,62,949 against a total demand of Rs. 9,51,450, or 90 78 per cent., and they were even less than the current demand, Rs. 8,70,430, so that the balances due have increased from Rs. 80,076 in 1889-90 to Rs. 87,239 in 1890-91. The excuses offered for these balances are not satisfactory. While in Darjeeling there were absolutely no arrears at all, they amounted to about Rs. 52,000 in the adjoining and similar tract in Jalpaiguri, and there the Lieutenant-Governor ascertained that there had been great remissness on the part of the tehsildars, who, though the kist fell due on the 15th February, had made no collections of the amount in default by the 1st April. A lax system has been allowed by the local authorities to obtain in this district, and the Lieutenant-Governor has recently issued orders for a reform, which the Board should carefully watch. The balances in Monghyr and Bhagulpore also (over Rs. 12,000 and Rs. 10,000, respectively), are not creditable to the administration.

Estates under direct management.

14. The Lieutenant-Governor has carefully examined the figures in paragraph 42 of the Board's report under Appendix VI, which professes to give full details, district by district, of the state of collections in the khas mehals, and fails to understand how they have been obtained. The totals show 2,029 khas mehals with a current demand of Rs. 29,18,497. Now, by picking out the figures of direct management, there would appear to be—

	Estates.	Current demand.
		Rs.
In Appendix IIB	295	5,02,424
Ditto IIC	1,840	18,10,980
Ditto IID	21	8,71,374
Total ...	2,156	31,84,778

It is not understood why these figures do not harmonize with those in Appendix VI, and the Lieutenant-Governor would be glad of an explanation. He notices that in respect of the districts of Burdwan, Midnapore, Hooghly with Howrah, Rajshahye, Chittagong, Tipperah, Darbhanga, and Cuttack, the figures in column 3 of Appendix VI do not correspond with the totals of the number of estates under direct management, as ascertained from column 4 of Appendix IIB, column 4 of Appendix IIC, and column 3 of Appendix IID, though they do correspond for the other districts. Also, it is not clear why the Sonthal Pergunnahs are omitted from Appendix VI. These points should also be explained. The statements for each district in Appendix VI, and for each division in paragraph 4·3 of the Board's report, both omit the really important ratio of the collections of current demand. In any district which collects less than the current demand, so that the old arrear not only does not diminish but increases in amount, the officer responsible is primâ facie censurable. Sir Charles Elliott notices that the Board are not satisfied with the work of the year, and in future the census cannot be advanced as an excuse for indifferent work. In the following districts the collections fell below the current demands:—Burdwan, Bankoora, Rajshahye, Pubna, Jalpaiguri, Dacca, Furreedpore, Mymensingh, Tipperah, Monghyr, Bhagulpore, Maldah, and every district in the Presidency and Patna Divisions. The Lieutenant-Governor agrees that in such cases as the Majnamoota and Jellamoota estates there should be a thorough investigation of the outstanding balances, and the accounts cleared of irrecoverable arrears. As to the explanations generally offered, Sir Charles Elliott thinks that the Board do not sufficiently bring out the fact that in Eastern Bengal many of these estates are churs, very subject to diluvion, and much injured by the floods of 1890. He has also observed that the kists are unsuited in date and amount to the periods and the volume of the crops. But still, making all allowance for these considerations, the remissness about collections in some place is great and cannot be allowed to continue.

Road and Public Works Cesses.

15. The subject of the Road and Public Works Cesses has been more fully treated in the review of the separate report thereon. The demands, collections, and balances of 1887-88 to 1890-91 are shown as follows (1886-87 having been a half-year only, owing to a change duly recorded at the time):—

Year.	Demands			Collections.	Remissions.	Balances.	Percentage of balances on gross demand.
	Current.	Arrear	Total.
1	2	3	4	5	6	7	8
	Rs	Rs.	Rs	Rs.	Rs	Rs
1887-88	76,13,146	16,61,553	92,74,699	75,35,113	16,498	16,98,409	18·3
1888-89	76,19,896	17,20,662	93,40,558	74,85,777	20,925	17,98,942	19·2
1889-90	76,60,539	18,04,134	94,64,673	77,64,684	76,885	16,58,728	17·5
1890-91	78,38,927	18,35,056	96,73,983	76,84,012	12,661	19,33,855	19·9

The balances are hereby shown at a higher amount than ever before, and the percentage of the balances on the gross demand is nearly 20. Again, as above, His Honour has to remark with disapproval that the collections of the year do not reach the current demand. The occurrence of two holidays on the 28th and 29th March may have affected the payments at the March kist to some extent, as in the case of the land revenue. But this does not really explain the arrears, and the Board rightly continue to urge the District Officers to display greater energy in the realization of the cesses. It is expected that with the simplification of the tauzi and the diminution of the number of kists, which His Honour has in contemplation, better results will be attained.

Redemption of land revenue.

16. The redemption of land revenue is allowed at 25 and 30 years' purchase, under long-standing orders of Government. The only advantage of it to Government is that petty estates which give more trouble than they are worth are thereby removed from the revenue roll. The scheme tried temporarily in Chittagong to induce the holders of estates paying less than one rupee per annum to redeem at only ten years' purchase was taken advantage of by a comparatively small number. It is certainly good policy to have got rid, even for so comparatively small a sum as Rs. 2,28,899, of 19,281 estates, which paid only Rs. 13,470 Government revenue. The Board appear to have adopted an unauthorised nomenclature in classifying Chinsurah, Baranagore, Punchannogram, and Sahiban Bagicha as Districts.

Remittance of land revenue by means of postal money-orders.

17. The expansion of the system of paying land revenue and other public demands by postal money-orders, since it was extended to all districts from the 1st April 1887, can be seen from the figures subjoined:—

Year.	Number.	Amount of revenue paid.	Average value of each order.
		Rs.	Rs. A.
1887-88 ...	47,248	2,07,156	4 6
1888-89	92,402	6,60,800	7 2
1889-90	139,535	11,11,353	7 15
1890-91	160,892	15,64,268	9 11

This is a remarkable development. The number of estates has not increased this year in the same ratio as before, but the average value of each order is more than double what it was three years ago. It has been provided during the year that no revenue money-order is to be refused, but that all are to be accepted on account. There is no objection to this arrangement, but, as the Board reported in 1889-90, "the mere fact of a zemindar paying money into a post office by the kist day for a land revenue money-order is insufficient to protect an estate from sale: the land revenue must be paid into the treasury by sunset of the kist day." The Lieutenant-Governor cannot understand why (as the Collectors of Patna and Gya seem to maintain) a money-order should give more trouble than an ordinary revenue chalan, and he will sanction no additional establishments on account of the introduction of this system. It is likely to develop still further; but, considering the number of estates for which the revenue is paid through revenue agents and mukhtars, a limit exists to its operations.

The payment of rents by postal money-orders has only been in force in four divisions since 1st July 1890, so that sufficient time has not elapsed to gauge its working. A large percentage of the money-orders is refused by the zemindars, and one explanation given is that they are under the impression that by receiving them they will admit that the sum remitted is all that is due. It has also been said that the rent-payers frequently give incorrect description of their tenures, or of the instalments due, and omit charges for interest on arrears, thus causing inconvenience in the adjustment of accounts. These points will come under enquiry in due course.

The Sale law.

18. Only 762 entire estates and 309 shares of estates or interests—total 1,071—were sold during the year out of 14,483 which became liable to sale for non-payment of the dues of Government. The figures of several years past, reproduced here, as follow,

	Defaults.	Sales.
1884-85	10,575	1,836
1885-86	12,445	1,770
1886-87	14,456	1,859
1887-88	14,745	1,863
1888-89	13,153	1,142
1889-90	13,656	1,273
1890-91	14,483	1,071

show the tendency of defaults to increase and of actual sales to diminish. In Orissa there appears to have been some delay in the post office in transmitting the money-orders to the collectorates, but, in accordance with what has already been said, it is undesirable that exemption from sale should be granted as a matter of course, even on this ground. The people should understand that payment into the treasury by sunset of the last day is the essential act, and, if the revenue is paid by money-order, the payment should not be put off till the very latest day. It is presumed that the statement in paragraph 64 of the Board's report has not been prepared strictly according to the financial year, and that the defaults shown include those of 28th March 1890, and not those of March 1891, while the sales are those which took place between 1st April 1890 and 31st March 1891. The Lieutenant-Governor is inclined to think that the policy of leniency to the zemindars in exempting their estates from sales for default has been carried too far, and has already expressed his willingness to support the Board and Revenue Officers in insisting upon a punctual payment of the dues of Government. His Honour lately pointed out to the Board the great delay there is at present in preparing the list of defaulting estates and their arrears, and in taking action under it, and has suggested the adoption of a Register to show each stage in the procedure subsequent to the last day of payment; he hopes also to be able to reduce the number of instalments in the majority of instances from four to two. When these changes have been effected, Appendix VIII should be remodelled, so as to show for each instalment the dates on which the lists of arrears were prepared and the consequent auctions held.

Certificates.

19. The number of certificates filed has varied in the last five years as follows:—

18-6-87	...	...	...	177,618
1887-88	...		...	176,608
1888-89	...	...	...	169,072
1889-90	...	..	...	166,951
1890-91		...	...	142,878

This reduction of cases instituted is in itself a matter for congratulation, but it is also satisfactory that the year closed with fewer pending cases (viz., 78,524) than it began with (viz., 92,866). The Board write:—"It may be observed generally that the certificate procedure, though giving the Government the advantage of securing a decree without the proverbial delay of a civil suit, is attended with delay in numerous cases in the disposal of objections to the decree, which must be fully investigated on evidence, oral and documentary, and in the executive proceedings which follow the provisions of the Code of Civil Procedure." Such cases usually occupy several months, and a considerable percentage of the certificates filed in the last month cannot ordinarily be disposed of within the year." The Lieutenant-Governor recognizes the correctness of this view, and requires nothing unreasonable. But he has formed a strong opinion from personal observation of the dilatoriness with which certificate cases are allowed to proceed, and a revised form of the register No. 10 maintained under the Public Demands Recovery Act is under consideration, to admit of a better check being kept on the progress of such cases. The enormous increase of cases in the Orissa Division for the collection of water rate dues is to be regretted, and it is possible that the procedure has been too rigidly pressed in claims for illicit irrigation. The whole subject is under special enquiry. In Midnapore, the large number of defaults was said to be due partly to the low rate of process fees. This has been raised, so as to make the process more punitive. The certificate procedure is, however, more largely used in the collection of the road and dâk cesses than in any other department. It is under consideration whether pressure can be put on the payers of Government revenue (who are in nine cases out of ten revenue agents and mukhtars, employed by the landed proprietors, not the proprietors themselves) to induce them to credit the payments they make first to cesses and afterwards to land revenue. When the proprietors are well off and have no difficulty about paying the State demand, but merely default through dilatoriness and want of business habits, there should be no difficulty in explaining to their agents the advantages of the system and obtaining their co operation. As to the certificate procedure generally, His Honour has to complain of the great want of system in pushing on the cases. A Court of Wards' Manager, for instance, will often pour in hundreds of requisitions, get the first process issued, and then do no more. There is room for apprehension that equal laxity is displayed in the collections of the cesses and water-rates.

Realization of Government demands by imprisonment.

20. Sir Charles Elliott will take this opportunity of stating his opinion that imprisonment as a compulsory measure of payment should be discouraged, and no officer should order it unless quite satisfied that the defaulter has concealed property. This conclusion, and the grounds for it, should be entered in the order of imprisonment, and a copy sent to the Commissioner for information in each case. The fact that so many as 63 defaulters served their time, and after all did not pay, shows the futility of the procedure in these cases.

Estates under direct management

21. The total cost of managing the Government Khas Mehals amounted to Rs 1,97,538, which is a moderate charge for the collection of nearly 30 lakhs of rupees. The Lieutenant-Governor would be glad if the Board would next year furnish a subsidiary statement showing the details of the expenditure and especially of the establishments in each district which are charged against these collections. The total sum spent on miscellaneous improvements in these estates was Rs. 80,625, but a large portion of this (Rs. 34,052) was expended on the Orphangunge Market at Kidderpore. The total sum compares unfavourably with previous years, and the amount really spent in the mofussil (Rs. 46,573) is only a little above 1½ per cent. on the collections. Experiments were made with the cultivation of certain staples, but with limited success. Potatoes did fairly well in Cuttack and Jalpaiguri, and Buxar wheat in Hooghly. The record of failures is much longer, and it seems to His Honour that much greater care should be taken in embarking upon such projects. Certain agricultural implements, such as the sugarcane mill and the Sibpur plough, were appreciated; but the latter is too dear for general use. The Lieutenant-Governor notices the doubt expressed by the Board whether the 1½ per cent. contribution for collections on Government estates is not merged in the general income of District Boards, and is glad that enquiries are to be made on the subject. The largest expenditure on roads was incurred in Jalpaiguri—to the amount of Rs. 56,807. With regard to the number of embezzlements committed by the officials concerned with khas mehals, the Lieutenant-Governor presumes that the Board have called for a report showing the amount and character of the security taken from each officer entrusted with collections or the charge of money. It is essential that the security taken should be in cash or Government promissory notes, and not in landed property.

Surveys and Settlements.

22. The survey work of the year has been discussed in reviewing the report of the Director of Land Records. So also have more important settlements, such as those of the Western Dooars, Chittagong, and Orissa. But a great deal of petty settlement work is carried on by the ordinary district staff, who were engaged during the year in concluding 126 original settlements, 324 resettlements, and 141 summary settlements (total 591), and 1,523 cases were left pending at the end of the year. It appears that out of Rs. 71,018 assigned by Government for this ordinary settlement work, the expenditure of only Rs. 41,992 had been brought into account. The Lieutenant Governor made many enquiries on tour regarding these settlements, and is not at all satisfied with the dilatory and unsystematic manner in which the work is conducted. In very few cases is any check kept on the proceedings of the officers, and seldom, so far as could be discovered, does the Collector take any steps to keep himself informed, week by week, or month by month, that real progress is being effected In some districts, where alluvial lands, churs, and dearas have to be settled, the Settlement Officers delay in taking the field when the waters have dried up; but there is no delay on their part in leaving the work on the pretext that the waters are rising again, or for any excuse, such as the heat of the weather, or the compilation of the annual reports at headquarters. There should be greater despatch with every stage of the case—with the measurement, the testing thereof, &c.—as laid down in the Settlement Manual. His Honour has observed that in many cases no sufficient supervision is applied to settlement work. The fact that the work is mainly left to the Kanungos and Sub-Deputy Collectors, the lowest of the official hierarchy, is enough to show that it would be unreasonable to expect very efficient work. Unless proper guidance is afforded by the superior officers, the cases linger on, and the presumption is that all sorts of irregularities are rife. The register of pending settlements is often kept up in such a way that it is impossible to extract the information required without turning to the registers of previous years or the records themselves. The register should show the history and progress of all settlements, and enable the inspecting officer to keep his eye on them. The Board have been separately asked to improve the existing form of register for this purpose. If progress is arrested by suits in the civil courts, the fact should appear in the register, and the case should be watched with a view to renewal of proceedings wherever possible.

Irrigation and Drainage.

23. The insufficient collection of water-rates has already been noticed. In the statement of the demand, collection, and balances in the districts irrigated by the Sone Canals there is no column to show the current demand, or the percentage of it collected. But the figures given are sufficient to show that the ratio of collections to demand is low, especially in the Patna district, where it has fallen from 38·7 to 34·5. On the Orissa Canal the collections were only 46·1 per cent. of the demand, against 48·7 in the preceding year, and they fell much below the current demand of the year. The capitalization of the maintenance charges of the Dankooni drainage scheme has been sanctioned, and the several projects known as the Howrah, Rajapore and Ampta schemes, undertaken for the reclamation of large tracts of country, are in different stages of progress.

Embankments.

24. In the Government Resolution on last year's report the Board were desired to give special attention to the subject of embankments in their report for 1890-91. A succinct account has therefore been furnished of each of the principal embankments. In accordance with the policy which has been decided on by Government, after mature deliberation, with a view to prevent the rivers from becoming as it were high level canals, always liable to be breached and carry havoc far and wide, a portion of the embankment on the right bank of the Damoodar is being removed, portions of it being left, in lengths of 150 feet each, to form platforms of refuge. Proposals have also been made to allow the Damoodar floods to find more rapid exit down the Rupnarain. The removal of the embankments of the Argowal circuit in Midnapore with a view to raising the level of the tract within the embankment is also under consideration. The plan suggested by the engineers of allowing a river to spill gently over a wide area, rather than to attempt the impossibility of continuing to confine it for ever within banks which must be constantly raised as the bed is raised by the silt, commends itself to common sense, but it is not so readily accepted by the people, whose crops are thus exposed for the time to injury. The question of providing more sluices for the outlet of flood-waters in the embankments constructed in the 24-Pergunnahs to protect the country from tidal inundation is one that will have the immediate attention of Government, when the people interested are prepared to deposit the cost of the works. Action will be taken in the ensuing cold weather to remove under the Embankment Act a considerable length of the northern embankment of the Goomti in Tipperah.

Land registration.

25. The work of initial registration remains to be completed in the Cuttack and Balasore districts only. Orders have been issued for the completion of the remaining work regarding revenue-free properties in both these districts and the submission of the final reports. There has been much too great delay in the execution of this measure. The re-writing of the first registers prepared under the Act has been finished in 31 districts, and some advance has been made in others. The work is of a kind which requires care and accuracy, and it is to be feared that it has in some cases been treated as if it were purely of a formal character. At Mymensingh lately Sir Charles Elliott found register C being re-written without adequate supervision. The work had not been carried out with sufficient intelligence, and no check was kept either over its quality or quantity. He has called for a special report. During the year 55,461 applications were made for registration of mutations under section 42 of the Land Registration Act. These figures give a percentage of 5·7 on the total number of interests registered under initial registration: the percentage has been improving every year since 1887-88, when it was 3·8. It would seem as if the rules issued with the approval of Government for the purpose of furthering registration by means of executive action were producing some effect. More advantage was taken of the Act in the Dacca and Chittagong Divisions than elsewhere.

Partitions.

26. The greater part of the partition or batwara work lies in the Patna, Bhagulpore and Dacca Divisions. The numbers of the cases disposed of during the last five years are given as follows:—

Year.	Patna.			Bhagulpore.			Dacca.
	Institutions.	Disposals.	Pending at end of year.	Institutions.	Disposals	Pending at end of year.	Institutions.	Disposals.	Pending at end of year.
1886-87	433	303	1,501	61	86	209	93	66	136
1887-88	438	380	1,567	38	99	148	92	67	253
1888-89 ...	486	403	1,618	45	73	120	127	73	307
1889-90 ...	486	434	1,637	34	50	104	153	93	397
1890-91 ...	442	399	1,680	48	25	127	176	121	452

These figures show that in two divisions—Patna and Dacca—the number of cases pending is steadily increasing, for the simple reason that the disposals never equal the institutions. In Monghyr the progress was unsatisfactory this year, and is accounted for by the ill-health of the late Collector. Government are in correspondence with the Board on the question of amending the Partition Act, and a report is awaited on the proposal to diminish the number and character of appeals by disallowing appeals on interlocutory subjects, and by giving to Deputy Collectors the powers of Collectors. The Lieutenant-Governor has had reason, from some cases which have come under his notice, to express a fear that proper control is not exercised over the special officers in charge of this work, and that they are not always required to show a prescribed standard of progress or outturn of cases.

Land Acquisition.

27. The Board were asked last year to pay special attention to such questions as the supervision necessary to check the irritating and expensive delay which often occurs in land acquisition proceedings, the difficulties which have arisen in assessing the value of the land taken up, and how these difficulties have been dealt with. They have during the year submitted special reports in connection with complaints made by the authorities of the Bengal-Nagpur and Tirhoot State Railways regarding the excessive cost of the land acquisition establishment and the rate of progress. It appears also that delays are often caused by the parties interested not answering the notices served on them, and by the time taken in disposing of cases pending in the Civil Court. Also, complicated enquiries have to be made to determine the market value of land with due regard to the interests of all parties. All these difficulties are enhanced by the systematic neglect of the parties interested to attend the Collector's office and assist him in arriving at a proper valuation. The Board allude to the special instructions which they have issued to ensure regularity and promptitude, and state that the periodical returns are carefully scrutinized. The Lieutenant-Governor has recently called for the submission of a number of these returns. As he has found reason to be dissatisfied with the manner in which lands are acquired for railways and other minor projects, he has caused the Board to be separately addressed with a view to effecting some improvement.

Advances.

28. The sum of Rs. 85,122 is said to have been granted for advances under the Land Improvement Loans Act, 1883, on the requisition of local officers, though the actual advances only amounted to Rs. 21,600. It should be explained why there is so great a difference between these two sums. The Lieutenant-Governor fully concurs that the applications for these loans should be carefully checked and the proper application of the funds watched. Under the Agriculturists' Loans Act of 1884 the sum of Rs. 1,55,835 was advanced, of which Rs. 64,318 were issued in the Presidency Division for the relief of the distress caused by floods in Nuddea, Jessore, and Moorshedabad, and Rs. 83,582 distributed in the Patna Division, viz., Rs. 11,050 in Mozufferpore to those who suffered from the cutting of the Turki embankment, and Rs. 68,481 in Sarun to those who lost their bhadoi crops by the Gogra floods. Nothing is said as to the outstanding advances of previous years. His Honour presumes that some of these amounts have been recovered in accordance with the rules under which the advances were made. Next year full information should be given, district by district, to show the outstanding debts, the loans of the year, the recoveries during the year and the balance due at its end. The recipients must be made to understand that loans are meant to be repaid, and are not gifts.

Working of the Bengal Tenancy Act and relations between landlords and tenants.

29. In the Resolution of 3rd October 1889 on the Board's Report for 1888-89, a special report on the working of the Bengal Tenancy Act, after it had been in force for five years, was asked for. The Board are collecting the materials for this report, but the census has retarded its submission. They therefore have little to add but confirmation to their view, previously expressed, "that the landlords and tenants have not yet acquired a full knowledge of the provisions of the Act; that they have abstained to a great extent from appealing to it; and that it has not tended to increase disputes and litigation. The working of the Act so far has been, on the whole, beneficial, although defects have been found in some of its provisions." His Honour has no desire to anticipate the special information which he may expect to receive before long. So far as it has come before him, the Act is taking its place as the general rent law of the province, and its main provisions appear to be well understood. It is stated that there were not very many cases of serious manifestations of ill-feeling between landlords and tenants. Disputes occurred in several districts, but at the same time previous disputes had either been amicably settled or matters had quieted down, as in the case of the indigo disputes in Jessore and the strained relations which prevailed in Killah Aul in Cuttack. The Soojamoota ryots continue to give trouble. In Pubna there are said to be three parties at variance—the old impoverished landlords, the wealthy men who seek to obtain property or to add to their lands, and the ryots: they deeply distrust one another, and frequent acts of violence occur. The evils of absentee landlordism and of the misconduct of local agents are common. The old difficulties between the Maharajah of Hill Tipperah and his tenants in the estates he owns in the Tipperah and Noakhali districts also continue. In Gya a point, important in its bearing on the rent question, has arisen with reference to a ruling of the High Court regarding abwabs. The Kharwars in the hilly tract to the south of Shahabad are trenching on the prerogatives of the zemindars. On the other hand, the management of the Darbhanga and Bettiah estates is favourably mentioned. There has been a feeling of agitation and discontent for some time past in a portion of Chutia Nagpur, which has induced Government to apply to the Government of India for the extension of the Tenancy Act to that Division. The Kol cultivators are on bad terms with their landlords, and are said to harass them by refusing to pay rent to them direct, but depositing it in court, and by declining to render them any of the customary services. This portion of the Board's report will be considered in the Judicial Department, and the Lieutenant-Governor will let it be known that any resort to violence will entail very serious consequences on the offenders.

Notices of transfer and landlords' fees.

30. The number of notices of the voluntary transfer of tenures, which in previous years ranged as high as 89,564, has fallen to 27,636. This decrease is again attributed to the restriction of the issue of notices in cases of transfer to entire permanent tenures, to the exclusion of fractional shares and ryoti holdings at fixed rates: applications for their registration were formerly wrongly admitted. The Lieutenant-Governor understands that there is a body of opinion in favour of repealing sections 12-15 of the Act. He will not attempt to prejudge the point at present. But, so far as their retention depends on the present system of payment of landlords' fees, he cannot think that they are entitled to much support on that ground. It has come to his notice that these numerous petty payments present many openings to fraud and cause much trouble. In consequence of the reluctance of the landlords to accept the fees, a large proportion is deposited in the treasury, and probably will eventually lapse to Government. This was not, it is presumed, the original intention of the Legislature.

Preparation of price lists

31. No objection has been taken in any case to the price lists of staple food-crops, which continue to be duly prepared and published every month. As the Board say, the object and the importance of these lists appear not to be understood or appreciated by the general body of the cultivating class.

Settlements.

32. Besides the several important settlements in progress in the Chittagong district and in Orissa, there were a number of settlements of some size in Backergunge, Midnapore, Tipperah, Beerbhoom, which have been duly noticed in the separate Resolution which the Lieutenant-Governor has directed to be issued on the Director of Land Records' report. He has ordered the preparation of two settlement reports annually by the Director—one, mainly financial and statistical, to cover the financial year; the other, the Administration Report, to show the results of the survey year, which runs from the 1st October to the 30th September. All officers in charge of settlement operations are in future to furnish half-yearly progress reports of their work.

Rent suits.

33. Rent suits are tried by Revenue Courts under Act X of 1859 only in Orissa, Darjeeling, Julpaiguri, and Manbhoom, and in the rest of the Chutia Nagpur Division under Act

I (B.C.) of 1879. The diminution of suits from 29,058 to 28,623 is satisfactory, so far as it goes. His Honour would wish the Board to enquire into the practice said to have been introduced in Manbhoom of bringing suits for monthly kists against recalcitrant tenants. The Commissioner has reported that this abuse was checked by the Munsiff refusing to award costs. It is not a practice to which the Lieutenant-Governor can lend the countenance of Government, calculated as it is to harass the ryots excessively. This appears to afford another reason for the introduction of the Tenancy Act into the division, so that protection may be afforded to the ryots by section 147 thereof. It is satisfactory that no more than 126 notices of enhancement issued in 1890-91 in the eight districts in which they are still legal. Where the Tenancy Act is in force, they have been abolished, and the institution of the enhancement suit is all the notice that is afforded to the tenant.

MISCELLANEOUS.

Inspections by Collectors of their own offices.

34. The half-yearly inspections of their own offices by Collectors are said to have been regularly made, with few exceptions, and it is added that the inspections appear to have been full and no irregularities of importance were disclosed. It is presumed that the Board have satisfied themselves of the completeness of these inspections from the reports submitted to the Commissioner. In one district (Moorshedabad) the Lieutenant-Governor lately found that the Collector had on his half-yearly inspection discovered very serious irregularities, for which some of the principal ministerial officers were responsible. The Board's own rules are perfectly clear on the subject of these office inspections, and, with the Inspection Manual provided to their hands as a guide, officers have no excuse for failure to carry out this important duty. Two years ago Sir Steuart Bayley had it recorded that "he must insist again on the standing orders, which have long been in force, being observed, and he looks to the Commissioner and the Board to ensure that these inspections are made in an efficient and useful manner." The Lieutenant-Governor requests that the Board will in future in their annual reports give the names of those officers who have failed to make both the half-yearly inspections of their offices fully, and will exclude those officers from the list of those specially commended. Apart from the above, the Lieutenant-Governor considers that the gazetted officers of the Subordinate Executive Service should more frequently inspect the departments in their charge. At present it seems to him that they do not sufficiently impress their personality on their subordinates, and, that the heads of such offices as the Record-room, the Nizarat, the Tauzi, the Road Cess Certificate office, &c., receive but little direct guidance and supervision from the Deputy Collectors who are in charge. They should exercise a constant supervision, take the initiative in keeping their establishments fully employed, and not wait for the subordinates to submit matters at their own pleasure. It is for the Deputy Collectors to guide their clerks and mohurrirs, and thus facilitate the work of the District Officers.

Training of officers in survey and settlement work.

35. A small number of young officers were, in accordance with the policy of Government, employed on survey and settlement duties as opportunities presented themselves. But, with few exceptions, these opportunities can hardly have been sufficient to give them much insight into the questions they would have to deal with in settlement operations of any magnitude. Sir Charles Elliott has lately received with pleasure a very favourable report of the proficiency in survey work attained by Mr. C. G. H. Allen, Assistant Settlement Officer, now temporarily in charge of the Chittagong settlement. He is aware that the conditions of revenue work in Bengal, dominated as everything is by the Permanent Settlement, do not readily lend themselves to the acquisition of such knowledge of questions connected with the land as is ordinarily gained by civil officers in other parts of India; but he hopes, so far as the exigencies of the other branches of the public service admit, that a real training in Settlement work will be obtained by a certain number of junior officers in the Orissa and Chittagong operations already commenced, and in those which have for some time past been in contemplation in Behar.

Tours of Members of the Board.

36. Before concluding, the Lieutenant-Governor will take this opportunity to notice the absence from the Board's report of any mention of any tours of inspection undertaken by the Members of the Board. He has reason to believe that one or other of them has from time to time been absent from Calcutta, for such purposes as visits to the opium factories, or on duty connected with the Sanitary Board; but in his opinion much more than this is required. He thinks that some system should be organized by which the Members should either spend a definite portion of the year on tour, or should visit a specified number of districts in the year. It would be advantageous both to themselves and to their subordinates if they were to inspect Commissioners' offices on the revenue side, collectorates in all branches of revenue work, distilleries and survey and settlement operations, as far as they are able. Sir Charles Elliott is aware that the Members of the Board have to hear important revenue appeals, and that they are responsible for correspondence in affairs of considerable moment. But he believes that the appeals can be fixed and heard according to arrangement, and he presumes that correspondence can be carried on and disposed of by the Members when on tour. One Member only would ordinarily be absent from Calcutta at a time, so that urgent matters could be disposed of by the Member at the Presidency. At any rate, the Lieutenant-Governor may safely say that he would welcome the co-operation of the Members of the Board in improving the mofussil revenue administration of the Province and assisting in the execution of the orders of Government.

37. It now only remains for the Lieutenant-Governor to thank Mr. Halliday and Sir H. Harrison for their valuable services in the Board of Revenue during the year 1890-91. The greater portion of the work in the Land Revenue Department fell upon the former as the Senior Member of the Board. Mr. Halliday is about to retire from the service, but his name will long be remembered in Bengal and Behar, by his fellow-workers and the people, for the many excellent qualities which have marked his career as an administrator. His Honour desires to add his acknowledgments to those offered by the Board to Mr. Smith, Mr. Worsley, Mr. Lyall, and Mr. Toynbee for their work in the Revenue Department during the year. He has been glad to peruse the list of the District Officers specially commended by the Board, and their names will be noted in the Appointment Department.

By order of the Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal,

C. E. BUCKLAND,

Offg. Secretary to the Govt. of Bengal.

Rules, bye-laws, &c.

2. During the year under review, rules have been made under sections 17, 45, and 64 of the Chittagong Port Commissioners Act, 1887, and a revised scale of tolls, prepared under section 33, has been sanctioned. The Government has also made revised rules for this port under section 6 of the Indian Ports Act, 1889. A book containing the rules, bye-laws, and orders applicable to the port has been printed under the orders of the Government, and copies have been furnished to the Port Commissioners for distribution to those concerned in the trade of the port.

Shipping.

3. The subjoined table shows the number and tonnage of the vessels which visited the port during the year, as compared with the figures of the two previous years:—

4. Of the 38 vessels which cleared for foreign ports during the year under review, 19 were bound for the United Kingdom, 3 for Ceylon, 6 for the Mauritius, 7 for New York, 1 for Hamburg, 1 for Aden, and 1 for Trinidad. Those for the United Kingdom, New York, and Hamburg, numbering in all 27, carried jute, while the remaining 11 carried rice. The number of vessels that cleared during the previous year with jute was 33, and with rice 8.

Foreign trade.

5. The total value of the foreign trade during the year was Rs. 1,32,41,393, of which only Rs. 8,75,536 were under imports. The nature of the trade will appear from the following statement, which shows a net decrease compared with the previous year of Rs. 18,84,265:—

6. In the coasting trade the exports increased, but the increase was more than counterbalanced by a decline under imports, the net result having been a decrease in the toal coasting trade of Rs. 10,50,182.

Jute trade.

7. The most prominent fact brought out by the above tables is the important position which the jute trade occupies at the port of Chittagong. The exports of jute from Bengal last year were the highest yet recorded, but Chittagong did not get so large a share of the trade as usual, the exports of that port showing a decline of 126,010cwt., which is the cause of the decrease both in the foreign and the coasting trade. The report under review does not explain the cause of this decline. It is remarkable that the figures given above show the price of jute as only fallen from Rs. 9 to Rs. 8 per cwt., while the reports received from District Officers speak of the price which reached the cultivator as being as low as Re. 1-8 sometimes instead of Rs. 5 per maund.

A large proportion of the jute exported from Chittagong is brought from Naraingunge in native brigs, and in the Report on the Administration of the Customs Department it is explained that exporters from the latter place preferred to send the bulk of their jute by inland routes to Calcutta instead of sending it by sea to Chittagong. Some explanation of this preference is perhaps to be found in the fact that in the past two years nine of the vessels trading between Chittagong and Naraingunge have been wrecked. The river Megna leading to Naraingunge has not been buoyed or thoroughly surveyed; the winds are violent at times, and it is not to be expected that the river can be navigated by sailing vessels without occasional casualties. During the last nine years the quantity of jute exported from Chittagong has varied between fifty and seventy-five thousand tons, and it does not appear to be probable that the higher of these limits will be largely exceeded until a railway has been built which will enable exporters to bring jute to Chittagong without incurring the dangers which are inseparable from the navigation of a river like the Megna.

Rice trade.

8. The rice trade of Chittagong is liable to considerable fluctuations. During the last nine years the quantity exported has varied from nineteen to sixty-five thousand tons. Last year's export amounted to 30,499 tons, showing an improvement of 6,000 tons on that of the previous year. Upwards of one-third of the quantity exported went to foreign ports.

The average value of the rice exported from Chittagong to foreign ports was Rs. 3·5 per cwt., and of that exported to home ports Rs. 3 per cwt. The corresponding figures for rice exported from the Orissa ports were Rs. 3·9 and Rs. 2·8. The export of rice from the Orissa ports was more than double that of the previous year; 32,110 tons went to foreign ports and 62,813 tons to home ports. The exports from Calcutta also show a large increase, and the average value of the rice exported to foreign ports was Rs. 4·4 per cwt. There appears to be room for a large increase in the quantity of this commodity exported from Chittagong to foreign ports.

Tea trade.

9. The total quantity of tea exported amounted to 1,235,448lbs., of which only 54,445lbs. went to foreign ports. The remainder is sent to Calcutta for re-exportation from there. The direct shipments to foreign ports show a slight tendency to increase, and this tendency may be expected to grow stronger in the future.

Salt trade.

10. Salt is brought to Chittagong in the ships which go there for export cargoes of jute and rice. The imports last year amounted to 19,253 tons, showing an increase of 7,000 tons over those of the previous year. A considerable portion of the salt is transported to Naraingunge in the vessels which bring jute from that place.

Petroleum.

11. The imports of petroleum from America increased in value by Rs. 1,21,608, against which has, however, to be put a decrease of Rs. 30,431 in the value of the oil imported from Burma. The total value of the imports was Rs. 4,93,215, while the value of the exports only reached Rs. 58,821.

Piece-goods and other articles imported from home ports.

12. The value of piece-goods imported from home ports shows an increase of Rs. 3,50,550, but the report suggests that there was a corresponding decrease in the quantity imported by inland routes. The total value of this trade is considerable, and it may be expected that the economy of direct importation will before long be recognised. Sugar and other provisions show increases, due partly to the presence of troops in the Chittagong Hill Tracts.

13. The principal fluctuations in other articles of export are to be found under cotton and hides, in both of which there was a decrease. That under cotton is attributed to a short crop in the Hill Tracts, and that under hides to smaller mortality amongst the cattle in the districts from which the supply is derived.

Cotton and other articles exported to home ports.

14. The appliances of the port are reported to have been kept in good order during the year. The depth of water on some of the bars in the river appears to have decreased slightly, but as no serious accident occurred through this cause, the state of the river may be regarded as satisfactory.

Port appliances.

15. The lights and fog signals of all descriptions of vessels are stated to have been carefully inspected during the year, and several native vessels were prevented from clearing until their side-lights had been put in order.

Lights and fog signals.

16. The health of the shipping in the port was again unsatisfactory. Seventy-three persons were admitted into the municipal hospital against the same number in 1889-90. Of these, 64 persons were discharged, said to have been cured partially, 6 withdrew, and 3 died. The number of deaths in 1889-90 was 6. At the close of the year there was a severe small-pox epidemic which extended to the shipping. Of the 8 cases that occurred. 7 were cured. In the eighth case the patient was also attacked by cholera and died.

Health of shipping.

17. Hospital port dues were levied at Chittagong on all ships manned by European crews at the rate of one anna a ton with effect from the 1st of April 1890; and in deference to the wishes of the local authorities the Government sanctioned an arrangement under which the proceeds were appropriated mainly to the payment of a fixed salary to the Civil Surgeon for attending on the shipping. The arrangement did not prove satisfactory, and the order authorizing the levy of the dues has been cancelled.

Hospital port dues.

18. A new light-house has been built at Norman's Point, and an occulting light of the fourth order has taken the place of the old beacon lights. The first order revolving light which is to be erected at Kutubdia has arrived at Calcutta, but its erection has been delayed through some of the glass prisms having been broken in transit from Bombay. New prisms have been ordered from England, and the light will be erected during the coming fair season.

Light-houses.

19. The state of the Pilotage Fund is shown in the subjoined table—

Total ...	19,029	8	8½	Total ...	19,029	8	8½

The distribution of receipts and charges between the port and pilotage funds was examined during the year, and under the revised arrangements lately sanctioned it is expected that the receipts on account of pilotage will meet all the expenditure connected with pilotage. The fees for pilotage remain as before.

20. The working of the Pilot Service was satisfactory, there having been no accidents of any consequence to vessels whilst in charge of pilots.

Secretary to the Government of Bengal.

RESOLUTION ON THE ANNUAL REPORT OF THE PORT OF CALCUTTA FOR THE YEAR 1890-91.

GOVERNMENT OF BENGAL—MARINE DEPARTMENT.

Dated Darjeeling, the 29th September 1891.

RESOLUTION No. 183T.—Marine

READ—

The Annual Report of the Port Officer of Calcutta for the year 1890-91.

The report is submitted by Lieutenant E. W. Petley, R.N., who held charge of the Port Office until the 4th of March 1891, when he went on privilege leave. During his absence, Mr. A. J. B. Milner, the senior Branch Pilot, acted as Port Officer.

Office accommodation

2. The new building designed for the accommodation of the Port and Shipping Offices was completed during the year, and the offices have been moved into it. The Engineer and Shipwright Surveyors and the Health Officer of the Port have their offices in the same building.

Strength of the Pilot Service.

3. The strength of the Pilot Service at the close of the year 1890-91 was 60 pilots of all grades and 16 leadsmen. Five vacancies occurred during the year, and were filled by the promotion of qualified leadsmen apprentices. Two leadsmen apprentices were admitted locally and two were brought out from England during the year.

Leadsmen's quarters.

4. The leadsmen apprentices continued to reside in the houses rented by the Government for that purpose. As in the previous year, the quarters were managed by a Mess Committee, and the Port Officer, who frequently visited them, found that they were kept in good order. The leases of the two houses which have been used as quarters for some years past expired recently, and another house has now been rented which provides equally good accommodation at a somewhat lower cost.

Shipping.

5. The subjoined table exhibits the number of arrivals and departures of ships during the past three years—

	1888-89			1889-90.			1890-91
	Number	Gross tonnage	Net tonnage.	Number.	Gross tonnage.	Net tonnage	Number	Gross tonnage.	Net tonnage.
Arrivals	1,037	2,243,637	1,615,655	1,038	2,280,918	1,604,153	1,014	2,426,656	1,716,920
Departures	1,034	2,240,464	1,608,636	1,018	2,202,819	1,570,776	1,033	2,440,513	1,737,668
Total	2,071	4,484,301	3,224,291	2,056	4,483,737	3,174,929	2,047	4,867,169	3,454,588

6. These figures do not include 8 light vessels, 14 pilot brigs, and 53 other Government vessels; 6 vessels put back, steam-tugs which are constantly moving up and down the river, and the steamers trading to the Orissa ports. Of these latter, there were 241 arrivals and 242 departures. They are also exclusive of native craft.

7. The following statement shows the number of vessels drawing 21 feet and over, which were piloted inwards and outwards during the year under review and the previous year:—

Year	Steamers or sailing ships	21 to 22 feet.		22 to 23 feet.		23 to 24 feet		24 to 25 feet.		25 to 26 feet.		26 to 27 feet.		Total.
		Inward.	Outward.	Inward.	Outward.	Inward.	Outward.	Inward	Outward.	Inward.	Outward.	Inward.	Outward.	Inward.	Outward.
1890-91	Steamers	36	83	33	100	41	119	18	72	.	12	...	1	1 8	387
	Sailing ships	49	67	41	49	7	12	3	1					104	129
	Total	85	150	79	149	48	131	21	73	..	12	...	1	232	516
1889-90	Steamers	27	66	59	106	43	92	11	63	3	11	...	1	143	341
	Sailing ships	61	85	48	79	11	15	2	..	..	2	...	...	122	181
	Total	88	153	107	185	54	107	13	63	3	13	...	1	265	522

The average tonnage both of steamers and sailing vessels visiting the port of Calcutta has increased from 2,166 tons in 1889-90 to 2,360 tons in 1890-91; but it would appear from the figures given in the above table that the total number of vessels drawing over 21 feet was less than in the preceding year, though the number drawing from 23 to 25 feet slightly increased.

8. To meet the increase in average burthen, the tonnage scale according to which vessels are distributed amongst the several grades of pilots has recently been readjusted.

Casualties.

9. There were 47 cases of grounding and 12 cases of collision during 1890-91, against 39 and 5 in the year preceding. None of these casualties resulted in the loss of a vessel, but in five cases considerable damage was done. Of the 47 cases of grounding, 30 were accidental, and 6 due to alteration of channel. In the remaining 11 the pilot was in fault. Eight of the collisions were accidental; for the remaining 4 the pilots were responsible. The percentage of casualties during the year amounted to 2·81 against 2·14 in 1889-90 and 2·99 in 1888-89. These percentages include every case of grounding, however slight. The Lieutenant-Governor regrets that the standard of the previous year has not been maintained, and that four collisions were caused by imprudence or unskilfulness on the part of the pilots. His Honour trusts that it will be the endeavour of all members of the Service to regain the standard of 1889-90, which is the best on record for the past 15 years.

State of the channels.

10. There has been no change in the Eastern Channel, and the Gaspar has remained steady; but the Lower Saugor Road has caused considerable anxiety. There is said to be now a bar of only 17 feet right across the channel midway between the Long Sand Light and the Long Sand Spit Buoy. The Eden and the remaining channels below Diamond Harbour have remained fairly steady, but the Nynan and Anchoring Creek tracks were in a bad condition, especially during the cold-weather months. Fifteen inward-bound and four outward-bound vessels were neaped for want of sufficient water over the bars. As observed in the Resolution on last year's report, these figures do not take account of vessels being kept in the port for want of water over the bars during certain stages of the tides. Were these cases included, the number of outward-bound vessels delayed would be higher.

Government vessels.

11. The steamer Guide was docked during the year to have her bottom cleaned and painted. This vessel made 32 trips during the year, including 20 to the Sandheads, 6 to the Orissa ports, and 1 to Chittagong. The Coleroon was docked twice, the Fame once, and the Sarsuti three times. The Fame was run into, while at anchor on her station, by the ship Maulesden, and sustained considerable damage, which was made good at the cost of the Maulesden.

Examinations.

12. The number of certificates of each class granted to masters, mates, and engineers after examination at Calcutta is shown in the subjoined table:—

Nature of Certificates.	Candidates.	Total number examined.	Result.			Provisional certificates granted.	Renewal of certificates.
			Passed.	Failed.	Withdrew.

	Total	204	157	46	1	...	2

In addition to the above, two candidates obtained certificates as steam-tug pilots, and three as pilots of steamers plying between Calcutta and the Orissa ports.

Registration.

13. Three vessels were registered under the Merchant Shipping Act, 1854, and the registry of one vessel was transferred.

Surveys.

14. The following statement shows the number and description of vessels which were surveyed during the year under the several Acts relating to Merchant Shipping:—

Description of Vessels.	Number of vessels.	Number of visits made.	Number of certificates granted.
Inland steam-vessels under Act VI of 1884 ..	126	436	125
Steam-ships under Act VII of 1884	50*	248	47

* 41 of these vessels were surveyed at the same time under Act X of 1887.

The certificates of two vessels which sustained damage were cancelled.

SALARY AND STATUS OF ASSISTANT SURGEONS.

The following letter, conveying the orders of the Government of India on certain questions affecting the emoluments and official status of Assistant Surgeons in Bengal, is published for general information.

Municipal Department, Medical, H. H. RISLEY,
The 29th Sept. 1891. Offg. Secretary to the Govt. of Bengal.

No. 591, dated Simla, the 21st September 1891.

From—J. P. Hewett, Esq., C.I.E., Deputy Secy. to the Govt. of India, Home Dept.,
To—The Secretary to the Government of Bengal, Municipal (Medical) Department.

I am directed to acknowledge the receipt of your letter No. 1372, dated the 5th July last, forwarding a series of memorials from certain Assistant Surgeons in Bengal in which they pray for an improvement in their emoluments and official status.

The complaints of the Assistant Surgeons relate chiefly to the following matters:—

(a) the insufficiency of their present grade pay;
(b) the fact that they are not more frequently appointed to posts in the Uncovenanted Medical Service and to the medical charge of civil stations;
(c) the effect of the working of Rule 12 of the Dispensary Manual; and (d) the pay given to supernumeraries.

2. In reply, I am to say that the Government of India concur entirely with the conclusions arrived at by the Bengal Government on the first three points. In their opinion no valid reasons have been advanced for raising the present grade pay of Assistant Surgeons. As His Honour has pointed out, the reservation of Civil Surgeoncies to Commissioned Medical Officers interferes with the more general employment of Assistant Surgeons as Civil Surgeons, and, in view of the necessity for providing for a war reserve, the Government of India are unable to reduce the number of stations reserved for Commissioned Medical Officers in Bengal. The Bengal Government are prepared to employ Assistant Surgeons in the charge of stations whenever the staff of Commissioned or suitable Uncovenanted Officers falls short, and this course goes as far as is possible in the direction of the prayer of the memorialists. The proposal of His Honour the Lieutenant-Governor to meet from Provincial funds the increased pay of an Assistant Surgeon who becomes entitled to promotion, when the local body in whose service he is employed is really unable to bear the additional charge, has removed what was in the opinion of the Government of India a substantial grievance.

3. The Government of India understand that there are two grievances in respect of the supernumerary pay: first, that supernumerary Assistant Surgeons, while unemployed, draw pay at a reduced rate, viz., Rs. 50 if in the third grade, and Rs. 100 if in the second grade; and, secondly, that under a recent ruling by the Accountant-General they are only entitled to the reduced rate even when employed in temporary or officiating charges. The Governor-General in Council concurs generally in the views expressed by the Bengal Government on these points, and is prepared to modify the rules so as to give effect to His Honour's suggestions. The rules as modified will be as follows:—

(1) All supernumerary Assistant Surgeons will draw Rs. 50 during the time for which they have no temporary or permanent charge and are merely attached to hospitals or on similar duty. This rate of pay to be called "unemployed pay."

(2) All supernumerary Assistant Surgeons will receive Rs. 100 while holding temporary or officiating charges. This rate of pay to be called "employed pay" and to cease when the temporary or officiating duty ceases. The supernumerary will then revert to unemployed pay. Should the post of which a supernumerary is in charge carry local allowances, he will be entitled to receive them in addition to the Rs. 100 a month, and the allowance to a supernumerary in charge of a civil station will, under Article 157 (ii) of the Civil Service Regulations, be Rs. 100 in addition to employed pay.

(3) All Assistant Surgeons holding permanent appointments will draw, in addition to their grade pay, any local and other allowances attached to those appointments.

(4) An Assistant Surgeon who is transferred, otherwise than for misconduct, from another Province in which he was holding a permanent appointment, will draw full grade pay until provided with a permanent post, and will be absorbed in the first vacancy that occurs after his transfer. If transferred for misconduct, he will receive the reduced pay of his grade. If transferred while a supernumerary, his pay will be regulated by Rule (1) or (2) according as he holds a temporary or permanent charge or not.

(5) An Assistant Surgeon on the permanent list who has misconducted himself will draw the reduced pay of his grade, Rs. 50, Rs. 100, or Rs. 150, whether employed or not.

(6) An Assistant Surgeon with a permanent appointment who loses that appointment, otherwise than as a penalty for misconduct, e.g., by its being abolished, will receive his full grade pay till he can be provided with a permanent post, and will be absorbed in the first permanent vacancy which occurs after he loses his appointment.

With reference to Rule (5) I am to observe that an Assistant Surgeon who has been reduced should usually be employed instead of being allowed to remain in a hospital as a supernumerary. If his misconduct has been of such a nature as to render his employment undesirable, except as a supernumerary, he should be dismissed.

4. The rules enumerated above assume that it will never be necessary, as has sometimes happened in Bengal, to keep an Assistant Surgeon as a supernumerary for as long as seven years, and, as the Government of India consider that it is an essential condition of a properly recruited service that an Assistant Surgeon who is duly qualified should be provided with a permanent appointment before he has completed seven years' service, I am to request that, with the permission of His Honour the Lieutenant-Governor, a scale of annual recruitment for Assistant Surgeons, which will secure this result, may be fixed and strictly adhered to. I am further, with reference to the orders contained in your Medical letter No. 882, dated 25th April last, to the address of the Inspector-General of Civil Hospitals in Bengal, to say that, as it is very desirable that none but properly qualified men should be retained as Assistant Surgeons, the Governor-General in Council considers that the rules relating to septennial examinations should be rigidly enforced.

The mean pressure, temperature, &c., are deduced from the traces of the Barograph and Thermograph, and from observations made at 6h, 10h, 16h, and 22h.

The maximum and minimum temperatures are obtained from self-registering thermometers All the thermometers are verified, and the readings have been corrected to a standard constructed and verified at the Kew Observatory. They are exposed under a thatched shed open at the sides, and are suspended four feet above the ground.

The barometer readings are corrected approximately to those of the standard, Newman's No. 86, formerly at the Surveyor-General's Office.

The hygrometric elements are obtained from Tables III, IV, and V of the official tables computed in the Meteorological Office, and based on Regnault's modifications of August's formula.

The directions and the movement of the wind are taken from the trace of a Beckley's anemograph.

d, drizzling rain; p, passing temporary showers; ⌓, dew; lr, lightning reflection.

Explanation.—Summary.—The normal means of air pressure and temperature are the arithmetical average or means of the reading during the same period for the last five years. The humidity of the atmosphere is expressed at percentage, saturated air being represented by 100. A clear sky is denoted by 0 and an overcast sky by 10. The numbers are the arithmetical means or averages of the rainfall in that district determined from the returns sent in by the sub-divisional station for the period in question during the past station in the district sending in returns divided by the number of stations. A rainy day is one on which at least a tenth of an inch fell.

the week ending Saturday, the 3rd of October 1891.

Explanation.—..... indicate that no rain has fallen. If the return for any day has not been received, the corresponding space is left blank. If any of the returns are wanting, the corresponding spaces in the total rainfall columns are left blank. With reference to the column of rainy days, the definition of a rainy day is when at least 0·1 inch of rain has fallen.

CALCUTTA, the 6th October 1891.

SUMMARY OF THE METEOROLOGICAL AND RAINFALL OBSERVATIONS TAKEN IN BENGAL, AND OF THE METEOROLOGICAL OBSERVATIONS TAKEN IN ASSAM, FOR THE WEEK ENDING SATURDAY, THE 3RD OF OCTOBER 1891.

THOUGH there has been very little to note in the weather conditions during the week under review, the influence of the depression which passed from the northern half of the Bay into Central India in the previous week has been distinct, especially in the western half of the province. The depression remained almost stationary in the early part of the week and then took a north-easterly direction towards Allahabad, where it ultimately filled up. Rainfall was fairly general on the 27th September, the first day of the present week, and the wind circulation was evidently controlled by the low-pressure area; directions being south at all stations except in the west of Behar, where they were east or south-east. Pressure differed very little from the normal, there being a small excess in Lower Bengal and a defect of not more than a twentieth of an inch in the northern districts, while temperature was, in consequence of the continued and almost general rainfall, several degrees below the normal. After this for four days rainfall practically ceased except in parts of North Bengal, where local showers continued, pressure underwent slight oscillations, temperature, though changing somewhat irregularly, was gradually becoming normal, and the wind circulation was unchanged till Wednesday, the 30th September. On that day, apparently owing to the filling up of the depression, wind directions became south-west at all except the Behar stations, where the circulation, though still easterly, was light and more irregular. On the 1st October the general distribution of pressure was unchanged, except that readings were everywhere higher by about a twentieth of an inch; temperature was everywhere above the normal by about 2° and was rising, especially in Behar and Chutia Nagpur, where the rise was between one and two degrees at nearly all stations. Wind directions were south or south-west, and practically no rain fell; but on the 2nd, though pressure rose briskly in North Bengal and Behar and moderately elsewhere, north-easterly winds were blowing in Behar, and the westerly element in the directions at the southern stations was not so decided. Other signs of slightly unsettled conditions were apparent in commencement of rainfall in the extreme west of Behar, and on the following day local showers were fairly general in Behar and North Bengal, while there was a general slow fall of pressure and temperature over the whole province. These changes probably resulted from the filling up of the depression in North-Western Provinces, but the rising pressure and easterly winds in Behar and North Bengal show that nothing of the nature of a residual depression passed over the province.

Pressure changes have been very small throughout the week, the only rise of more than a twentieth of an inch occurring on the 2nd October in the northern half of the province. The general tendency has been upwards, and from being below the normal in Behar by about ·03″ and above elsewhere by a similar small amount, readings at the end of the week were everywhere in excess by somewhat variable amounts ranging up to nearly a tenth of an inch at some of the southern stations. As excess in Behar and North Bengal was less than in Lower Bengal by about a twentieth of an inch, gradients were steeper than is usual at this season of the year. The means for the week are normal or slightly below in Behar and Chutia Nagpur, and above the normal in the other districts, especially in East Bengal and Orissa, where excess is more than a twentieth of an inch.

Temperature was considerably below the normal in Orissa, South-West Bengal, Chutia Nagpur, and part of South Behar at the beginning of the week, and above the normal in Behar and North Bengal by variable amounts ranging up to 2°. After rainfall ceased there was an almost general rise, the exceptions being in North Bengal, where local showers continued. Though changes were not quite regular, readings steadily increased till 2nd October, when there was excess of between one and two degrees at nearly all stations On the 3rd, however, a rapid fall occurred in Behar and North Bengal and slower downward changes in the other districts The fall at Motihari, Durbhunga, Dinagepore, Rungpore, and Dhubri was 5°, but in the southern districts changes exceeded 1° at a few stations only. The means for the week are nearly 1° below the normal for Orissa, Chutia Nagpur, and Assam, above by rather more than ·5° for East and North Bengal, and very nearly normal for the other districts.

Rainfall was almost general on the 27th September, scattered on the following day, and practically absent in all districts for the next three days except in North Bengal, where local showers were fairly numerous throughout the week. On the 2nd October almost general rain fell in North Behar and North Bengal, and on the 3rd it continued in North Bengal and almost the whole of Behar, but during these days the falls in the southern districts were very scattered. Amounts varied exceedingly, Gajol in the Maldah district receiving 7 inches on the 3rd, Rungpore 5·35 inches, Ulipore 4·6 inches, and Kurigram 4 inches; while very few other stations received more than 1 inch on either the 2nd or the 3rd, the irregularity in the rainfall being due to the fact that it was caused by local thunderstorms.

The average fall is above the normal in North Behar and North Bengal: in the former by ·48″ and in the latter by ·19″, while in the other districts defect is large as compared with the normal average. Taking the actual average as a percentage of the normal average, the numbers for the various districts where rainfall has been deficient are as follows:—South Behar 71, Chutia Nagpur 60, South-West Bengal 56, Orissa 42, and East Bengal 21.

The following table gives the summary of the temperature and rainfall data of each of the seven meteorological divisions of the province for the week ending Saturday, the 3rd of October 1891 :—

MEMORANDUM.

Report on the Monthly Statistics of Deaths registered in forty-five districts of Bengal for the month of July 1891.

THE total number of deaths registered in forty-five districts of Bengal during the month of July 1891 amounted to 121,977, against 115,581 in July 1890, and an average of 119,209 in the corresponding month of the previous five years, 1886—90. These figures represent an annual death-rate of 22·20, 21·00, and 21·72 per 1,000, respectively, of the aggregate population of those districts, which is 65,859,534. The death-rate of July 1891 is ·48 higher than the mean rate of the corresponding month of the past five years, 1886—90, and is also higher than the rate of the corresponding period of any of the past five years except 1887 and 1889, vide the figures below:—

	July 1886.	July 1887.	July 1888.	July 1889.	July 1890.	Monthly average of five years, 1886—90.	July 1891.
Number of deaths	92,756	131,434	113 226	134 050	115,580	119,209	121,977
Ratio per mille per annum	16 80	24·84	20·52	25·08	21·00	21 72	22·20

It will also be seen from the following table that the mortality of the forty-five districts during July 1891 is less than that of the previous months of the year:—

Months.	Number of deaths.	Ratio per mille.
January 1891	143,492	26·04

June ,, ...	140,594	25·56
July ,, ...	121,977	22 20

The following table shows the number and ratio of deaths during the month according to Sex and Class. As usual, more males died than females. The ratio of deaths among the sexes, calculated on the proportion the mortality bears to the total male and female population of the province, is as 118 is to 100; but, individually considered, in only three districts, viz, Khulna, Darjeeling, and Noakhali, the death-rates among females is greater than that among males. In proportion to the population of the several classes of the community, death is greatest among the Buddhists, next among the Hindus, then among the other classes and Christains. The Mahomedans suffered the least:—

	Sex.			Class.
	Males.	Females.	Ratio of male deaths to every 100 female deaths, calculated on the proportion such mortality bears to the total male and female population.	Christians.	Hindus.	Mahomedans.	Buddhists.	Other classes.

Ratio per mille per annum ...	24·13	20·28	118	17 53	24·72	17·04	34·84	21·73

The following table shows the proportions of deaths registered during the month of July 1891, which are above 25 per mille and are arranged in order of sequence, and are compared with the ratios of the corresponding month of 1890:—

Districts.	Ratio per mille during—		Districts.	Ratio per mille during—
	July 1891.	July 1890.		July 1891.	July 1890.

Julpaiguri	30 48	32·88	Hazaribagh	25·44	19·32

It will be seen from the statement appended to this memorandum that the highest death-rate occurred in Darjiling, 65·52 per mille per annum, and the lowest in Dacca and Faridpore, 11·28 each per 1,000 of population. In twelve districts the death-rates were above 25 per mille, in six between 20 and 25, and in the remaining 27 below 20. In the districts which show a lower death-rate than 20 per mille per annum, the registration of deaths cannot be considered to have been correct.

The total mortality during the month under review from the several registered death-causes is compared in the following table with the mortality from those causes in the corresponding month of 1890, and the average of the five years 1886—90:—

	Ratio per mille during—
	July 1891.	July 1890.	Monthly average of five years, 1886–90.
Cholera	3·60	1·68	2·64
Small-pox	·24	·12	·09
Fever	14·16	14·76	14·40
Dysentery and diarrhœa	·48	·60	·72
Injury	·60	·72	·72
Other causes	2·76	2·84	3·00

Compared with the figures of both the past periods, there is a considerable increase in the mortality in the month under review, under the head cholera.

Cholera caused 20,049 deaths, which is equivalent to an annual rate of 3·60 per 1,000 of population per annum, against 18,305 (ratio 3·24 per mille) in the preceding month. Shahabad suffered the most with the highest cholera death-rate of 33·74 per mille per annum, next Gya 20·52, then Patna 10·68, Durbhanga 8·76, Sarun and Monghyr 8·16 each, Lohardugga 5·16, and Darjiling and Mozufferpore 4·92 each, Bhagulpore 4·20, Hazaribagh 3·36, Maldah 2·52, and Julpaiguri 2·04. In only one district, Tipperah, the disease was conspicuous by its absence.

The deaths from Small-pox numbered 1,335 (ratio ·24 per mille), against 1,826 (ratio ·24) in the preceding month. Midnapore returned the highest death-rate, 1·56 per mille, followed by Lohardugga 1·20 per mille. There were no deaths recorded in eleven of the districts, viz., Birbhum, Serampore, Dinajpur, Rajshahye, Rungpore, Pubna, Julpaiguri, Backerganj, Noakhali, Tipperah, and Manbhum.

Fever proved fatal in 77,775 instances and dysentery and diarrhœa in 3,272 (ratio 14·16 and ·48 per mille) respectively, against 94,634 and 3,332 (ratio 17·16 and ·60), respectively, during June last. All the districts returned deaths under both these heads; but the highest fever death-rate occurred in Darjiling, viz., 31·20 per mille per annum, next in Julpaiguri 27·00, then in Shahabad 23·28, in Gya 21·96, in Monghyr 21·72, and in Patna 21·48. Darjiling also returned the highest death-rate from dysentery and diarrhœa, viz., 23·04 per mille, Balasore stands next to Darjiling with a death-rate of 2·76 per mille, followed by Howrah and Pooree 2·40 each.

Injury caused 3,945 deaths (ratio ·60 per mille), against 4,083 (ratio ·72) in the previous month, and the mortality from all other causes not specified amounted to 15,601 (ratio 2·76 per mille), against 18,413 (ratio 3·24) in the previous month. Poori returned the highest death-rate from the unspecified diseases coming under the head "All other causes," viz., 11·64 per mille per annum.

With regard to mortality according to Age, infants under one year of age, as usual, perished in the largest numbers, viz., at the rate of 154·20 per 1,000 of population per annum, next came old persons (60 years and upwards) with a death-rate of 47·52 per mille. The lowest death-rate occurred among persons between 10 and 15 years of age, viz., 11·40 per 1,000 per annum.

Detailed information regarding the mortuary statistics of the forty-five districts of Bengal during the month under review will be found in the statement appended.

OFFICE OF SANITARY COMMISSIONER FOR BENGAL,

The 3rd October 1891

W. H. GREGG, Dip. Publ. Health, Camb.,

Sanitary Commissioner for Bengal.

MEMORANDUM.

Report on the Vital Statistics in twenty-seven of the principal towns of Bengal for the Quarter ending 30th June 1891.

Births.

The total number of births registered in twenty-seven of the principal towns of Bengal during the three months ending with 30th June 1891 amounted to 5,182, being less than that of the preceding quarter by 1,230, but greater than that of the correspondng quarter of the preceding year and the average of the corresponding period of the past five years, (1886—90) by 1,168 and 615 respectively. This corresponds to an annual rate of 19·32 per 1,000 of the aggregate population of those towns, which is 1,072,359. This rate is 2·32 higher than the mean rate of the corresponding quarter of the past five years, 1886—90, and is also higher than the rate of the corresponding period of any of the past five years with which comparison is instituted, vide the figures below—

Ratio of births per mille per annum	17·00	16·84	17·72	18·60	14·96	17·00	19·32

Of the total births, 2,765 (ratio 10·28 per mille) were boys and 2,417 (ratio 9·) girls, or relatively to each other, 114 of the former were born for every 100 of the latter. Although, on the whole, there was a preponderance of the male element, yet in five towns, viz., Ranaghat, Jessore, Rampore Beauleah, Comillah, and Gya, more girls were born than boys.

The births registered in each of the twenty-seven principal towns during the second quarter of 1891, 1890, and the average of the five years, 1886—90, correspond to the following rates per 1,000 of the population of those towns :—

The total birth-rate of the twenty-seven principal towns during the second quarter of 1891 is higher than the total rates of the two past periods with which it is compared. The maximum birth-rate was recorded in Monghyr (32·44 per mille) and the minimum in Jessore (6·12). The supposed standard in India is 40 per thousand, but it will be seen that not in one of the twenty-seven principal towns of Bengal was this standard reached during the quarter under review. In only one, however, out of the twenty-seven principal towns in Bengal, viz, Monghyr, did the statistics of birth registration exceed 30 per 1,000. In all the rest the rate was very low, especially in the towns of Jessore, Patna, Purneah, Santipore, Ranaghat, and Bali, where the statistics are so imperfectly recorded that ratio was less than 15 per 1,000.

Deaths.

The total number of deaths registered in twenty-seven principal towns of Bengal during the quarter ending with 30th June 1891 amounted to 6,342, against 6,765 in the corresponding quarter of 1890, and 6,018 which is the average of the corresponding period of the past five years (1886—90). These figures represent an annual death-rate of 23·64, 25·20, and 22·44 per 1,000, respectively, of the aggregate population of those towns. The death-rate of the second quarter of 1891 is 1·20 higher than the mean rate of the corresponding period of the past five years 1886—90, and is also higher than the recorded mortality of the corresponding quarter of any of the past five years except 1890, vide the figures below—

The deaths registered among the different sexes and the several classes of the community are given in the following statement. Taking the towns collectively, there were more male deaths registered than female deaths, i.e., 105 males died for every 100 females, calculated on the proportion such mortality bears to the total male and female population; but, individually considered, in thirteen towns the death-rate was greater among the female than among the male population. Proportionally to population, the death-rate among the Hindus was the greatest, and that among the Mahomedans was greater than the death-rate among either the Christians or the Budhists who suffered the least:—

The deaths registered in each of the twenty-seven principal towns during the second quarter of 1891, 1890, and the average of the five years 1886—90, correspond to the following rates per 1,000 of the population of those towns:—

Gya attained the highest death-rate during the quarter under notice, viz., 42·1 per 2 mille per annum, and the lowest death-rate was recorded in Krishnagar, 6·68. In seven towns the rates were above 30 per mille, in ten they were between 30 and 20, and in the remaining ten they were below 20. In those towns which returned death-rates below 20 per mille, registration of deaths cannot be said to have been satisfactorily carried on.

The total mortality during the quarter under review from the several registered death-causes is compared in the following table with the mortality from those causes in the corresponding quarters of 1890 and the average of the five years 1886—90:—

	Ratio per mille during—
	Quarter ending 30th June 1891.	Quarter ending 30th June 1890.	Quarterly average of quarter ending 30th June 1886—90.
Cholera	3 56	4 44	3 80
Small-pox	1·20	84	40
Fever	9 24	11·64	8 96
Dysentery and diarrhœa	2 36	2 16	2 64
Injury	·48	·40	·48
Other causes ...	6 68	5·60	6 12

It will be seen from the above statement that the figures of 1891 are almost similar to those of the average period of the past five years, except under the heading small-pox. Compared, however, with the second quarter of 1890, there is a considerable decrease in the mortality of the second quarter of 1891 under the heads "cholera" and "fever," and a noticeable increase in the mortality from the unspecified diseases coming under the head "Other causes."

Cholera caused 956 deaths, against 1,164 in the preceding quarter—ratio 3·56 and 4·32 per 1,000 of population, respectively. Proportionally to population, the disease was most severe in Purneah and Bhagulpore, where the mortality rates were 14·88 and 11·16 per mille per annum, respectively. The next highest rate occurred in Chittagong, 5·96, then in Gya, 5·89, in Dacca 5·20, in Utterpara 4·32, in Comillah 4·12, in Howrah 3·80, in Serampore and Chupra 3·32 each, in Patna 3·28, in Hughli and Chinsurah 3·12, in Rampore Beauleah 3; and in Santipore 2·40. In only one town, viz, Darjiling, the disease was entirely absent.

The deaths from Small-pox numbered 321 (ratio 1·20 per mille), against 478 (ratio 1·76) in the previous quarter. Midnapore returned the highest death-rate, viz., 13·08 per mille per annum, next Chittagong 6·68 per mille, followed by Gya 2·64, Durbhanga 2·16, Chupra 1·52, and Arrah 1·28. Thirteen towns, viz., Serampore, Utterpara, Bali, Krishnagar, Ranaghat, Santipore, Jessore, Rampore Beauleah, Darjiling, Dacca, Comillah, Bhagulpore, and Poori, enjoyed perfect immunity from this disease Fever proved fatal in 2,486 instances (ratio 9·24 per mille), and dysentery and diarrhœa in 643 (ratio 2·36), against 2,793 (ratio 10·40) and 794 (ratio 2·96), respectively, in the preceding quarter. All the towns suffered from fever; those which suffered the greatest being Darjiling with a death-rate of 23·36 and Gya with 20·96 per mille. Darjiling also returned the highest death-rate from dysentery and diarrhœa, viz., 13·08 per mille; next to it comes Serampore 7·24, then Monghyr 5·76. In only one town, Comillah, the return of deaths from dysentery and diarrhœa was nil.

The deaths from Injury numbered 139 (ratio ·48 per mille), against 108 (ratio ·40) in the preceding quarter, and those from all other causes not specified, 1,794 (ratio 6·68), against 1,905 (ratio 7·08) of the preceding quarter. Poori returned the highest death-rate from the unspecified diseases coming under the head of "Other causes," viz., 13·84 per mille; Serampore stands next with 12·92, followed by Monghyr 12·20, Gya 11·76, and Utterpara 10·88.

With regard to Age, infants under one year of age as usual perished in the largest numbers 188·08 per mille per annum, next come old persons (60 years and upwards) with a death-rate of 51·80 per mille. The lowest death-rate, which occurred between the ages of 10 and 15 years, is only 9· per mille of population.

Detailed information regarding the vital statistics of the twenty-seven principal towns of Bengal during the quarter under review will be found in the statement appended.

REVENUE DEPARTMENT.

REVISED ADVERTISEMENT.

BY DR. GEO. WATT, C.I.E.

Reporter on Economic Products.

Published under the authority of the Government of India in the Revenue and Agricultural Department.

The first five volumes of this work are now ready for issue, and intending subscribers are invited to register their names with the Superintendent of Government Printing, Calcutta.

The Dictionary is intended to deal with the products of India—animal, vegetable, and mineral; each product being treated after a uniform plan, the paragraphs of which give the scientific, vernacular, and European names; habitat of source; history; properties and uses (both chemical and industrial); trade statistics; markets; &c. The work is arranged alphabetically according to scientific nomenclature, but commercial and important vernacular names are also given as cross references, so that little difficulty need be experienced in finding the account of a product even when its scientific name is unknown to the reader.

An important feature of the Dictionary consists in the fact that derived information is in every instance given under quotation marks, and with a reference to the original publication. Numerous contributors have, however, furnished the results of new discoveries and confirmed the vernacular names, so that the Dictionary is not only a complete compilation of published information, but has been brought abreast of the most recent inventions and discoveries.

Volume I contains the letters A and B, and consists of 559 royal octavo pages; Vol. II embraces the letter C in 689 pages; Vol. III contains the letters D, E, F and half of G. Vol IV latter half of G to middle of L; and Vol. V contains the latter half of L to end of "O." The whole work will, it is expected, be completed in seven volumes during the current year; but an eighth volume may also be issued consisting of an Index to all the vernacular and other names contained in the Dictionary. The Index will practically be a Glossary of the vernacular and European names of the plants, animals and minerals of India, and as such will be a work of reference, which, it is hoped, may prove of considerable value.

The price to subscribers will be in India Rs. 30 and in England 2 guineas, payable in advance, for the complete set (exclusive of the Index for which a separate charge will be made).

For copies bound in half calf or half morocco, Rs. 6 and 8 shillings respectively will be charged extra for the whole sets.

No copies will be issued to non-subscribers till the work is complete, and no single volume will be sold separately. The price to non-subscribers will be Rs. 45 in India and 3 guineas in England. The period of registration of subscribers' names will expire on the 1st October.

ACT NO. XVIII OF 1891.

An Act to amend the Law of Evidence with respect to Bankers' Books.

WHEREAS it is expedient to amend the Law of Evidence with respect to Bankers' Books; It is hereby enacted as follows:—

(a) any company carrying on the business of bankers;

(b) any partnership or individual to whose books the provisions of this Act shall have been extended as hereinafter provided:

(3) "bankers' books" include ledgers, day-books, cash-books, account-books and all other books used in the ordinary business of a bank:

Power to extend provisions of Act.

3. The Local Government may, from time to time, by notification in the official Gazette, extend the provisions of this Act to the books of any partnership or individual carrying on the business of bankers within the territories under its administration, and keeping a set of not less than three ordinary account books, namely, a cash-book, a day-book or journal and a ledger, and may in like manner rescind any such notification.

Mode of proof of entries in bankers' books.

4. Subject to the provisions of this Act, a certified copy of any entry in a banker's book shall in all legal proceedings be received as primâ facie evidence of the existence of such entry, and shall be admitted as evidence of the matters, transactions and accounts therein recorded in every case where, and to the same extent as, the original entry itself is now by law admissible, but not further or otherwise.

Case in which officer of bank not compellable to produce books.

5. No officer of a bank shall in any legal proceeding to which the bank is not a party be compellable to produce any banker's book the contents of which can be proved under this Act, or to appear as a witness to prove the matters, transactions and accounts therein recorded, unless by order of the Court or a Judge made for special cause.

Inspection of books by order of Court or Judge.

6. (1) On the application of any party to a legal proceeding, the Court or a Judge may order that such party be at liberty to inspect and take copies of any entries in a banker's book for any of the purposes of such proceeding, or may order the bank to prepare and produce, within a time to be specified in the order, certified copies of all such entries, accompanied by a further certificate that no other entries are to be found in the books of the bank relevant to the matters in issue in such proceeding, and such further certificate shall be dated and subscribed in manner hereinbefore directed in reference to certified copies.

(2) An order under this or the preceding section may be made either with or without summoning the bank, and shall be served on the bank three clear days (exclusive of bank holidays) before the same is to be obeyed, unless the Court or Judge shall otherwise direct.

(3) The bank may at any time before the time limited for obedience to any such order as aforesaid either offer to produce their books at the trial or give notice of their intention to show cause against such order, and thereupon the same shall not be enforced without further order.

Costs.

7. (1) The costs of any application to the Court or a Judge under or for the purposes of this Act and the costs of anything done or to be done under an order of the Court or a Judge made under or for the purposes of this Act shall be in the discretion of the Court or Judge, who may further order such costs or any part thereof to be paid to any party by the bank if they have been incurred in consequence of any fault or improper delay on the part of the bank.

(2) Any order made under this section for the payment of costs to or by a bank may be enforced as if the bank were a party to the proceeding.

(3) Any order under this section awarding costs may, on application to any Court of Civil Judicature designated in the order, be executed by such Court as if the order were a decree for money passed by itself:

Provided that nothing in this sub-section shall be construed to derogate from any power which the Court or Judge making the order may possess for the enforcement of its or his directions with respect to the payment of costs.

RESOLUTION ON THE GENERAL ADMINISTRATION REPORT OF THE CHOTA NAGPORE DIVISION FOR THE YEAR 1890-91.

GENERAL DEPARTMENT—MISCELLANEOUS No. 1323.

Darjeeling, the 8th October 1891.

READ—

The General Administration Report of the Chota Nagpur Division for the year 1890-91.

The report is submitted by Mr. Grimley who was Commissioner of the division throughout the year. Colonel Garbett, Colonel Lillingston, and Mr. Renny held charge of the Hazaribagh, Lohardugga, and Singbhum, districts, respectively, for the whole year. Mr. Baker had care of the Manbhum district for two periods, viz., from the 1st April to the 30th June 1890, and again from 7th December to the end of the official year; while Mr. Bedford filled up the interval. All these officers have considerable local knowledge of the division which in some respects presents peculiar difficulties owing to the character of the population. Of the three sub-divisions, one, Giridih, was under three officers, and each of the others, Palamow and Govindpur, under two officers during the year.

Tours.

2. The Commissioner was altogether 126 days in camp, of which 65 days were spent in the Tributary Mehals. He should arrange to visit each of the important States as often as he conveniently can, consistently with the requirements of the rules regarding the inspection of districts and district offices. None of the sub-divisions within the Chota Nagpur Division were inspected by him during the year, nor (as appears on reference to previous reports) have they been inspected by a Commissioner since 1887-88, in which year Mr. Stevens visited all the sub-divisions except Palamow, which he had inspected during the preceding year. The narrative of the Commissioner's tour is interesting, but it would have been more to the purpose had it contained more useful information regarding the quality of the work done in the criminal, revenue, and civil courts, and the state of the offices. The three sub-divisional offices and treasuries were inspected once instead of twice during the year by their respective Deputy Commissioners. This is not satisfactory. Close inspection of every court and office should be looked on as one of the chief securities for the maintenance of a high standard of administration. The District as well as Sub-divisional Officers appear to have made useful tours, except the Sub-divisional Officer of Giridih, whose presence at head-quarters, it is stated, was frequently required for census work. There is an inconsistency in the explanations offered that census work should have required more out-door work from the other officers, while difficulties of an opposite character were experienced by the Sub-divisional Officer of Giridih. In a division so favourably adapted for camping, where contact with the people is specially important and office work is less absorbing than elsewhere, Sir Charles Elliott hopes that in future the District Officers will not limit their tours to the minimum required to satisfy the rules of Government.

Weather, crops, public health, and condition of the people.

3. The weather was on the whole favourable to the crops, though the rainfall was unevenly distributed, there being heavy and continuous rains during the monsoon, excessive rain in July, and a complete cessation from the 18th October till the 23rd January, followed by very severe hail and rain in March. Under these conditions the bhadoi crops were more or less injured throughout the division, while the winter rice was everywhere good. A certain amount of pressure appears to have been felt for a time only in the Palamow sub-division, where, in addition to the deficient crops of the previous year, the outturn of rabi crops generally and especially of mohua, which forms the staple food of the poorer classes, was very much below the average of previous years. With regard to the special crops, the most important among them, namely, sugarcane, was an excellent crop, while the less important crops, viz., tobacco, cotton and jute, were rather below the average. The outturn of lac in Manbhum was an extraordinarily good one. The price of rice and other winter crops was lower than during the previous two years in Hazaribagh and Manbhum, but slightly higher in the Lohardugga and Singbhum districts, for which no other cause can be assigned than the opening of the Bengal-Nagpur Railway, which does not seem to have as yet affected prices in Manbhum, perhaps because that district had, even previous to the opening of the Bengal-Nagpur Railway, a fair amount of export trade through the East Indian Railway stations on its borders—Sitarampur, Ranigunge, and Assensole. The Bengal-Nagpur Railway, which was formally opened by His Excellency the Viceroy in person on the 3rd March last, but had been in working through the Chota Nagpur Division partially since December, 1889, as well as the extraordinary development of mining speculation, appears already to have effected an appreciable rise in the wages of unskilled labour throughout the division, and a marked diminution in the number of emigrants which fell off from 24,730 in 1889-90 to 10,066 during the year of report. There has been engendered among a portion of the Kol population, a strong desire, leading in the preceding year to a certain amount of violent agitation, for emancipation from the peculiar system of predial services which obtains over a great portion of Chota Nagpur. Recommendations for the commutation of these services into a money rent, as also for the extension of the Bengal Tenancy Act to Chota Nagpur in place of the existing law, Act I (B.C.) of 1879, have been laid before the Government of India, whose orders on the subject have recently been received.

Statistics regarding public health are only of relative value in this division, as in the rest of the province. The "Ardhodaya Joga" appears to have been the cause of an outbreak of cholera in Purulia and certain other parts of Manbhum. Influenza also prevailed more or less throughout the division, though in a mild form. In other respects the year was healthier than the two which directly preceded.

Trade, commerce, manufacture, and mines.

4. The principal articles of manufacture in the division are lac in Lohardugga and Manbhum, tea in Hazaribagh and Lohardugga, tussur silk in Hazaribagh, Lohardugga, and Manbhum, indigo in Manbhum only, and catechu in Hazaribagh. The imports consist mostly of piece-goods. The total value of the outturn of all the articles above named was Rs. 7,56,859, against Rs. 6,48,032 in 1889-90 and Rs. 4,04,594 in 1888-89. The exports of rice and oilseeds in Manbhum are said to have exceeded those of the previous year by 70 per cent., and in Singbhum by 48 per cent. in value. The value of imports in Manbhum (of piece-goods), however, rose only by 11 per cent., but in Singbhum it is stated to have risen by 23 per cent., while in Lohardugga the imports are said to have risen to 2,69,960 maunds against 9,960 during the previous year. Much of the increase in the figures is, however, apparently due to the concentration of trade routes and of registration within the division by the Bengal-Nagpur Railway, which render impossible any intelligent comparison with the figures of previous years. The figures for the next year will, it is hoped, be more trustworthy for purposes of comparison, as their basis will be the same as the current year's figures.

Negotiations are now pending for the settlement of the Jheriah and Pandra coal fields in Manbhum. The yield of the Baragunda Copper Mines was 305 tons against 320 and 217, respectively, in the two preceding years. The output of mica from the Koderma Government Estate in Hazaribagh rose to 2,209 maunds against 1,499 maunds in the previous year. No reliable evidence of the existence of lead, silver or gold in paying quantities has yet been found, though a few companies and individuals appear still to be prospecting with perseverance. The extraordinary excitement which prevailed at one time, and formed a marked feature in the prospects of the division, seems to have generally subsided.

Crime, police and criminal justice.

5. The total number of cognizable cases fell from 7,337 in the preceding year to 6,848. The percentage of cases convicted to cases reported rose from 44 to 47, and the ratio of persons convicted to persons sent up for trial was 56 against 58. The number of non-cognizable cases rose from 3,121 to 3,491, and the percentage of convictions to institutions was slightly higher than during the previous year. The total number of cases dealt with in the Courts was 7,588 against 7,000 in the preceding year, the number of persons brought before the Courts being 11,761 against 11,562 in 1889. The increase in the number of cases is due to offences against property, miscellaneous offences under the Penal Code, offences against the Excise and Opium Acts, under the Arms Act, under the Municipal Act, and section 34 of Act V of 1861, and other special and local laws. The Lieutenant-Governor regrets to learn that there was an increase in the number of offences against public tranquillity in the Palamow sub-division, and that the Police were remiss in taking timely notice of these cases, which in this sub-division are generally connected with the crops. The total absence of a record of rights and the unsettled habits of the people are prolific causes of disputes regarding crops in the Chota Nagpur Division, but this is only an additional reason for taking prompt measures to prevent such disputes from terminating in a breach of the peace.

The ghatwali police are special features of the division. They are sometimes, it appears, paid in cash but generally receive service lands, and a scheme for the resumption of these lands and the reorganization of the ghatwals on the same lines as the rural police of the rest of the Province is under the consideration of Government. The ghatwals of Hazaribagh, Lohardugga, and Singbhum are reported to have worked well, though of the Manbhum ghatwals Mr. Baker says: "While the task of exacting their worthless so-called services imposes a good deal of work on the regular police and the District Magistrate, the difficulty of dealing with their service lands is fast increasing."

Civil Justice.

6. The institutions of regular suits fell off from 5,419 to 5,365, or 1 per cent., and of rent suits from 5,176 to 5,156. The number of regular suits disposed of increased, by 17, from 5,337 to 5,354. A comparison of these figures would not lead to the supposition that arrears can be increasing. In regular appeals alone there are symptoms of inability to keep pace with the work, as the number disposed of was 273 against 468 instituted. The work done by the Judicial Commissioner is not shewn separately in this report, as it was shewn previously. The statistics given are not sufficient of themselves to bear out the complaint urged by three of the Deputy Commissioners, and supported by the Commissioner, that the civil work is overwhelming, and that more assistance is required. A special report will be asked for from the Commissioner on this subject.

Land revenue.

7. The total current land revenue demand of the division is Rs 3,82,684 due from 466 estates, of which only 149 are permanently settled. The collections of the current demand were over 98 per cent, and the total arrear was less than Rs. 10,000, of which over Rs. 3,000 have been or will be remitted. For part of the remaining default the curious explanation is given "that the occurrence of the Fasli leap-year prevented its realization before the close of the official year." The collections of Road and Public Works cesses in Manbhum and Hazaribagh were discreditably low, being only 82 per cent. of the current demand in the latter and 86 per cent. in the former. The explanation given is the stereotyped one that part of the balance was due on the 28th March. This explanation applies equally to the preceding year when the joint arrear of these districts was only about Rs. 11,000: it has now risen to Rs. 38,000. Revaluation has been going on in two districts, Hazaribagh and Lohardugga, for two years, and should be pushed to a conclusion. It is expected to produce a considerable increase.

Encumbered estates.

8. Fifty-seven encumbered estates are managed by the District Officers under the provisions of the Special Act VI of 1876. The total current demand is Rs. 3,71,862, all of which was collected, though hardly any impression was made on the large volume of arrears—about 3¼ lakhs. Out of these collections, debts to the amount of Rs. 2,40,709, were paid off, and the total indebtedness at the end of the year was reduced to Rs. 12,40,460. These results are very favourable to the indebted proprietors.

Miscellaneous revenue

9. The Excise revenue in the division is derived principally from the sale of licenses for outstills. The distillery system is in force in only a small area in the Giridih subdivision. In spite of a reduction in the number of shops and an increase in the minimum price of liquor, the total Excise revenue rose from Rs. 5,67,233 in 1889-90 to Rs. 6,65,411 in the year of report. This increase is attributed to the generally good harvests. There was a decrease of Rs. 5,728 or 2·1 per cent. in the revenue from judicial stamps, compensated by an increase of Rs. 13,511 or 16·5 per cent. in that from non-judicial stamps, the net increase being Rs. 7,783. There was a substantial increase in the demand for income-tax in Manbhum on account of the assessment of profits due to concessions of mining rights. The total demand for the whole division rose from Rs. 88,304 to Rs. 92,193.

Communications.

10. The opening of the Bengal-Nagpur Railway marks an epoch in the economic condition of this division. Attention may very profitably be now directed to the construction of feeder roads to foster the development which might be expected from the railway. Provincial funds are being largely spent on the main roads from Ranchi to Purulia and from Ranchi and Chyebassa to Chakardarpur, both stations on the railway; and Sir Charles Elliott hopes that the District Boards will now actively engage in constructing cheap feeder roads to the different railway stations within their jurisdiction. In Manbhum three such roads have been constructed with a total length of 7 miles, while in Singbhum a commencement has been made by starting a new road between Chyebassa and Amda, the nearest station on the railway.

Education.

11. The statistics regarding education furnish several noticeable features. The population of Hazaribagh, Lohardugga, Manbhum and Singbhum, respectively, according to the last census, is 1,162,483, 1,746,655, 1,193,255, and 675,653. Manbhum, however, heads the list in point of the number of Government aided schools, but the total number of pupils of both sexes and all races is very nearly the same in all the districts, with a slight preponderance in favour of Lohardugga. The percentage of the number of pupils to the total population in each of the districts is 1·3 in Hazaribagh, less than 1 in Lohardugga, 1·2 in Manbhum, and above 2 in Singbhum. Singbhum also heads the list in the number of its female schools as well as in the number of female pupils.. The classification of the pupils by races shows that 38,739 returned themselves as Hindus, and only 17,166 as aborigines. The cost of the 50,528 pupils to Government was Rs. 1,34,756, or Re. 1-10-8 per head, while to the 3,680 children in mission schools a grant of Rs. 9,069 was given, or Rs. 2-7-5 per head. The attention of the Director of Public Instruction will be drawn to this discrepancy.

Local Self-Government institution.

12. The Local Self-Government Act III (B.C.) of 1885 is not in force in the Chota Nagpur Division. The record of attendance in municipal meetings shows a generally fair average, except in the Lohardugga district, where a gradual decadence is observed. The attendance in Road Committees was poor everywhere. In Hazaribagh it is said that "the members of the District Road Committee in and about the town took more interest in the working of the Act than those living in the interior of the district." "In Lohardugga the attendance of the non-official members is reported to have been very unsatisfactory, inasmuch as out of nine non-officials, three attended only two meetings and two failed to attend any meetings." "In Manbhum the District Road Committee regularly met almost once a month, but rendered very little assistance to the District Officer." Mr. Baker writes: "The gentlemen who form the Committee are for the most part residents of Purulia (the district head-quarters). They have their own business to attend to here, and have little or no knowledge of the interior of the district. They, therefore, seldom make useful suggestions regarding works of which they know nothing. The actual work is thus practically left to the District Engineer and the Deputy Commissioner." Such a state of things is much to be regretted, as it shows a want of appreciation on the part of the people of the desire of Government to foster Local Self-Government to useful ends.

Conduct of zemindars.

13. The conduct of the zemindars in regard to Government is reported to be excellent: they are described by the Commissioner as being all loyal and faithful subjects. Special mention is made of the Thakurai Bhagwat Dyal Sing of Lohardugga as being the most enlightened and as taking an intelligent interest in all public matters. The relations between the zemindars of Lohardugga and their Kol tenants are reported to be anything but satisfactory owing to oppressive exactions on the part of the former, while in Manbhum Messrs. Watson and Company, the ijardars of the Burrabhum Estate, are said to be unpopular on account of their determined though apparently not very remunerative efforts to grow indigo against the will of the raiyats. The Rajah of Pachete has paid up the balance of his promised contribution of Rs. 5,000 to the Purulia Municipality for the better supply of water to the town.

14. The thanks of the Lieutenant-Governor are due to Mr. Grimley, the Commissioner, for his administration of the division during the year. Sir Charles Elliott also notices the favourable reports which the Commissioner gives of three out of the four Deputy Commissioners in the Division. The remarks of the Commissioner and the Deputy Commissioners on the various officers employed in the division during the year will be communicated to the Appointment Department.

By order of the Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal,

C. E. BUCKLAND,

Offg. Secretary to the Govt. of Bengal.

RESOLUTION ON THE GENERAL ADMINISTRATION REPORT OF THE ORISSA DIVISION FOR THE YEAR 1890-91.

GENERAL DEPARTMENT—MISCELLANEOUS No. 1324.

Darjeeling, the 8th October 1891.

READ—

The General Administration Report of the Orissa Division for the year 1890-91.

The Orissa Division was administered throughout the year by Mr. Worsley, who took furlough soon after its close. The report is submitted by his successor, Mr. Toynbee, who explains that, owing to his absence at Keonjhur in connection with the disturbances, he has been unable to give it his full personal attention. Under the circumstances, the Lieutenant Governor would have been willing to allow time for its preparation, as he is anxious that these reports should represent the Commissioner's own views and contain a complete account of the administration.

Tours and inspection.

2. Mr. Worsley's tour occupied 100 days and extended over nearly every month of the year. He appears to have inspected the head-quarters of Puri and Balasore and the subdivisions of Tajpur, Bhadrak and Kendrapara, omitting that of Khurda as well as Angul and the Khondmals. Of the Tributary States, he visited Athgarh and Dhenkenal alone. His inability to visit all these States is much to be regretted. The recent disturbance in Keonjhur and the complaints against the Raja's administration show how necessary it is for the Superintendent to maintain a close and careful supervision over the Tributary States. All the district officers spent sufficient time in camp, and were usefully employed in inspecting all the subdivisions and many of the thanas, and Sir Charles Elliott hears with pleasure that the existence of so many bungalows in the three districts renders it comparatively easy for them to be out at all seasons. The subdivisional officer of Jajpore failed, owing to ill-health, to tour for the prescribed period. It is not stated whether the Commissioner inspected the Puri office and treasury during the month he spent there Otherwise the inspections in this division were sufficiently frequent, and His Honour trusts that they were thorough.

Crops and the public health.

3. The province recovered to some extent the prosperity which was wanting in the previous year. The divisional average of rainfall exceeded that of the last two years. Only in the Puri district was it less than last year according to the figures, but still it was above the average, producing a 16-anna rice crop. The outturn of the principal crops showed an improvement corresponding to the rainfall, represented in annas, as follows :—

	1888-89.	1889-90.	1890-91.
Wheat	11	6	8
Pulses	11½	9½	11½
Rice ...	9½	12½	12

In Cuttack and Puri the people reaped the benefit of a fairly good harvest, accompanied by a brisk export trade in rice. In Balasore the relief operations were closed in October 1890, at a total cost to Government of Rs. 1,750. The average price of rice in the division has varied from 19 seers 12 chittacks the rupee in 1888-89 to 17 seers 15 chittacks in 1889-90 and 19 seers 8 chittacks in 1890-91. The demand for exportation kept up the price higher than might have been expected after the previous good harvest, which had replenished the granaries of the province.

There was also, on the whole, a marked change for the better in the public health. Though the deaths from fever increased somewhat, the mortality from cholera fell from 48,122 to 6,847. With regard to the sanitation of Puri, the Collector's remarks may be quoted :—

"This year again there has been a great fall from 20,342 to 1,791, but it must be ascribed to circumstances beyond our control So long as pilgrims are compelled in the name of religion to bathe in tanks whose contents have been proved to be little better than liquid sewage, and to eat holy food in a state of putrefaction, the efforts of the Health Officer can effect no real good. As Mr. Duke said last year in his annual report, while the food and the drink of the place are not controlled, other measures for the prevention and alleviation of cholera are a mere farce, and while the Municipality is constituted as at present, there seems no reasonable expectation of these subjects being properly dealt with.

"The Government of India has, I am happy to say, called attention to the insanitary condition of Puri, and the Sanitary Commissioner of Bengal visited the town last December; but it is idle to expect any real improvement without a radical alteration in the body responsible for town sanitation."

This matter requires the serious attention of the Government officers of the district, and the Lieutenant-Governor understands that the Collector is preparing a report on the remedial measures to be adopted. If anything were wanting to enforce the intimate relation between good water and mortality, a text might be found in the fact that an improvement in the water-supply of Balasore has been accompanied by a simultaneous decrease of the deaths from cholera from 13,000 to 1,400.

Manufactures and trade.

4. The agricultural character of Orissa attaches a special interest to the subjects of the production and price of food grains. Of the manufactures, salt alone is of any importance, and that is now in the hands of the Madras Salt Department. The manufacture of Pungah salt in Cuttack and Balasore has been stopped. The Kurkutch factories in Balasore yielded 990 maunds, in Puri 61,765 maunds were produced, but 1,28,295 maunds were sold by drawing on stocks in hand. The minor artistic products of the country maintained their position, but there is no indication of any expansion or improvement among them. The sea-borne trade of the province has increased in all the districts, showing a total value of Rs. 1,41,15,263, made up of Rs. 59,42,695 imports and Rs. 81,72,568 exports. The total value of trade has not yet recovered the figures of 1886-87 and 1887-88. The special features of the year are the great rise in the exports, especially to Madras, and the decrease in the imports to Balasore. There is also a remarkable development in the passenger traffic from 146,277 to 228,185 persons, due to the canal and sea routes becoming more and more resorted to by pilgrims. It is satisfactory to read of the general opening up of the country, and the removal of the isolation in which the Uriyas once lived. When railway communication is established, the province should receive another great impetus towards civilization.

Administrative changes.

5. Mr. H. R. Reily was appointed Settlement Officer of the Cuttack and Puri districts towards the close of the year under report, to revise the assessment of the temporarily-settled estates, of which the present settlement terminates in 1897. This work is outside the ordinary administration, but necessarily adds largely to the work of the district officers and Commissioner. The settlement operations proper, as distinguished from the Cadastral Survey, were not actually commenced until 1891-92. Certain minor changes were effected, such as the abolition of the outstill system in Balasore, the legalization of trade in Gurjat siddhi, the possession of small quantities of Gurjat ganja, and the appointment of a district Health Officer for the rest-houses on the Puri road. The number of Mahomedan employés advances slowly, and necessarily so in this division. But as Mahomedans only number about 2 per cent. of the whole population, they have no ground for complaint when they hold from 15 to 25 per cent. of the appointments, a fair number of them being in superior service.

Crime, police, and justice.

6. Crime in this division is comparatively light, but the police are said to be less capable of dealing with it efficiently than in other divisions. The population being chiefly agricultural, cases of criminal trespass and mischief and disputes regarding land and crops are most common. Comparing 1890 with 1889, cognizable cases fell from 6,980 to 6,646 and non-cognizable from 6,064 to 5,440. The decrease is attributed to the improved condition of the lower classes, and more especially to the village police, whose pay depends largely on voluntary contributions, being paid more regularly in a year of plenty, and not compelled to steal in order to earn a bare subsistence. The unsatisfactory condition of the village police is known to Government, but no great changes can be made until the question of Chakran lands has been dealt with by the settlement officer, and the proper number of chaukidars on a suitable rate of pay has been appointed. The Commissioner has given no statistics of criminal justice, except of the number of cases decided by the Honorary Magistrates and Benches. They appear to have worked well on the whole, and to have relieved the Stipendiary Magistrates to an appreciable extent. In civil justice the suits increased in number from 12,307 to 13,071, but decreased in value from Rs. 12,25,784 to Rs 10,62,304.

Land revenue.

7. The remarks recorded in the Resolution of the 30th September 1890 on the Commissioner's report for 1889-90 appear to have stimulated those concerned with the land revenue. The idea that 90 per cent. collections on the gross demand were satisfactory was then overruled. It is now stated that the percentage of collections on the gross demand was 96 for the whole Province, viz., 99 in Balasore, 97 in Cuttack, and 93 in Puri—an improvement attributable partly to the more favourable character of the season, and partly to the greater activity shown by the executive in realizing the demands. The remissions in Puri were large, Rs. 7995, but the total figure for the division was only Rs. 9,465, against Rs. 19,683 in the preceding year. The unrealized balances fell from Rs. 1,71,966 to Rs 59,665, and afford some indication both of the restored prosperity of the division and also of greater efficiency in the collecting establishment. The collections in Khurda are stated to have been unprecedentedly good, but bad in Angul, though the report indicates a possibility that that arrear may be unreal, and owing to the inclusion of a kist which does not fall due within the year. If so, the demand statement should be corrected. Including these two large estates, there were 36 estates under direct management with a total demand of Rs. 4,91,949. Of this only 89 per cent. was collected—a rate which does not reach the standard that should be attained. The collections of the Road and Public Works Cesses were similarly inadequate. The canal rates were again collected very insufficiently. The following figures speak for themselves. Of a total demand of Rs. 5,40,049 (viz., current Rs. 3,31,190 and arrear Rs. 2,08,859) only Rs. 2,49,344 were collected, while Rs. 34,070 were remitted and a balance of Rs. 2,56,635 left outstanding. This state of affairs is discreditable: it has already attracted Government attention in the Irrigation Department, and it is hoped that no long time will elapse before the adoption of measures to effect a remedy.

Miscellaneous revenue.

8. The excise collections, with various fluctuations, show almost an equilibrium in the total realizations, the net increase being only Rs. 112. The substitution of distilleries for outstills caused an increase in the revenue from country spirits in Cuttack, but a decline in Puri. The anomaly is explained by the superior facilities of the Cuttack district for water-carriage. The stamp revenue receipts decreased by Rs. 330, while the charges increased by Rs. 532. The fluctuations in this revenue depend upon different causes, which act upon each other. But there can be no question that the gross charges should not rise with a diminished revenue. For income-tax a larger number of persons were assessed and to a higher amount than in 1889-90, but the amount of actual collections is not recorded. The development of the system of ordinary and revenue money-orders and Savings Banks deposits, and of the currency note circulation, testifies to the gradual awakening of the province from its former lethargic condition.

The Puri Lodging-house Act.

9. The importance of maintaining a proper system of conservancy on the main line and places of pilgrimage is admitted by Government. The following quotation from the Commissioner's report shows the action now being taken:—

"The Puri Lodging-house Act was in force during the year under report in the towns of Puri and Chandbally. It was also extended during the year to all the chutties along the Grand Trunk Road in all the three districts of the division. In Cuttack nothing was done during the year beyond the preparation of lists of houses and the number of persons each house could accommodate. The management of these lodging-houses is under the control of the Magistrate assisted by the Health Officer, and the establishment charges are paid from the Jagannath Road Fund The lodging-house keepers did not at first come forward for licenses, thinking that the rate payable per head under section 8 would, if they held out, be fixed at 3 pice as in Puri; but finding that the Magistrate was determined to adopt the 4 annas rate, as in Balasore, they have since begun to apply for licenses. In Puri, since the appointment of the Health Officer in March 1891, the licensing work has been vigorously pushed forward. A nominal rate of one pice per lodger has been fixed to begin with. The District Board granted an annual contribution of Rs. 2,000 towards the maintenance of a system of conservancy on the line of road."

There is now licensed accommodation in Puri for more than 16,700 pilgrims, the receipts of the Lodging-house Fund amounting to Rs. 12,126 a year.

Education.

10. The statistics of education show some recovery as compared with the numbers of the preceding year, as exhibited in the following table:—

			Schools.	Pupils.
1888-89	...	...	8,421	125,786
1889-90	..	...	8,073	115,786
1890-91	...	...	8,562	122,846

This gain was achieved under both the heads of public and private institutions, and almost entirely in the primary and elementary schools. Of the boys of school-going age, only about 44 per cent. are at school, and 2 per cent. of the girls. This is not a satisfactory account of female education, and it appears also that the number of special girls' schools has fallen from 105 to 93. A better report of Mahomedan education is given than elsewhere, as it is said that the percentage of boys of that religion at school is always higher than the proportion among Hindus. No special measure was adopted during the year by the District Boards for the encouragement of education among the aboriginal and low caste population, but the number of institutions of indigenous education not conforming to the departmental standards of instruction increased from 955 to 1,107. The Lieutenant-Governor would have been glad to have had a fuller account of the work done by the Normal, Medical, and Surveying schools in Cuttack.

Dispensaries.

11. Mr. Stevenson has rightly drawn attention to the fact that the number of dispensaries is very small, considering the population, and it is hoped that the District Board will be able to open a larger number. There are six in the Cuttack district, five in Balasore, and five in Puri. Considering the enormous influx of pilgrims into these districts at all times of the year, especially at the most unhealthy time, and the large amount of sickness and death which is the result of pilgrimage, this number of dispensaries must be condemned as wholly insufficient.

Local self-government.

12. The attendance at the meetings of the District Boards and Municipalities is somewhat better, but there is still room for much improvement; and it is to be feared that, besides attendance at the meetings, very little real work is done by the members. There seems to be no attempt made to divide the districts or the towns into areas, for which each member should be regarded as the representative and should be required to possess local knowledge and specially bring forward its wants. It is something that in most cases the committees are considered to have worked harmoniously, but in Balasore, though individuals "show interest and devotion to their work, the good effect of local self-government is generally much marred in this district by rancorous party-spirit." Again, the "selection of Chairman and Vice-Chairman was productive of much unseemly friction." The Commissioner will be requested to give his attention to this state of feeling in Balasore. The reported inability of the Puri Municipal Commissioners to do justice to the pilgrim population also appears to require a remedy, if they cannot be induced to understand their responsibilities.

13. On the subject of the conduct of zemindars, the Commissioner writes as follows:—

Conduct of zemindars.

"In Balasore, Raja Baikanta Nath Dey Bahadur again took the lead in matters of public interest, and rendered much assistance to the district officer in his capacity of an Honorary Magistrate. By the death of Rai Nimai Charan Bose Bahadur, of Bhadrak, the district has lost one of its ablest and most enlightened zemindars. Babu Govind Ballav Roy Mahashoy, of Kawpore, is reported to have been conspicuous for his public spirit and for his friendly relations with his tenants.

The Raja of Parikud continues to be the only Puri zemindar who is at all conspicuous for public spirit and good work.

In Cuttack none of the zemindars, except Raja Baidya Nath Pandit, deserves special mention Their conduct to, and their relations with, their ryots were generally satisfactory."

14. Mr. Worsley's careful and thorough administration of the division was facilitated by the general recovery of prosperity, but deserves nevertheless the thanks of Government. Mr. Stevenson, Mr. Duke, Mr. Allen, and Mr. Cornish, who held charge of the three districts during the year, are favourably mentioned by the Commissioner and entitled to the acknowledgments of the Lieutenant-Governor.

By order of the Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal,

C. E. BUCKLAND,

Offg. Secretary to the Govt. of Bengal.

* The discrepancy between these figures and the figures in the corresponding statement in the report for 1889-90 is due to the receipt of revised figures from the Commissioner of Salt Revenue, Madras.

† The discrepancy between these figures and the figures in the corresponding statement in the report for 1889-90 is due to the exclusion of miscellaneous receipts realized in Orissa.

2. The results of the year under review, as compared with the previous year, show an increase of Rs. 6,07,940, or 2·6 per cent. in the receipts, and a decrease of Rs. 2,429, or 6 per cent. in the charges. The net revenue realized is larger than that of any year since 1881-82. This development of revenue, which extends to all heads of receipt except miscellaneous, occurred in spite of an increase of 66,224 maunds in the importation of duty-paid salt from Bombay, which, if charged with duty in Calcutta, would have raised the revenue to a still higher figure. The advance in import duty, which makes up all but a small fraction of the receipts, is attributed by the Board to a rate of exchange more favourable to importers, and to the fall in the prices of Liverpool and other descriptions of salt. The revenue from excise salt shows an improvement on that of the year 1889-90, but is less than that of any of the preceding years. The increase as compared with 1889-90 is due to shorter shipments of salt from Ganjam causing a larger demand for locally manufactured salt in Orissa. The proceeds of the rent of warehouses show an increase of Rs. 3,445, although the quantity of salt bonded declined from 38,67,312 maunds in 1889-90 to 29,99,281 maunds in the past year. Notwithstanding the decline in the quantity bonded, those merchants who availed themselves of the golahs kept their salt there for a much longer period than formerly, owing to the reduction of charges and the facilities afforded by the construction of the shunting line connecting the golahs with the Howrah Railway terminus. The landing of salt at the golahs, and its conveyance therefrom to the boats, will be further facilitated when the pontoons under construction in front of the golahs have been completed. The decrease in charges occurred chiefly under the head of refund of customs duty.

3. The total quantity of salt in stock at the commencement of the year was 25,99,327 maunds, comprising 24,65,466 maunds of imported salt and 1,33,861 maunds of excise salt During the year 97,62,835 maunds were imported by sea into Calcutta and Chittagong, and 62,770 maunds were manufactured, against 1,00,72,857 and 70,293 maunds in the previous year. The decline in imports, which was due mainly to the unusually large stock in hand at the beginning of the year, affected chiefly the importations from the United Kingdom, the Arabian and Persian Gulfs, and Madras. The receipts from Hamburg, Bombay, and Aden, on the other hand, show an improvement over those of the previous year. The trade with Madras is greatly impeded by difficulties of transport, for the British India steamers do not carry salt in bulk, and the shippers have to provide bags and give the buyers an allowance for wastage. The statement in the margin shows that Liverpool salt is beginning to give way to the cheap crushed salt introduced from Hamburg, Aden, and the Sulkea Salt Golahs, where machines have been erected to crush kurkutch salt. This crushed salt is reported by the Collector of Customs to be of excellent quality and of good colour, but in competing with Liverpool salt it labours under a serious difficulty by reason of its comparatively lesser bulk. The point is thus explained in a graphic and interesting passage of Mr. Armstrong's report:—

QUANTITIES OF LIVERPOOL PUNGAH AND CRUSHED SALT RESPECTIVELY THAT HAVE PASSED INTO CONSUMPTION.

	Liverpool.	Hamburg.	Aden crushed.	Golah crushed.
	Mds.	Mds.	Mds.	Mds.
1888-89	73,76,095	1,08,441	...	16,200
1889-90	66,52,980	5,25,640	...	1,02,602
1890-91	61,87,206	7,41,991	28,163

"Salt is brought wholesale by weight, but I believe I am right in saying that the general practice in the parts supplied from Calcutta is to retail it by measure, usually by the handful. Liverpool salt does not pack so close as crushed kurkutch; its grain is looser and less compressible, so that 1 cubic foot of Liverpool salt = 29 seers, while 1 cubic foot of crushed Hamburg salt = 32⅝ seers, and 1 cubic foot of crushed kurkutch = 33¼ seers. To give equal weight, which is what the retail seller has to think of, he must therefore give a smaller handful of crushed salt for the money than he has been in the habit of giving of Liverpool, and the buyer, who is accustomed to the larger handful, and has not grasped the fact that the smaller one contains just as much salt, haggles over the bargain. If to get over this the same sized handful is given, then, for it to pay the seller, the crushed salt must be much the cheaper of the two, and it is, and this has given it a start.

"The trouble over the difference of bulk does not stop with the retail buyer and seller. When the buyer gets home he gives the salt to his wife or servants, as the case may be, to cook with. This worthy woman has been in the habit of salting the food to a nicety, measuring the salt in her fingers, but until she has learned the mystery of the difference in bulk, when she first uses crushed salt she inevitably puts in an overdose. I am seriously informed that at its introduction this new salt has been a fruitful source of domestic heartburnings, which is very likely to be the case. To an Indian householder sitting down to his simple meal it must be even more irritating to find it spoiled by oversalting than to us to find the soup has been overdosed, for he has no other courses at hand to fill up the gap. I cannot help thinking, however, that with time and patience these difficulties will disappear: the retail buyers and their housewives will learn by experience, as they are learning that a quantity of the crushed salt, smaller by measure, weighs just as much and goes just as far as a quantity, larger by measure, of the Liverpool salt. If I am correct in this surmise, and the crushed salt succeeds in achieving a really large market, then it can hardly be doubtful that Liverpool salt will gradually disappear. It commenced coming here, I believe, about 1850, to take the place of the salt which used to be manufactured in these provinces, and was also pungah or boiled salt; it was introduced gradually and not without difficulties, and it will have to give way to a cheaper substitute."

4. Duty was paid on 63,52,683 maunds of salt cleared from shipboard at Calcutta and Chittagong, as against 58,14,763 maunds in 1889-90, these clearances showing an increase of 5,03,193 maunds, or 8·7 per cent, in Calcutta, and of 34,682 maunds, or 115·7 per cent, in Chittagong. The two ports together give an increase of 5,37,875 maunds in the quantity cleared, and of Rs. 12,75,601 in the duty realised. The increase in the clearances from shipboard has been somewhat counterbalanced by smaller clearances from bond, which amounted to only 29,76,436 maunds against 32,64,318 maunds in 1889-90. The decrease is shared by the ports of Calcutta and Chittagong, while there was an increase of 81,773 maunds in the clearance of salt at Naraingunge, which is due to the steady development of that place as a port for the salt trade.

5. Including all classes of salt cleared during the year, the total amount which passed into consumption was 98,36,645 maunds as compared with 95,45,652 maunds in 1889-90. Of these 98,36,645 maunds thus available for consumption, 13,34,454 maunds were exported to Assam, Upper India and across the frontier, against 12,66,297 maunds similarly exported in the preceding year. From this quantity, however, must be deducted 3,97,989 maunds imported from Upper India and Madras, so that the net exports may be stated at 9,36,465 maunds, and the balance of salt remaining for consumption in Bengal at 89,00,180 maunds. The salt which is taken out from Calcutta for consumption in the saliferous tracts bordering on the sea coast is covered by special rowannahs; and the Board have been able to utilize these figures to compile the following table showing the consumption of salt in the saliferous and non-saliferous tracts in Bengal during the years 1889-90 and 1890-91, calculated on the population recorded in 1881. The subject is not free from difficulty, and is complicated by the imperfection of the statistical data available:—

	Quantity consumed in 1889-90.	Quantity consumed in 1890-91.	Population.	Consumption per head of population in 1889-90	Consumption per head of population in 1890-91.
	Mds.	Mds.		lbs. oz. dr.	lbs. oz. dr.
Saliferous tracts	7,13,117	7,55,314	5,200,.31	11 4 2	11 14 15
Non-saliferous tracts	80,83,731	81,44,966	64,536,630	10 5 1	10 6 12
Total Bengal ...	87,96,848	89,09,180	69,536,861	10 6 4	10 8 5

The total ascertained in the recent Census gives 9lbs 13½ oz. as the average consumption of salt for the whole of Bengal; but the compilation of the Census returns is not yet sufficiently advanced to make it possible to distinguish between saliferous and non-saliferous tracts. The normal consumption of salt per head is given by European authorities at 17·20lbs—a figure which is not far removed from the 17·80lbs stated to represent the average consumption of the Madras Presidency in 1888-89, excluding certain districts in which the statistics cannot be relied on. Sir John Strachey, however, in his work on the Finances and Public Works of India, estimates the average annual consumption at 12lbs per head, and the following statistics seem to show that the amount of salt consumed varies greatly in different parts of the country, according to the habits of the people and their standard of living:—

	1886-87.	1887-88.	1888-89.	1889-90.	1890-91.
Area under Northern India Salt Department	9·37	8·60	8·50	8·59	...
Area under Bombay Salt Department ...	10·54	11·59	10·96	...	...
Trans-Indus Territories of Punjab ...	...	19·67	23 38	20·86	...
Orissa and Tributary Mehals ...	11·59	11 36	10·26	11·20	10·42
Madras Presidency	16·28	16 57	17·80	16·84	...

In the prosperous districts of Bengal Proper, where the staple food of the people is rice, the consumption is believed to be not less than 12lbs per head; in Behar it is about 9lbs; in Chota Nagpore probably somewhat less; in Orissa, including the Tributary States, it usually exceeds 11lbs. According to the Board's statement, quoted above, the consumption per head in the salt-producing tracts along the coast is higher than in the non-saliferous districts of the interior; but this comparison must not be pressed too closely, for the figures cannot pretend to any exactitude in representing the amount actually consumed in the non-saliferous area, and the results of personal inspections made by the Lieutenant-Governor on tour lead him to doubt whether the fact that salt was despatched under rowannahs into the saliferous tracts can be taken as proof positive that it was eventually consumed within those tracts.

6. The supply of salt to the Bengal districts is distributed chiefly from the ports of Calcutta and Chittagong. Orissa gets its supply by local manufacture and by importation from Ganjam and Calcutta. In the Behar districts salt is obtained partly from the North-Western Provinces, while in Chittagong a small quantity of salt is clandestinely brought in from Arracan, where the rate of duty is only Re. 1 per maund. The following table shows the salt trade of Bengal with other places in India:—

The net export increased in 1890-91, because the high price of Liverpool salt in the preceding year had reduced it to an abnormal degree; but on the whole the improvement of railway communication and the lowering of freights are enabling the Rajputana and Punjab salts to compete more successfully with Liverpool and other imported salts, and to drive their limit of consumption nearer to the sea. The result is a subject for congratulation, since salt is an article which India ought to manufacture for itself, and not to import.

7. Statements A and B appended to the Board's report show the wholesale price of salt at monthly periods in the bazars of district head-quarters and at fortnightly periods in certain selected marts. As might be expected, the prices in Calcutta are the lowest, and those in the outlying districts of Rungpore, Darjeeling, Purneah, and Singbhoom are the highest. The price of Liverpool salt, which was artificially raised in 1889-90 by the action of the Cheshire Salt Syndicate, fell off considerably during the past year. The average wholesale price of Liverpool salt per 100 maunds as sold from the ship's side in the port of Calcutta, exclusive of duty, was Rs. 77-12-9 against Rs. 94-6-11½ in 1889-90. Including duty, but excluding transit and other incidental charges, the cost-price, in the past year, of 100 maunds of Liverpool salt taken from Calcutta was Rs. 327-12-9. The statement given in the margin shows the average prices of salt exclusive of duty at the Orissa factories during the year under review, as well as in the previous year. It appears that salt could be made at Tua at a cost of 6 annas 4 pies per maund, or Rs. 40 per 100 maunds; yet, as a matter of fact, Liverpool salt which was sold from ship's side, exclusive of duty, at Rs. 78 per 100 maunds, and carried from Calcutta to Cuttack, could be sold there at the average price of Rs. 3-12 a maund to compete successfully with local produce, which was available for about Rs. 3 a maund. This anomalous result is said to be due to the preference of people for Liverpool salt. Although this may be the case for the present, there is no doubt that Liverpool salt will not be able to hold its ground permanently against the cheaper salts of country manufacture.

8. The total number of seizures of contraband salt decreased from 977 in 1889-90 to 715 in the past year. In Midnapore, however, the number rose from 109 to 196, but the quantity of salt attached fell from 35 maunds to 24 maunds. The proportion of seizures to unsuccessful searches in Midnapore shows a decided improvement over that of last year. The number of cases of illicit manufacture rose from 213 in 1889-90 to 238 during the year under review: of the 238 persons put on trial, 209 were convicted. The increase in the number of seizures and convictions is attributed to the better supervision of the police. In the 24-Pergunnahs the number of seizures was 216 against 239 in the previous year, and the quantity of salt attached was 41-14-6 maunds against 589-19-4 maunds in the previous year. There was not a single case of unsuccessful search in this district. The proportion of seizures to unsuccessful searches in Backergunge was 38 to 14. The result, though better than that of 1889-90, when the number of unsuccessful searches exceeded the number of seizures, is still very unsatisfactory. In Balasore the proportion of seizures to unsuccessful searches was 185 to 71. Having regard to the fact that an additional preventive establishment has been sanctioned for the suppression of the smuggling of salt in the district, a larger proportion of successful searches might have been expected. The number of cases instituted for offences against the Salt Laws was 987 against 1,490 in 1889-90. The number of persons apprehended also decreased from 1,529 to 1,008. The amounts realized as fines and disbursed as rewards were Rs. 7,995 and Rs. 5,873 against Rs. 11,339 and Rs. 7,499 respectively in the previous year.

9. The number of cases for offences against the Salt Laws in Orissa decreased from 4,189 to 2,087, and of persons infringing the laws from 1,041 to 397. The Commissioner of Salt Revenue, Madras, attributes this to the defective state of the law and to the orders of the Government of Bengal not to interfere with trivial cases of manufacture for domestic consumption. The Board, however, do not share the Commissioner's view, and are of opinion that the decrease was not unsatisfactory from one point of view, as it would indicate that there was less of harassment and annoyance to the people. It is noticed by the Board that eight infirm persons, women and children were apprehended, and that 96 persons were apprehended for possessing less than one seer of contraband salt or less than five seers of salt earth, against 28 and 153 in the previous year. They were all released, it is stated, by the Salt Department, after giving a warning to the persons implicated. Under these circumstances, the Board are quite right in deprecating indiscriminate arrests of persons transgressing salt laws and rules.

10. Since 1886 the officers of the Madras Salt Department have been employed in Orissa, but the formal transfer of the salt operations in Orissa was not effected before February 1888. Formerly two species of salt were made in Orissa, viz. pungah or salt manufactured by boiling, and kurkutch, or salt manufactured by solar evaporation; but on the introduction of the change of administration, the rowannah system was abolished and the manufacture of pungah salt, being difficult of supervision and dangerous to the revenue, was absolutely prohibited, and licensed kurkutch factories sanctioned in its stead An important change in administration was effected during the year under review. It having been represented that the excise licensees at Tua on the edge of the Chilka Lake worked very irregularly, and that the employment of the Molanghis, who were previously engaged in the pungah manufacture, was consequently very uncertain, a Government salt factory at Tua was established in January 1891, in the interests of the ryots who want employment, as well as of the general public who want cheap salt. The opening of another factory at Sartha in the district of Balasore was sanctioned at the same time, as an experimental measure, in order to settle the question of the feasibility of kurkutch manufacture in that district. The system of direct manufacture was started late in the year and under difficulties, and its immediate results are still uncertain, but there is no doubt that the measure is right and will succeed in the long run. In the season of 1890 six licenses for the manufacture of salt were taken out against five licenses issued in the preceding season. All the licensees are local men and not Madras capitalists, as has been alleged by opponents of the system introduced in 1888, but the result of the past two seasons shows that they are not making an earnest endeavour to secure a large outturn. The receipts of the Salt Department in Orissa increased from Rs. 2,01,661 in 1889-90 to Rs. 3,22,262 in the year under review, the proceeds of the duty on excise salt being Rs. 1,98,310 in the former case and Rs. 3,21,044 in the latter. The expenditure at the same time rose from Rs. 1,07,294 to Rs. 1,09,932. The percentage of charges during the years 1889-90 and 1890-91 amounted to 53·2 and 34·1 per cent. respectively of the total revenue collected. The ratio is too high, and must be reduced as soon as manufacture is well established and the old licensees abandon their hostile attitude.

11. The following table shows the despatches of salt from Calcutta into the interior by the different water-routes and railways during the past two years as registered at the salt stations and railway termini:—

Year.	Vid Bali Khal.	Vid Sankrail.	Vid Gewankhally.	Vid Kidderpore.	Vid Ballaghatta.	Total carried by water.	By the East Indian Railway.	By the Eastern Bengal and Calcutta and South-Eastern Railways or vid Hijlpore.	Vid Bathtollaghát.	Total carried by rail.	Grand Total.

It appears that there was a net decrease of 2,22,588 maunds in the quantity of salt conveyed by water, and of 22,374 maunds in the despatches by rail. This may possibly be due to the fact that the statement does not show the amount of salt taken to Orissa and the interior of the country both eastward and westward by steamers and flats which are not stopped at the salt pass stations. It is stated by the Board that the practice of exporting salt by steamer is gaining in popularity owing to its cheapness and the facilities it offers for loading and unloading. The despatches of salt from Calcutta were probably also affected to some extent by the fact that the clearances from bond and ship-board at Chittagong for that district and Noakhally, Tipperah and Naraingunge show a net increase of 75,353 maunds. The figures given in the report offer no data for calculating the consumption of salt in Calcutta itself, and the area with the circle of salt stations immediately round the city.

12. Since the extension of the Indian Salt Act to Calcutta and its Suburbs, the untaxed consumption of puckwa or salt educed in the manufacture and refinement of saltpetre, and the adulteration of common salt with it, have suffered a check. The importation of the article into Calcutta and its Suburbs has been prohibited.

13. Mr. Kilby's scales for the weighment of salt have been exclusively in use in the port of Calcutta since July 1890. The Collector reports that the working of these scales has been completely satisfactory. The usefulness of the scales having been established in Calcutta, they were introduced into the port of Chittagong during the year. The system of weighment of salt by licensed weighmen has been in force in Calcutta throughout the year, and is said to have worked satisfactorily.

14. No explanation is given in the Board's report of the increase in the Provincial expenditure on salaries, establishments and contingencies, from Rs. 46,521 to Rs. 68,269. Such an explanation should be given in future reports, and a tabular statement should be appended showing the details of the charges, as nothing requires more careful watching than the insidious growth of expenditure on establishments. It is possible, however, that most of the increase may be due to the purchase of Mr. Kilby's scales.

15. The favourable notice recorded of Mr. Kilby's services as Superintendent of the Sulkea Salt Golahs will be communicated to the Appointment Department.

* Mean of 6 days.

Explanation.—Summary.—The normal means of air pressure and temperature are the arithmetical average or means of the reading during the same period for the last ten years. The Humidity of the atmosphere is expressed at percentage, saturated air being presented by 100. A clear sky is denoted by 0 and an overcast sky by 10. The numbers given are the numerical means or average of the rainfall in that district determined from the returns sent in by the sub-divisional station for the period in question during the past stations in the district sending in returns divided by the number of stations. A rainy day is one on which at least a tenth of an inch fell.

for the week ending Saturday, the 10th of October 1891.

Explanation.—.....indicate that no rain has fallen. If the return for any day has not been received, the corresponding space is left blank. If any of the returns are wanting, the corresponding spaces in the total rainfall columns are left blank. With reference to the column of rainy days, the definition of a rainy day is when at least 0·1 inch of rain has fallen.

CALCUTTA, the 13th October 1891.

SUMMARY OF THE METEOROLOGICAL AND RAINFALL OBSERVATIONS TAKEN IN BENGAL, AND OF THE METEOROLOGICAL OBSERVATIONS TAKEN IN ASSAM, FOR THE WEEK ENDING SATURDAY, THE 10TH OF OCTOBER 1891.

DURING the first two days of the week the disturbed conditions, which followed the filling up of the depression mentioned in the reports of the two previous weeks, prevailed in Bengal, and gradually passed off towards the east. General rain fell, especially in the northern and central districts, and temperature, owing to this general rainfall, was below the normal by about 2° in Behar and more than 6° at Rungpore and Dinagepore. Pressure was everywhere above the normal, and the rise, which set in, commenced in the west of Behar on the 4th, the first day of the present week, and gradually spread over the province, brought excess up to a tenth of an inch, and altogether altered the distribution. At first highest pressure was in the south of the Bay and lowest in Behar and North Bengal, but on the 5th the distribution was more uniform, and on the 6th the readings at Dehree and Hazaribagh were higher than at any of the stations in Bengal or on the coast. The wind circulation altered with the baric gradients and from being in the ordinary monsoon directions at the beginning of the week, by the 7th light westerly winds were blowing in Behar and northerly winds in Lower Bengal. Rainfall was very scattered on the 5th, being confined chiefly to the eastern districts, and had almost entirely ceased on the 6th Temperature then began to rise, and on the 6th there was defect at eastern stations only. Thus by the 6th settled conditions prevailed over the whole province, skies were almost cloudless, and rain had practically ceased to fall The distribution of pressure which then obtained continued till the end of the week, and wind directions were west or north-west in the western half of the province and north or north-east in East and South-West Bengal. Pressure at times was relatively low in North Bengal and the east of Assam, causing south-westerly winds in parts of these districts, but owing to the uniformity of the pressure distribution very light, and at times variable, winds prevailed in all the northern districts. The most important change of the latter part of the week was the steady fall of humidity and till the 9th of temperature, comparatively cool dry weather prevailing, especially in Behar and North Bengal.

Pressure has been everywhere above the normal throughout the week, at first by about ·05″, except in the extreme east, where excess was about ·1″. A brisk rise prevailed on the 5th, and excess then became more than ·1″ in the north of the Bay and over the province, except close to the foot of the hills, where, however, it was just under that amount. Small irregular changes followed on the 6th, and a slow fall set in on the 7th, continuing on the 8th, after which there was a general slow rise till the end of the week. Means are largely above the normal at all stations except Darjeeling and Sibsagar, where excess is ·03″. Elsewhere the difference from the normal is about ·08″, but at a few scattered stations slightly exceeds ·1″.

Temperature has been generally below the normal, especially in the northern districts, at first because of the general rainfall, and later owing to the establishment of cold weather conditions with westerly or northerly winds over the greater part of the province. Defect averaged 2° in Behar on the 4th and was large at some of the stations in the centre of North Bengal. On the 5th low temperatures prevailed only in North Bengal, East Bengal, and Assam, and on the 6th at the extreme eastern stations only. On the 7th temperature again began to fall in the nothern districts, the change becoming general over the province on the 8th and averaging 2° in Behar. On the 9th the fall was generally between 1° and 2°, and defect was between 3° and 4° in North Behar and part of North Bengal; but on the 10th the fall was not so general, and was more than 1° at scattered stations only. The means for the large divisions are generally below the normal. Defect is 2° in North Behar, 1·7° in Assam, 1·1° in North Bengal. 9° in East Bengal, and 8° in South Behar. There is a small excess in Orissa and Chutia Nagpur, and the mean for Orissa is normal Rainfall—Fairly general rain fell on the first day of the week in all districts, except Orissa and North Bengal, and numerous showers, very variable in amount, in the eastern districts on the following day, the heavy falls on the latter being in the north of South-West Bengal and in the Pubna, Bogra, Rajshahye, and Rungpore districts of North Bengal. After the 5th rain almost ceased, scattered showers only being received in Chutia Nagpur, South-West Bengal and North Bengal. The heaviest falls on the 4th were Rungpore 5·15 inches Serajgunge 3·45 inches, Netrokona and Ulipore 3 inches, Durgapore. Gajol, Sibganj, and Bhawanigunge more than 2 inches. On the 5th Joydebpore received 4·8 inches; Ramchandrapore, Kishoregunge, Magoora, and Mymensingh between 2 and 3 inches; and Nowkhilla and Jhenidah 1·5 inches. The mean fall for Chutia Nagpur is ·1 inch, Orissa ·15 inch, North Behar ·05 inch, South-West Bengal ·47 inch, South Behar ·7 inch, East and North Bengal 1·14 inches. There is a small excess in North Bengal, but defect is large in all the other districts, varying from ·33 inch in South Behar to 1·51 inches in Orissa.

The following table gives the summary of the temperature and rainfall data of each of the seven meteorological divisions of the province for the week ending Saturday, the 10th of October 1891 :—

The results of observations at the Alipore Observatory are not rigorously comparable with the registers of past years (at the Park Street Observatory). The barometer is about 3 feet higher at Alipore, and, other things being equal, reads therefore ·003 lower. The diurnal range of temperature is also greater at Alipore, and the mean temperature apparently equal; and finally, the thermometer which furnished the record of temperature at the Surveyor-General's Office during 20 years and upwards is found to read 0·6 higher than the Kew standard thermometer, which is the standard of reference at the present Observatory.

The mean pressure, temperature, &c., are deduced from the traces of the Barograph and Thermograph, and from observations made at 6h, 10h, 16h, and 22h.

The maximum and minimum temperatures are obtained from self-registering thermometers. All the thermometers are verified, and the readings have been corrected to a standard constructed and verified at the Kew Observatory. They are exposed under a thatched shed open at the sides, and are suspended four feet above the ground.

The barometer readings are corrected approximately to those of the standard, Newman's No. 86, formerly at the Surveyor-General's Office.

The hygrometric elements are obtained from Tables III, IV, and V of the official tables computed in the Meteorological Office, and based on Regnault's modifications of August's formula.

The directions and the movement of the wind are taken from the trace of a Beckley's anemograph.

The mouth of the rain-gauge is one foot above the ground.

REVISED ADVERTISEMENT.

BY DR. GEO. WATT, C.I.E.

Reporter on Economic Products.

Published under the authority of the Government of India in the Revenue and Agricultural Department.

The first five volumes of this work are now ready for issue, and intending subscribers are invited to register their names with the Superintendent of Government Printing, Calcutta.

The Dictionary is intended to deal with the products of India—animal, vegetable, and mineral; each product being treated after a uniform plan, the paragraphs of which give the scientific, vernacular, and European names; habitat of source; history; properties and uses (both chemical and industrial); trade statistics; markets; &c. The work is arranged alphabetically according to scientific nomenclature, but commercial and important vernacular names are also given as cross references, so that little difficulty need be experienced in finding the account of a product even when its scientific name is unknown to the reader.

An important feature of the Dictionary consists in the fact that derived information is in every instance given under quotation marks, and with a reference to the original publication. Numerous contributors have, however, furnished the results of new discoveries and confirmed the vernacular names, so that the Dictionary is not only a complete compilation of published information, but has been brought abreast of the most recent inventions and discoveries.

Volume I contains the letters A and B, and consists of 550 royal octavo pages; Vol. II embraces the letter C in 689 pages; Vol. III contains the letters D, E, F and half of G. Vol. IV latter half of G to middle of L; and Vol. V contains the latter half of L to end of "O." The whole work will, it is expected, be completed in seven volumes during the current year; but an eighth volume may also be issued consisting of an Index to all the vernacular and other names contained in the Dictionary. The Index will practically be a Glossary of the vernacular and European names of the plants, animals and minerals of India, and as such will be a work of reference, which, it is hoped, may prove of considerable value.

The price to subscribers will be in India Rs. 30 and in England 2 guineas, payable in advance, for the complete set (exclusive of the Index for which a separate charge will be made).

For copies bound in half calf or half morocco, Rs. 6 and 8 shillings respectively will be charged extra for the whole sets.

No copies will be issued to non-subscribers till the work is complete, and no single volume will be sold separately. The price to non-subscribers will be Rs. 45 in India and 3 guineas in England. The period of registration of subscribers' names will expire on the 1st October.

RESOLUTION ON THE REPORT OF THE COMMITTEE FOR THE MANAGEMENT OF THE CALCUTTA ZOOLOGICAL GARDENS FOR THE YEAR 1890-91.

REVENUE DEPARTMENT—MISCELLANEOUS (F).

RESOLUTION No. 558T—R.

READ—

The Report of the Honorary Committee for the Management of the Calcutta Zoological Gardens for the year 1890-91.

The Lieutenant-Governor is glad to observe in the report now submitted a decided improvement in the financial position of the gardens as compared with the previous year, the total receipts having amounted to Rs. 42,960 as against Rs. 37,630, while the expenditure decreased from Rs. 46,285 to Rs.35,330. The result was an increase in the closing balance at the credit of the Society from Rs. 2,624 to Rs. 7,620. The increased receipts were chiefly due to a larger number of visitors owing to the bathing ceremony in connection with the Ardhodya Yoga and to an unexplained rise in the rents realised from Rs 1,355 in the previous year to Rs. 2,305. The reduction in expenditure under the heads of repairs and construction alone amounted to over Rs. 10,000.

2. The number of visitors who were admitted to the gardens amounted to 136,410, exclusive of a considerable number of students and children admitted free of charge. This shows an increase of 26,841 as against the previous year, the chief cause of which has been explained above.

3. Altogether 227 additions were made to the collections (viz. 124 birds, 85 mammals, and 18 reptiles), of which 18 were born in the gardens, and the rest obtained either by presentation or by purchase or exchange. Among the more important acquisitions were a Greater Bird of Paradise presented by His Highness the Maharaja of Doomraon, a pair of Ursine Dasyure from Melbourne, a Hairy Tapir from Columbia, and a trans-Indus Markhoor from the Political Officer at Khyber. This last animal was sent to the Zoological Society's Gardens in London, as the climate of Bengal was not likely to suit it.

4. The thanks of the Lieutenant-Governor are due to the Committee of Management and to their Honorary Secretary, Dr. D. D. Cunningham, for the labour which they have bestowed on the management of the gardens during the year.

By order of the Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal,

C. E. BUCKLAND,

Offg. Secretary to the Govt. of Bengal.

RESOLUTION ON THE REPORT OF THE BOARD OF REVENUE ON WARDS' AND ATTACHED ESTATES IN THE LOWER PROVINCES FOR THE YEAR 1890-91.

REVENUE DEPARTMENT—LAND REVENUE.

RESOLUTION No. 724 T.R.

READ—

The Report of the Board of Revenue on Wards' and Attached Estates in the Lower Provinces for the year 1890-91.

Preliminary.

The Board's report, due on the 31st August, was issued from the press on that date, and such punctuality deserves favourable notice. The Commissioners' reports, due to the Board on 1st July, were all received by the 7th July, except two; that for Rajshahye was not received by the Board till the 10th July, that for Orissa on the 14th idem, and the supplementary report for the Burdwan Raj Estate, due on the 10th July, not until the 18th. His Honour trusts that such delays as are noticed in these three cases will not occur again. So far as they are caused by dilatoriness in the managers' offices, they reflect unfavourably on the management. Sir Charles Elliott has observed with pleasure the excellence of the form of the Board's report, which follows the plan adopted for the first time in the preparation of the report for 1887-88.

Collections.

2. The number of private estates under the management of the Board has decreased from 157 in 1887-88 to 139 in the year under review. Of the 139, 69 were Wards' estates and 70 were attached, encumbered and trust estates. The arrear demand of the revenue and cesses due to Government amounted to only Rs. 19,816; the current demand was Rs. 52,67,747: of these amounts Rs. 51,84,695 were paid. The Lieutenant-Governor desires that the form contained in the Board's paragraph 4 may be improved by adding a column to show the total demand, sub-dividing the column "Payments" into (a) arrear, and (b) current, and showing in a new column the percentage of current collections on current demand. The balances, Rs. 28,177, were comparatively small, though higher than the previous year. The excuse of want of funds should not be accepted. Nearly half this amount, viz., Rs. 13,401, was due from the Syudpore Trust Estate in Khulna. As the collections amounted to Rs. 1,80,120, and the Government demand is Rs. 1,12,517, it is not understood why the Government revenue was not fully paid within the year. If the money was diverted to the other objects of the Trust Fund, it should be remembered that the Government revenue has the first claim on an estate, and must always be first satisfied. The collections of rent and cesses due to superior landlords exceeded the current demand, and the balances on these accounts were less than last year. Still the amount, Rs. 43,473, is considerable, being over 10 per cent. of the current demand. His Honour does not understand why these balances should appear at all, and why they are not paid into Court, leaving the claimants to settle their own affairs. The important work, however, of the managers of Wards' estates consists in the collections of rent and cesses due to the estates. The figures for the past five years are exhibited in the following statement:—

Year.	Arrear demand.	Current demand.	Collections.	Percentage of collections on current demand.	Remissions.	Balances.
1	2	3	4	5	6	7

(c) excludes, after adjustment, advance collections of Rs. 1,958.
(e) includes advance collections of Rs. 6,632.

The apparently satisfactory ratio of 98 per cent. collected on the current demand conveys an erroneous impression from the fact that this is a comparison of total collections with current demand. There should be a revision of the columns to show the total demand, the percentage of total collections on total demand, and the percentage of current collections on current demand. It is not creditable that the collections of the year should not even equal the current demand, and it is only by extensive remissions that the balances have decreased as they have. The failure to collect properly is most conspicuous in the Patna and Orissa Divisions. The remissions, large as they are, Rs. 7,57,403, might apparently have well been larger, as, of the enormous balances amounting to Rs. 74,24,535, some 16 lakhs of rupees are classified as irrecoverable, 2¾ lakhs doubtful and disputed, over 4 lakhs doubtful but not disputed, and 50 lakhs, i.e., about two-thirds of the total balances, are good and in process of recovery. The Lieutenant-Governor can only repeat what has often been previously said, that every effort should be made to realise such amounts as are likely to be recovered, and the bad debts remitted. It has not been explained why the balances due in the Deo and Dhalbhum estates increased in the course of the year.

Management.

3. The actual cost of management, i.e., including the managers' pay, establishment, travelling allowances, and contingencies, amounted to Rs. 7,36,616, or 7·4 per cent. on the current rent and cess demand of the estates. This is almost the same as the percentage of the previous two years. The total charges, including the amount spent on survey and settlement and the construction and repairs of cutcherry buildings, came to Rs. 8,91,547, or 9·0 per cent. on the same demand. The management charges proper are very high in the Dacca and Bhagulpore Divisions and have increased in Orissa. The survey and settlement charges were reduced, some of the principal operations having been completed. There was a slight excess of the charges of the year over the receipts, and the surplus to the credit of the general management rate stood at the end of the year at Rs. 79,607. The Lieutenant-Governor has submitted to the Government of India proposals for the levy of a proper charge for the supervision of the Court of Wards' affairs, which take up a serious proportion of the time of the higher revenue authorities. A revised set of instructions has been issued with a view to provide for the audits of the accounts of important estates, by the Examiner of Local Accounts and his staff, being made shorter and at more frequent intervals; and steps have been taken to have the monthly audits of all estates carried out regularly and thoroughly.

4. The main financial results of the year in all the estates taken collectively were as follows:—

As the Board rightly remark, the figure shown under "Suspense account" is far too large; and the heading "Other expenses" should be broken up in future, so as to explain the nature of the large outlay debited to it.

There were still debts outstanding to the amount of Rs. 37,16,022 and Government securities and railway debentures were held to the value of Rs. 44,25,722.

5. In paragraphs 54-60 an interesting account is given of what has been done by the Court of Wards to manage and improve seven out of the eight estates which, after having been in its hands for several years, were released from management during 1890-91. The figures given in the report are compiled in the following table, but the same information is not given for all estates, and consequently all the columns cannot be filled up. In future this table should be included in the report, and an account should be given of all improvements which have been effected in the estates during the period they were under the Court's management:—

The Lieutenant-Governor has noticed with dissatisfaction the small amounts spent throughout the surplus estates on survey and settlement, with the exception of Burdwan, Cossimbazar, Srinagar, Maldwar and Dakhin Shahazpore, in which large operations have been or are being undertaken. He would be glad to feel assured that no survey and settlement proceedings are necessary in the other estates mentioned, or in any of the long list in the Appendix to the Board's Report. He regards it as essential to good management in wards' or other private estates, as much as in the case of Government estates, that the rent-roll should be carefully prepared, accessible, and accurately maintained. With regard to improvements, the Lieutenant-Governor considers that much more might have been done in estates not heavily encumbered with debt than was done in the last or in preceding years, without falling into the opposite extreme of making experiments, which are rightly objected to in Rule 22 on page 39 of the Wards' Manual. He is aware that in some estates large sums have been spent under the head of "Maintenance in efficient condition of estates, buildings and other immoveable property;" but having regard to the large cash balances and the Government securities exhibited in the above statement, he is distinctly of opinion that permanent improvements should have been, and should be, effected to a much greater extent. Sir Charles Elliott is glad that the Board have noticed the decrease of expenditure in this respect. There is time during the ensuing cold weather for considerable works to be undertaken if the necessary orders are issued without delay. In the opinion of His Honour the surplus estates ought also to show more expenditure under the heads of "Subscriptions to schools and dispensaries," "Investments" and "Suspense and cash balance," and the deficit estates more under "Debts paid."

The final reports of the operations in the Shankarpur, Churaman and Maldwar estates have since been received, and Government orders have been issued. The Lieutenant-Governor awaits the Board's proposal to commence proceedings in the Talipabad estate; the Jogearah estate may be postponed until the contemplated resumption of the Behar survey is taken in hand. Primâ facie every ward's estate should be brought under survey and settlement, but those which have already accurate records and rent-rolls, or are deeply involved, or likely soon to pass out of the hands of the Court of Wards, may reasonably be excepted. He trusts that the rules for the maintenance of the settlements records which the Board have issued will be duly observed, but he recognises that there is no guarantee, save the good sense of the proprietors, that they will be regarded after the estates have reverted to their management.

Certificate procedure.

8. During the year under report 10,175 certificates were filed, so that, inclusive of those pending from last year, there were 32,142 certificates for disposal. These numbers are the lowest for the last three years, and, as 18,438 were disposed of, the balance has been reduced to 13,704 cases pending. The Board consider that the number disposed of during the year should have been larger, and apparently attribute the delay in dealing with these cases to the inaction of the certificate officers. The Lieutenant-Governor has recently suggested a revision of one of the certificate registers with a view to keeping a closer watch over the disposal of certificate cases when they have reached the certificate officer's hands, but he is inclined to think that in wards' cases the responsibility for watching their progress and realizing the demands as soon as possible should lie on the managers of the estates. He has grave objections to the practice, which he understands that managers sometimes adopt, of filing a large number of certificates which they keep hanging over the heads of defaulters without proceeding with them. He considers that for each estate the returns should show the mode of recovery at each stage, how many notices were successful, how many attachments were required, &c. In fact he would wish the statement furnished by the Board of the operation of the certificate procedure to be considerably enlarged by the addition of such columns as are contained in paragraph 75 of their Report on the Land Revenue Administration for 1890-91.

The question of the applicability of the certificate procedure to demands on account of the Court of Wards is now under consideration, and the answer would appear to turn mainly on the point whether the demands can be ascertained easily and accurately, by reference to records kept with the regularity of public records. The Board's executive rules enjoin due care and discretion in the making of certificates, and declare them to be a suitable method of recovery only of demands of which the debtor was previously cognizant, and which he has neglected to pay in due course. To secure these objects it is essential that the rent rolls of estates should be properly framed and maintained. The Lieutenant-Governor is unable to state the case more clearly than it was put by the Government of India in their review of the Board's Wards' report for 1888-89, in the following words: "It would appear preferable that wherever possible the rents should be realized by ordinary means rather than by recourse to the direct and summary process of the certificate procedure, and that, where there is any uncertainty regarding the rent due, there may be serious difficulties in justifying the issue of certificates at all. If, then, as seems to be the case, the certificate process is essential to a satisfactory management of Wards' estates, another strong argument is supplied for the survey and record of rights, by which means alone perfect safety as to rents can be secured." These weighty remarks express what has already been said in some of the preceding paragraphs of this Resolution.

Condition of the tenantry.

9. The Board's opinion of the condition of the tenantry in the various estates is generally satisfactory and may be quoted as follows:—

"In the Burdwan Division the harvest was generally well up to the average, and the condition of the tenants was good, except in one or two parts of Midnapore, where they are stated to have had short crops for several years. The relations of the ryots with the managing agencies were also satisfactory, save in the Soojamoota estate, where the long-standing dispute with the Burdwan Raj had not been settled. In the Presidency Division the crops were favourable, except in tracts which suffered from the floods due to the breach in the Bhagiruthee embankment. In the Rajshahye Division the tenants on the three estates in Dinagepore were well off. In Rajshahye, Rungpore, and Jalpaiguri, however, much damage was done by floods, and this affected the condition of most of the ryots on the wards' estates. In the Dacca Division the tenants are everywhere prosperous, especially on the Dakhin Shahbazpur estate, where, as previously reported, the Collector thinks that there is not a poor man, and the harvests of the year were good, though probably somewhat less favourable than in the preceding year. The tenants are reported to be refractory in some villages, but with this exception there was no friction. In Chittagong the crops of the year are described as splendid. Few of the tenants are in debt. They sometimes borrow money, but repayment follows just after the harvest is gathered. Every encouragement is given to them to bring new lands under cultivation and to try new crops. In Noakhally also the tenants were prosperous. In the Patna Division the general condition of the tenants was one of average prosperity. In certain estates there were, it is stated, adverse circumstances which affected their condition, and symptoms of a disposition to withhold payment of rent manifested themselves. In Patna the rice crop was good, but both the bhadai and rabi crops suffered, the former from inundation, and the latter from rain and hailstorms in March. The tenantry throughout the district of Gya were in better circumstances than in the previous year, in consequence of more than ordinarily good outturn of the rice crop. In Tikari it is reported that the results of the expenditure on gilandazi or works of irrigation are showing themselves most markedly. Villages which had become almost depopulated are attracting settlers, and uncultivated wastes are giving place to well-irrigated and well-cultivated, richly productive areas. The tenants of the estate in the Chupra district, however, suffered severely from the destructive floods of the year. Collections had to be suspended and some relief has been given. In the Chumparun and Mozufferpore villages of the estate the tenants have shown disinclination to pay fair rents, and have combined with considerable success to prevent realisations under the certificate procedure. Measures have been taken to establish a better state of things in those villages. In Shahabad the condition of the tenants was tolerably good, but in one estate many of the higher castes having sublet their holdings at small profits are badly off, and are said to form a useless body of middlemen whose existence is harmful to the estate and the sub-tenants. In the Bhagulpore Division the condition of the tenants was, on the whole, prosperous. The tenantry in the wards' and encumbered estates of the Chota Nagpore Division generally enjoyed a year of prosperity and contentment, the only exception being in parts of the Lohardugga district. Much friction existed in six estates of that district, owing to the conversion of a large number of tenants to Christianity. In Orissa the condition of the tenantry was good on all estates, except in certain villages of Kanika and Kujang, which were visited by storm-waves causing considerable damage to the crops."

Miscellaneous.

10. The Lieutenant-Governor has noticed the following points of interest in the narratives given in paragraphs 41 to 53 of the estates with a rent-roll of Rs. 50,000 and upwards. In Burdwan the remissions amounted to the enormous sum of Rs. 38,86,501, of which Rs. 3,83,614 only were the principal debt, the remainder representing costs and interest. The entire amount was long since barred by limitation. This is a remarkable instance of the way in which old debts are kept on zemindars' books. The Lieutenant-Governor does not understand why it should have been necessary for so wealthy an estate to take a loan to pay the Government revenue. The difficulties regarding the abwabs in the Tikari estate have several times come before Government. There is apparently nothing to be done until a final legal decision has been obtained. A special investigation has been made of the affairs of this estate, and His Honour joins with the Board in hoping that the orders issued will result in a marked improvement in the collections during the next year; if not, a change of manager might be desirable. The accumulations in the Dighapatia Estate amount now to 15¾ lakhs of rupees and are becoming too large, and some means should be devised for spending at least a portion of them for the permanent advantage of the estate. The Board have ordered Rs. 10,000 to be set aside annually for local improvements; they might well have directed the devotion of a larger sum to this object. In the Cossimbazar estate the rent-balances due to the estate exceeded the current demand, and were hardly reduced during the year; and while a sum of Rs. 1,74,985 was invested in Government securities, only Rs. 3,357 were spent on works of improvement. The Lieutenant-Governor does not object to the Board's rule that a ward should have, on attaining majority, a sufficiently large cash balance to relieve him of any temptation to press hardly upon his ryots or change the Court's system of management; but he shares the feeling which has often been expressed, that large cash balances or investments in Government securities should not be allowed to accumulate in an estate, as they create a great danger and offer a great temptation to the ward on his attaining majority. In the Narhan estate there is little time left for improvements, but anything that can be done should be expedited. Government are aware of the difficulties in the Bhowanipore estate, and observe that the irrecoverable balances are being cleared by extensive remissions. Between 3 or 4 lakhs are still outstanding, which should be scrutinized without delay. The Deo estate has received from Government a loan of four lakhs of rupees, by which, together with the sale of certain villages, the debt to the Maharaja of Darbhanga, its chief creditor, has been satisfied, and there will now be little difficulty in clearing off the remaining debts. The collections are greatly in arrear, and this is said to be mainly due to the fact that the estate was farmed to useless hangers-on of the Raja's family with no property. If this is the case, they should be sold out and a better class of men settled with. The cash balance at the close of the year was Rs. 45,639, a large sum to keep unutilised when there are debts on which interest is accruing. The figures given in connection with the Dhankura estate betoken bad management, to which the Board should direct their particular attention. The Lieutenant-Governor does not understand, in the case of Basudebpore, what is meant "by the non-acceptance by the estate of the settlement of the Jellamutta Julpai Chuck;" is a manager allowed to refuse a settlement which the Collector thinks adequate? It is not explained why only Rs. 18,000 were distributed to the proprietors of the Dakhin Shahbazpur estate, when a large cash balance was available: the sum distributed might apparently have been larger, due allowance still being made for improvements. An extensive settlement has been going on in the Dhalbhum Pergunnah of Singbhum, involving the complicated question of ghatwali tenures; a special report on the progress and character of this work has lately been received and will be separately noticed. The whole story of the management of this estate, as given in paragraph 42 of the report, and of the financial transactions connected with sales, mortgages and concessions for prospecting and mining leases, is too abbreviated to be intelligible. Certain small portions of the Government demand should have been paid in the Kanika and Sukraj Rai estates. In the latter it is not creditable that arrears of rent amounting to Rs. 31,420 have accrued during the Court's management. The account of the management of the Chandra Kumar estate is unsatisfactory. In the Chakma estate the authorities have performed a remarkable feat in liquidating debts up to

Rs. 12,700 by means of an annual surplus of only Rs. 4,000, since the Court of Wards took charge on 17th October 1890. The management of the Supur estate in Bankura, released during the year, is a good instance of the benefits which an embarrassed estate may receive from judicious management. In the Silli estate, also released, a settlement had been made with the ryots by Mr. F. A. Slack, C.S., acting as Manager of the Estate: it is unfortunate that the powers conferred upon him did not enable him to carry it out in such a way as to avoid the disputes which are said now to have risen, and to require cautious and conciliatory treatment at the hands of the proprietors. It is very unsatisfactory that during the entire period of Government management only 64 per cent. of the demand was collected in the Satrakhani estate. Here, as in Dhalbhum, Silli, and elsewhere, special difficulties have arisen out of attempts to settle ghatwali tenures.

Managers.

11. The salient point which has struck the Lieutenant-Governor in reviewing this report is the very limited amount of success which the revenue authorities are able to attain in the way of effecting improvements in these estates. It is of course impossible for a Collector to acquire the minute local knowledge which is necessary in order to decide where wells, tanks, bunds, roads, markets, model villages, drainage-cuts, or other improvements should be undertaken, but this is all the more reason for insisting that the manager should acquire and utilize such knowledge. Where so much depends upon the managers, it is necessary that they should be chosen with great care, and their responsibility for good work clearly defined and maintained. Next year the names of the managers of all the estates in Part II should be given.

Encumbered estates.

12. His Honour has also noticed the absence from Part II of the report (which describes progress of management in the large estates) of any special mention of the encumbered estates of the Chota Nagpore Division, which are taken charge of under Act VI of 1876. They appear from the Appendix to the report to be very numerous. There is nothing said of them collectively, whereas in His Honour's opinion such an important political matter as the success attained in clearing those estates of debt requires to be reported on distinctly every year. The Board will be requested to devote a separate part of their report to these estates in future.

13. The Lieutenant-Governor desires to acknowledge the attention paid by Mr. Halliday to the important and difficult charge of the Court of Wards throughout the year. The names of the Commissioners, Collectors, and Managers, whose services are commended by the Board, will be duly communicated to the Appointment Department.

By order of the Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal,

C. E. BUCKLAND,

Offg Secretary to the Govt. of Bengal.

The following orders regarding Tours of Inspection of certain officers under the Government of Bengal:—

Letter from the Government of India, Home Department, No. 9—681, dated the 12th February 1868, regarding tours by the Sanitary Commissioner for Bengal.

This Government (General Department) Resolution, dated the 26th February 1872, regarding tours by the Director of Public Instruction.

Letter from the Government of India, Home Department, No. 92, dated the 2nd March 1891, and this Government (Municipal Department) letter to the Inspector-General of Civil Hospitals, Bengal, No. 770, dated the 20th July 1882, regarding tours by that officer.

This Government (Political Department) Resolution, dated the 5th November 1883, paragraph 19, regarding tours by the Inspector-General of Registration.

This Government (General Department) Resolution, dated the 21st April 1888, regarding tours by Sub-divisional Officers.

This Government (General Department) Circular No. 1, dated the 3rd January 1888, regarding tours by District Collectors.

The Revenue Officers' Manual, 1888, Section V(b) and Section VI(b), regarding tours by Commissioners of Divisions and District Officers respectively.

The Jail Code, Chapter II, paragraph 29, regarding tours by the Inspector-General of Jails.

The Police Manual, Volume I, Chapter I, paragraph 3, regarding tours by the Inspector-General of Police.

The Lieutenant-Governor has recently had occasion to examine the standing orders in force on the subject of the Tours of Inspection to be undertaken by all officers, administrative and executive, serving under this Government. He attaches the greatest importance to personal supervision and communication between the Heads of Departments and the Chief Executive Officers in the administration and their subordinates, and to close and minute inspection by them of all branches of the offices and of the work done by those subordinate officers. His Honour is accordingly pleased to lay down the following orders in supersession of all previous instructions on the subject of the duration and objects of tours.

2. Members of the Board of Revenue.—With regard to these high officrs no precise rules need be laid down, but the Lieutenant-Governor has lately, in paragraph 36 of the Resolution dated the 6th October 1891, on the Board's Land Revenue Administration Report for the year 1890-91, expressed himself as follows on the subject of the inspections to be made by them:—

"He thinks that some system should be organized, by which the Members should eithe- spend a definite portion of the year on tour, or should visit a specified number of districts in the year. It would be advantageous, both to themselves and to their subordinates, if they were to inspect Commissioners' offices on the revenue side, collectorates in all branches of revenue work, distilleries and survey and settlement operations as far as they are able. Sir Charles Elliott is aware that the Members of the Board have to hear important revenue appeals, and that they are responsible for correspondence in affairs of considerable moment. But he believes that the appeals can be fixed and heard according to arrangement, and he presumes that correspondence can be carried on and disposed of by the Members when on tour. One Member only would ordinarily be absent from Calcutta at a time, so that urgent matters could be disposed of by the Member at the Presidency. At any rate, the Lieutenant-Governor may safely say that he would welcome the co-operation of the Members of the Board in improving the mofussil revenue administration of the Province and assisting in the execution of the orders of Government."

Each opium agency should be visited once a year by the Member in charge of the Miscellaneous Revenue Department of the Board of Revenue.

3. Commissioners of Divisions.—All Commissioners should be on tour at least four months in every year, and spend at least a fortnight in each district, inspecting each year every Magistrate's and Collector's office in all its branches, every sub-divisional office, every registration office and dispensary at district or sub-divisional head-quarters, every jail, subsidiary jail or lock-up; also every settlement mentioned in the settlement report of the Director of Land Records and Agriculture, which is under their orders, and, so far as possible, the summary unprofessional settlements of Government or temporarily-settled estates which are made by the district staff. They should pay special attention to the working of the Court Sub-Inspector's office, the regularity of attendance of Honorary Magistrates, the disposal of criminal cases by stipendiary Magistrates, the frequency of remands, the work of the record-room, the certificate department, the land acquisition department and the tauzi department

The Commissioners of Orissa and Chota Nagpore should spend more than four months on tour, and should visit each Tributary State under them, if possible, each year, and at any rate once in two years. The tour of the Commissioner of Chittagong should always include a visit to the Lushai Hills. Tours should not be confined to the cold weather, but should be made in the rains also, especially in Eastern and Central Bengal, and wherever water communication is easy.

4. District Magistrates and Collectors, and Deputy Commissioners.—These officers, when in charge of large districts with many sub-divisions, should spend four months on tour annually; for small districts three months will suffice. They should inspect each sub-divisional office twice a year, looking especially into the working of the branches of work mentioned above. The rest of their tour time should be devoted to making acquaintance with the chief residents in the district and the state of administration in the mofussil as regards roads, embankments, water communications, markets, ferries, pounds, &c. They should visit each municipality once a year and inspect the municipal office, looking especially into the distribution of work among the Commissioners, the arrangements for registration of births and deaths and for sanitation, the assessment, collection and arrears of municipal taxes. They should inspect their own offices twice a year while at head-quarters, carefully examining the work in every branch. Their tours, like those of the Commissioners, should not be confined to the cold weather, but should be partly made during the rains.

The following is a list of the districts which are to be classed as large:—Burdwan, Midnapur, Nuddea, Jessore, Murshidabad, Rangpur, Dacca, Backerganj, Maimansingh, Patna, Gya, Shahabad, Bhagulpur, Santhal Pergunnahs, Hazaribagh, Lohardaga. The rest fall into the class of small districts for which three months is to be the minimum period of touring required annually In the 24-Pergunnahs the tour should be divided between the Collector and the Joint Magistrate, as it is impossible for the Collector to be absent for three months of the year from his head-quarters.

5 Sub-divisional Officers.—These officers should be on tour three months in the year, looking chiefly after the mofussil wants of the sub-division; they also should inspect their own office twice a year in every branch.

6. Heads of Departments.—All Heads of Departments should be on tour for at least four months in every year, and as much more as is necessary to carry out their inspection thoroughly and make themselves personally acquainted with their own staff, with the other officials with whom they and their staff come into contact, and with the chief native gentlemen of the province who may be interested in their department. No Head of Department (except the Conservator of Forests, for whom a special rule is framed) should remain at Darjeeling when the Head of the Government is not there, except by special permission and for urgent cause shown.

7. Inspector-General of Police.—One of the two Deputy Inspectors-General of Police should be located at Patna with charge of the western and northern districts of Bengal: the other will for the present have his head-quarters in Calcutta with charge of the eastern and southern portions of the Province. They should each be at leat six months on tour, and should each inspect fifteen districts in the year. The Inspector-General should inspect personally from ten to fifteen districts, and should also visit a few (say five) other districts in company with each Deputy Inspector, in order to see how he conducts the work of inspection. He and his Deputies should vary the area of inspection in each year, so that in the course of three or four years the Inspector-General will have personally and minutely inspected every district in the province once, besides making less prolonged visits to most of the districts in the company of the Deputy Inspectors-General. He should visit, beside the head-quarters, as many sub divisional stations and outlying thanas as he finds possible. But inspection of registers and office work is not the chief part of the Inspector-General's work when on tour. He should spend several days in each district, taking sufficient time to make the acquaintance of people whom it is useful for him to know, and to get a personal knowledge of local affairs of the officials with whom his police officers are in communication, and with the local leaders of native society. He should also acquire much information as to the topographical and racial peculiarities of the district, the criminal tribes, and the local tendency to particular classes of crime.

8. Inspector-General of Jails.—This officer should inspect every Central Jail yearly and every District Jail once in two years, and also as many subsidiary jails as possible, arranging his tours so as to visit each subsidiary jail once in three years.

9. Inspector-General of Registration.—Mutatis mutandis, the same remarks as in the case of the Inspector-General of Police apply to the Inspector-General of Registration, who should divide inspection work with his two Deputies on the same system. He ought also to know enough of the peculiarities of the Mahomedan population in different parts of the province to understand, and make suitable to their wants, the working of their marriage registration law, and to see that sufficient registration offices are created to meet the wants of all classes of the population.

10. Director of Public Instruction.—The Director has so many duties in connection with the University of Calcutta, that he has found it difficult to do as much inspection and touring work as he admits to be desirable; but the Lieutenant-Governor hopes that in future he will be able to spend 60 days of the cold weather in short journeys of inspection, besides the two months in the rains, about which it is hoped that there will be no great difficulty. He should inspect every College and Madrassa once a year, and should, as far as possible, spend some time with his different Inspectors and Joint and Assistant Inspectors, watching their work and guiding and teaching them, if necessary, from his own experience. But it is quite as important for him to keep himself au courant with the general progress of education throughout the country, and the growth of the desire for it, in order to judge when and where the time has come for Government to retire from the direct charge of instruction, and to make it over to private enterprise. It is necessary also for him, as for other Heads of Departments, to make acquaintance with his own officers and with those who have relations with his Department, to enquire into the working of the different systems of education as prevalent among different classes in different parts of the country, and to settle differences which may arise between his Department and the local authorities.

11. Director of Land Records and Agriculture.—This officer should spend six months of each year on tour. He should visit each important settlement in progress under a special officer once during the year, and such specially important ones as those of Orissa and Chittagong twice in the year. He should also inspect, in as many cases as possible, the unprofessional settlements in progress under District Officers in scattered Government estates, and try to teach them some method and order in the work which is now imperfectly done. He should remain about a week or more in company with each of the Settlement Officers of the major settlements, so as thoroughly to understand their views and their difficulties, and how they carry on the work, and to guide them, where necessary, into improved methods.

12. Conservator of Forests.—The Conservator should be on tour at least six months in the year, and should visit every Forest Division in the Province during the year. His own office being permanent at Darjeeling, the rule does not apply to him that he must not remain at Darjeeling when the Lieutenant-Governor is absent, but he should manage to spend six weeks during the rains on tour, either visiting the Sunderban Division, which is easily accessible during the rains, or else inspecting the head offices and the office work of his Divisional Officers.

13. Excise Commissioner.—The Excise Commissioner should spend five months of the year on tour, and should divide inspections with the Inspectors of Excise at Patna and Dacca, so as to visit himself every central distillery in the course of two years, and to see something of sub-divisional offices, spirit depôts and licensed outstills or shops when they are within his reach. A part of each year's tour should be made in company with each of the Inspectors, so as to ascertain their method of inspecting and to guide them from his own experience.

14. Inspector-General of Civil Hospitals.—This officer should visit every dispensary at the head-quarters of a district at least once in two years, and as many outlying dispensaries as he conveniently can.

15. Sanitary Commissioner.—The Sanitary Commissioner should be at least six months on tour, and should visit every part of the Province in turn, directing his inspection chiefly to the sanitation of municipalities and the progress of vaccination work. He should also be ready at any time to visit any place where a severe epidemic of cholera or small-pox may occur.

16. Sir Charles Elliott hopes that these instructions will be strictly observed in future by the officers concerned, and His Honour directs that every Divisional Commissioner and every Head of a Department shall give in his administration report an account of the tours of inspection which he and the officers under him have made in the year, showing what places they have visited and what special matters have engaged their attention.

17. The Board of Revenue are requested to insert the changes required by this Resolution in their Revenue Officers' Manual for ready reference.

ORDER.—Ordered that this Resolution be published in the Calcutta Gazette for general information.

Ordered also that a copy be forwarded to the officers concerned for information and guidance; also that a copy be forwarded to the Board of Revenue, and to the Revenue, Judicial and Financial Departments of this Office, for information.

By order of the Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal,

C. E. BUCKLAND,

Offg. Secretary to the Govt. of Bengal.

RESOLUTION ON THE REPORT ON THE ADMINISTRATION OF THE EXCISE DEPARTMENT FOR THE YEAR 1890-91.

FINANCIAL DEPARTMENT—SEPARATE REVENUE.

RESOLUTION No. 352T—F.

READ—

The Report of the Commissioner of Excise for 1890-91, with the observation of the Board of Revenue thereon.

Excise Commissioner.

Mr. E. V. Westmacott held the office of Excise Commissioner for the whole year, with the exception of the period from 1st April to 11th June 1890, during which he was absent on privilege leave and Mr. A. Forbes officiated for him. Mr. Westmacott and Mr. Forbes spent between them 111 days on tour, and visited 36 districts and 39 distilleries. This is an improvement on the proceedings of the preceding year, and it is satisfactory to find that by prolonging his tour after the close of the official year, Mr. Westmacott managed to visit all the distilleries except those in the Sonthal Pergunnahs. Two Inspectors of Excise have recently been appointed to assist the Excise Commissioner, and orders have been issued defining more precisely the amount of travelling which will be expected of them. The Lieutenant-Governor hopes that these arrangements will make it possible to effect more regular and systematic inspection during the current year. The record of the work done on tour, annexed to the report, is extremely meagre and conveys no information worth speaking of. It is understood, however, that careful inspection reports were drawn up and communicated to the local officers, and that in future reports an attempt will be made to bring out some of the main facts ascertained and conclusions suggested by the personal observations of the Excise Commissioner while engaged on this important branch of his duties.

2. The report is illustrated by six maps; one shows the incidence per head of the total excise revenue, four the revenue derived from four of the chief exciseable articles, country spirits, toddy, pachwai, and opium, and the sixth shows areas in which the systems of central distilleries and outstills prevail. In order to complete the series, it would be well to add a map illustrating the incidence of the revenue derived from the consumption of ganja.

Subordinate staff.

3. Including the Deputy Collector attached to the office of the Excise Commissioner as the Personal Assistant, 17 Deputy Collectors were employed in the Excise Department out of the 21 whose appointment was sanctioned for that purpose by the Secretary of State. The Excise Commissioner objects to the employment of these officers in the charge of treasures and on judicial work, on the ground that this interferes with the important duty of inspection. The Lieutenant-Governor's own observations while on tour bear out this objection. Constant inspection is the first condition of efficient excise administration, and judicial work must interfere with it seriously, while a Deputy Collector engaged in treasury business can obviously only leave the station on days when the treasury is closed. Nevertheless, as was pointed out in the Resolution on the Excise Report for 1889-90, no hard-and-fast rule can be laid down on the subject. What spare time the Deputy Collector has from excise work may properly be employed in trying criminal cases; and the Government must rely on the discretion of the local officers not to divert the Excise Deputy Collector's services from the special department to which he is attached. In districts where the excise work is not of sufficient importance to justify the appointment of a Deputy Collector, the Excise Commissioner has recently suggested that "smart and active young Sub-Deputy Collectors" might with advantage be appointed for excise purposes to districts which are not important enough to require Special Deputy Collectors, and the Board have the proposal under their consideration. The subordinate establishment of the department, including the officers known as inspectors, sub-inspectors, darogas and mohurirs, was greatly improved during the year by weeding out useless men and introducing a better educated and more respectable class. It is proposed to abolish the vicious system of incremental pay, and to reorganize the entire establishment in regular grades, so that able and industrious men may obtain promotion according to their merits. In connexion with the working of the detective staff of the department, the Excise Commissioner states that excise officers are unable to make a search without the assistance of a police officer, and complains that the delay caused by this, and in some cases by jealousy and perversity on the part of police officers, has rendered searches ineffectual. He also refers to the inconvenience arising from the fact that excise officers when making an arrest have no power to release an offender on bail. It is understood that this criticism is directed at sections 40 and 44 of the Bengal Excise Act VII of 1878. The questions raised are of importance, and if it is intended to advocate a change in the law, the subject should be brought forward especially, and not touched on casually in the course of an annual report.

4. The following statement shows the excise revenue and expenditure of Bengal for the last five years :—

Period.	Revenue.	Charges.	Net revenue.	Percentage of charges.
	Rs.	Rs.	Rs.
1886-87	1,01,22,786	3,75,252	97,47,534	3·7

Difference of the past two years ...	—12,554	+97,911	—1,10,465	+·94

Financial results.

According to these figures, which represent the actual receipts during each year, the financial results of the year are a decrease of Rs. 12,544 in the gross revenue and an increase of Rs. 97,911 in the charges, showing a decrease in the net revenue of Rs. 1,10,465, which compares favourably with the decrease of Rs. 4,60,521 referred to in the Resolution on last year's report. Of the increase, amounting to Rs. 97,911, in the charges of the past year as compared with those of 1889-90, Rs. 66,564 is directly due to the extension of the distillery system, and most of the balance to the greater liberality in granting rewards for the detection of excise offences and the heavier expenditure in travelling allowance which the present methods of administration involve. The outstill system, as has often been pointed out, established everywhere a self-acting detective agency which tended to keep down illicit distillation. Under the central distillery régime no one's self-interest is enlisted on the side of the Government, and greater vigilance and activity are demanded from the inspecting and detective staff of the Excise Department. By showing merely the net increase in charges, the Excise Commissioner somewhat under-states the actual cost to Government of the changes that have been introduced, for the sum of Rs. 15,387 which figures as a saving under the head of Excise merely represents the cost of transferring to income-tax duties a number of officers who were formerly employed partly on income-tax and partly on excise duties.

5. The following statement illustrates the fluctuations in the revenue derived from the various exciseable articles during the last five years :—

					Net decrease ...	12,554

Notwithstanding a loss of Rs. 1,78,870, or 3·79 per cent, during the last two years, on country spirits, which contribute nearly 44 per cent. of the entire revenue, almost all the other heads show such a rate of increase that the net decline of revenue, which amounted to Rs. 4,15,542 in the preceding year, has fallen to Rs. 12,554. Calculated on the population ascertained in the recent census, the average incidence of the excise revenue is two annas and four pies per head.

Current settlements.

6. The settlements for the current year show an increase in every division except the Presidency and Patna, the net advance on last year's results being Rs. 3,18,180. The decrease in the two divisions referred to, amounting in all to Rs. 48,360, is ascribed to the closing of some superfluous shops and to others remaining unsettled owing to the refusal of the abkars to accept settlement at enhanced rates. The Excise Commissioner anticipates a further increase before the close of the year, but in view of the deficiency of rainfall in many districts of the Province, and of the close sympathy that prevails between agricultural prosperity and excise revenue, the Lieutenant-Governor feels some doubt whether this can be reckoned on with confidence.

Country spirits.

7. Map No. VI, prefixed to the report, gives a clear view of the three different systems under which excise duty is now levied upon country spirits in Bengal. In the central portion of Bengal proper lying mainly between the Ganges and the sea, and including Dacca and Mymensingh on the east and Orissa on the west, all outstills have been abolished and only distilleries are allowed. In Behar, and to some extent in the Hazaribagh district of Chota Nagpore, a mixed or dual system prevails : distilleries have been established at selected stations, and outstills closed within the area which can be reached by distillery liquor ; while in the rest of the district outstills are retained under stringent restrictions as to the amount of liquor the lessees may manufacture. In Northern Bengal, in Chota Nagpore with the exception of Hazaribagh, and in the Chittagong Division, there are no distilleries, and in the last-named area no attempt has as yet been made to restrict the capacities of stills and vats in order to limit the outturn of spirit. On the 1st April 1890 a great extension of the distillery system was effected by abolishing outstills throughout the Burdwan, Presidency, Dacca, and Orissa Divisions. The immediate result of this measure has been a decline in the revenue from country spirits of Rs. 1,78,870.

8. The following statement compares the excise revenue derived from country spirits during the last two years (a) in the sixteen districts in which outstills were abolished on 1st April 1890 ; (b) in Calcutta, the 24-Pergunnahs and Howrah, where the distillery system has been in force since the 1st April 1889 ; (c) in the districts of Behar and Chota Nagpore, where the dual system of administration prevails :—

9. Taking the groups by divisions, it will be seen that in the districts of the Burdwan Division included in group (a) the revenue fell off from Rs. 4,09,951 to Rs. 2,90,181, being a loss of Rs. 1,19,770 The Excise Commissioner considers that this is only partially due to decreased consumption caused by the sudden rise in the retail price of spirit. In his opinion much of the decrease must be put down to illicit distillation, and in support of this view he refers to the fact that 65 persons were convicted of this offence in Bankura, 22 in Midnapore and 10 in the Jehanabad sub-division of Hooghly, where it is reported that the zemindars actually levy a tax on illicit distillation and protect it—an allegation which, as the Excise Commissioner observes, is a serious matter and deserves further inquiry. It is observed that the number of persons other than licensed vendors, who were convicted under the Excise Law in these districts, rose from 394 in 1889-90 to 642 in the past year, and it is presumed that this increase has some connection with the introduction of distilleries; but the statement of convictions does not show how many persons were convicted of illicit distillation A classified statement of offences should be included in the next report. In the Presidency Division every district except Khulna shows a decrease, but the total loss of revenue in the four districts affected by the change was only Rs. 25,056. The Excise Commissioner suspects that illicit distillation prevails to a considerable extent in Moorshedabad and Nuddea, but the statistics do not necessarily indicate this conclusion, and few cases have been detected. All the districts of the Dacca Division except Furreedpore show a moderate increase of revenue as compared with 1889-90, but in all, except Dacca, the revenue is less than in 1888-89, when a larger number of outstills was open. No illicit distillation is suspected, but outstill liquor is believed to have been smuggled into Furreedpore from Pubna and into Mymensingh from the Garo Hills. In Orissa, Cuttack shows a substantial increase, Pooree and Balasore a small decline, the net result being a gain to the revenue of Rs. 5,383. The Excise Commissioner says that "the rise in the price of spirits has in some measure driven the people to use ganja and opium in increased quantities," but this opinion is not borne out by the statistics of consumption, which show, in the case of ganja, a falling off from 264 maunds to 241, and of opium from 303 to 298. In the sixteen districts included in this group, the revenue from country spirits fell from Rs. 7,96,006 to Rs. 6,79,997, and as the former figure does not include two months' outstill fees paid in advance, the decline is considerably greater than this comparison shows.

10. Turning now to the districts of group (b), it is observed that outstills were abolished in the 24-Pergunnahs, Howrah, and the Serampore sub-division of Hooghly from the 1st April 1889, but before that date the distillery system had been in force in the city and suburbs of Calcutta, and in the riparian municipalities of Howrah and Serampore. The entire area shows an increase of revenue amounting to Rs. 84,181, which is clearly due to the abolition of outstills in the surrounding districts having enhanced the demand for distillery spirit. An attempt is made in the Excise Commissioner's report to demonstrate the effect of the change of system on the consumption of country rum, but the argument is obscurely stated and does not seem to lead to any definite conclusion.

11. In discussing the respective merits of outstills and central distilleries with reference to the results arrived at in groups (a) and (b), the Excise Commissioner lays too much stress on the sacrifice of revenue, and appears rather to overlook the incidental advantages of the distillery system. It seems to the Lieutenant-Governor that the loss of Rs. 1,16,009 which has taken place in the districts of group (a) is nothing more than might have been expected in the first year of a new policy. In some respects, perhaps, the change was too sweeping, and in the wilder tracts of Midnapore and Bankura, where population is sparse, the people addicted to drink, the standard of living low, and illicit distillation easy, it has been found necessary to reintroduce outstills from the 1st April 1891. But in settled tracts where the people are fairly prosperous and the lower castes do not predominate, the Lieutenant-Governor sees no reason why the distillery system should not succeed in raising a moderate revenue, and at the same time in reducing consumption as soon as the disturbing effects of the change have passed away and smuggling has been reduced by improved preventive arrangements.

12. In the districts included in group (c), the excise arrangements are worked on a peculiar system which originated in the attempt made by Mr. Quinn, when Collector of Patna in 1885-86, to give effect to the proposal of the Excise Commission to limit the capacity of stills and fermenting vessels used by the lessees of outstills. A description of the present state of things in Patna, as ascertained by recent inspection, will serve to illustrate the practical working of the system. In that district the central distillery, which was opened in 1886, supplies country spirit to only 20 shops (28 in 1890-91) situated within the limits of the Patna Municipality, a tract on the south bank of the Ganges thirteen miles long and from one mile to five miles broad. The rest of the district is supplied by outstills; the capacity of each still and the number and capacity of the fermenting vats being limited according to the estimated consumption of the area served, and the upset price fixed accordingly. The data available for determining these particulars are said to be the following:—(i) The number of customers frequenting the shop, as stated by the abkar himself and as ascertained by the excise officers by enquiring among the residents of the village, (ii) the abkar's accounts of the raw materials bought by him from the traders who deal in mahua and chhoa (or molasses), (iii) the abkar's accounts of the actual sales made by him during the past year. The local consumption having been estimated from these data, the size of the still and the size and number of the fermenting vats are determined so as to enable the abkar to produce the requisite quantity. The position of the still in relation to the area supplied by the central distillery is not taken into account. Experiments have shown that one maund of materials, viz. 35 seers of mahua and five seers of chhoa, will yield from 1·89 to 2 gallons of London proof spirit. The rate of duty is Rs. 2 per gallon. In order, therefore, to fix the upset price of the license, an estimate is made of the number of the maunds that the still can work off, and this number multiplied by four gives the amount required. In framing this estimate allowance is made for the number of times that a still can be worked between sunrise and sunset, a point on which the views of the abkar are apt to differ from those of the excise officer. Another fact for which allowance has to be made is the varying rate of fermentation according to the temperature, so that in order to enable the abkar to work up to his sanctioned outturn, about one-third more vats must be allowed in winter than would be necessary in summer. The liquor manufactured under this system is extremely weak. It will not stand keeping, and the consumers prefer to drink it fresh, if not actully warm, from the still. It is almost always more than 50 degrees below proof, sometimes as low as 90, and it sells generally at from eight annas to one anna per quart bottle, according to its strength.

13. Under whatever names and with whatever slight variations of strength country liquor is distilled in Behar, it is clear that the weakest variety, the popular drink of the masses, contains a very small proportion of alcohol and must be sold cheap. The standard of living is low; the price of country liquor depends upon custom and tradition as much as upon more scientific causes, and any attempt to raise it must be made discreetly and with careful regard to local conditions. If too great pressure is put on the abkars, the producing machinery of the country may be thrown out of gear, illicit distillation stimulated and revenue sacrificed to no purpose. As it is, the results of the past year are far from encouraging. In every district of group (c), except in Hazaribagh, where there was an increase of Rs. 16,531, a marked decline of revenue has taken place, amounting over the whole area to Rs. 2,58,224. Of this loss of revenue, Rs. 2,18,249 occurred under the head of outstills, and the balance under distillery income. The number of outstills was reduced from 1,160 to 830, but there is nothing in the report to show how much of this reduction was advisedly effected by the Excise Commissioner, and how much was due to the refusal of the abkars to take stills which were offered them for settlement on unfavourable terms. In Hazaribagh the number of stills was reduced from 137 to 128, while the outstill revenue rose from Rs. 1,20,887 to Rs. 1,36,620. In Patna, on the other hand, the result of reducing stills from 126 to 110 was a fall of outstill revenue from Rs 2,33,613 to Rs. 1,87,034. A suggestion is thrown out in the Excise Commissioner's report that the season may have had something to do with the reluctance of the abkars to take settlement; but if this had been the case it must equally have affected the settlements in Hazaribagh. Taking the statistics as a whole, they seem to indicate less success in managing excise in Behar than elsewhere. It is admitted that the attempt to raise retail prices of country liquor has at present been a failure, that the abkars have combined to refuse settlements, and that the Excise Department has failed in the attempt to break up these combinations. The main object of course is to effect a gradual and lasting reduction in the consumption of country liquor, and thus to wean the drinking classes from habits of intemperance. If these results are attained, the loss of revenue becomes a secondary consideration. But the first step must be to raise the retail price of liquor and to reform and reorganize the subordinate excise establishments so as to check illicit distillation. Until these measures are carried out, the closing of outstills by raising the upset prices of licenses will merely tend to substitute illicit for licit spirit, and the revenue will suffer while no moral advantages will be gained by the sacrifice. In attempting to raise the customary price of an article in large demand, careful consideration must be given to the local conditions of the trade, the circumstances of the persons by whom it is carried on, and the habits of the customers whom they supply. It looks as if too little attention had been paid to these points, and the upset rates for shops fixed too high for the abkars to be able to recoup themselves by raising the price of liquor. No certain conclusion can be drawn from the fall in the revenue from still-head duty, which amounts to Rs. 33,966. Where every distillery is surrounded by a ring of outstills, and there is nothing but the vigilance of excise subordinates to prevent the sale of outstill liquor within distillery limits, it is difficult to justify the assertion that "the falling off in the quantity of distillery spirit sold shows clearly that the floods and agricultural depression or other causes have injuriously affected the trade in spirit." That the trade in duty-paying spirit has been injuriously affected there can be no doubt, but there is nothing to show that this has been accompanied by reduced consumption, and it is at least as likely to have been caused by an unduly severe excise policy as by agricultural vicissitudes of which no independent evidence is forthcoming.

Country rum.

14. The revenue from country rum declined during the year from Rs. 1,00,659 to Rs. 98,383, and the consumption from 44,535 gallons to 41,117 gallons. The Board have under their consideration the question of equalising the duty on country rum with the varying rates of duty on country spirits, and it is possible that the decision arrived at on this point may lead to very important changes in the excise administration of these provinces. The Lieutenant-Governor hopes that in dealing with this matter the Board will also endeavour to modify the strangely varying rates of duty on country spirits, which were fixed many years ago with reference to the supposed standard of living in the districts concerned, so as to bring about a nearer approach to uniformity in contiguous districts.

Imported liquor.

15. The revenue from imported liquor is derived partly from duty levied on importation, and partly from fees on licenses for wholesale and retail sale. The duty is credited under the head of Customs, and the Excise Department is concerned only with the revenue from fees. Here it is to be observed that the number of licenses has been reduced from 837 in 1889-90 to 816 in the past year, while the proceeds of fees rose from Rs. 2,14,090 to Rs. 2,31,095. Since November 1888 these licenses have been allowed to cover the sale of country rum, and more recently, in consequence of the inability of vendors of country spirit, who pay high fees, to compete with dealers in cheap imported liquor, it has been found advisable to make combined settlements of licenses for the sale of country spirit, imported liquor and country rum. No attempt can therefore be made to distinguish the revenue collected under these three heads. The Excise Commissioner states that cheap and deleterious liquors continue to be imported from Europe, and, notwithstanding the import duty of Rs. 6 per gallon, compete successfully with the more wholesome drink produced in the country. It may be hoped that the development of country rum will put an end to this state of things.

Tari.

16. The revenue from tari rose during 1890-91 from Rs. 8,26,314 to Rs. 8,45,586, and the settlements made during the current year lead the Excise Commissioner to anticipate a revenue of Rs. 9,35,000. Of the amount realized in the past year, Rs. 5,67,185 were collected in the Patna and Bhagulpore Divisions, while Rs. 1,66,257 were levied in the Presidency Division. Hooghly, Howrah and Cuttack raise about Rs. 25,000 apiece under this head, but elsewhere throughout the province the revenue is insignificant. The Excise Commissioner discusses at length the important question of developing the receipts from tari, on the system introduced first in Bombay and afterwards in Madras with excellent result, the duty having produced in the Madras Presidency a revenue of 44 lakhs in the last year for which returns are available, and proposes the introduction of a more precise system under which the license fee would be fixed according to the number of trees tapped for juice. A register of trees is being prepared in Patna, and inspecting officers are collecting statistics. At the same time the rights of the landholders to levy rent on the trees will, as the Board observe, have to be investigated and definitely settled.

Pachwai.

17. The revenue from pachwai or rice-beer, known also as handia from the earthen pot (handi) in which it is brewed, and including the beer brewed from marwa in Darjeeling, rose from Rs. 2,32,682 to Rs. 2,72,288. Pachwai is a wholesome and moderate form of stimulant, and the Lieutenant-Governor agrees with the Excise Commissioner in thinking that its consumption should be encouraged, which is quite compatible with raising a considerable income from it by carefully regulated taxation.

Ganja.

18. The statistics of ganja during the last three years are as follow:—

	Licenses.	Quantity consumed.	Revenue.
	No.	Mds.	Rs.
1888-89	2,922	6,413	23,18,353
1889-90	2,819	6,101	22,69,690
1890-91	2,586	6,095	23,11,713

The rise in revenue concurrently with a falling off in consumption is said to be due partly to the fact that the decrease in consumption affected almost entirely the flat ganja, which is the most lightly taxed kind, and partly to the increase in the tax on choor ganja from September 1889. That an increase of revenue from the drug should have been accompanied by reduced consumption is of course satisfactory, but until our knowledge of the subject has been materially enlarged, the Lieutenant-Governor must decline to endorse Mr. Westmacott's sweeping condemnation of ganja as a "most pernicious article." Sir Charles Elliott has known many instances of its steady and regular use by most respectable people who find themselves able to do hard work with its help, and who feel no injurious effects from it. In this respect it resembles opium. After taking a small quantity of either drug, boatmen and dâk-runners can go long distances, and coolies carry heavy loads without requiring much food, so that both articles are, like alcohol, a food of a highly concentrated nature.

Opium.

19. The following statement illustrates the demand for excise opium during the last three years :—

	Number of licenses.	Consumption.	Duty.
	No.	Mds.	Rs.
1888-89	2,374	1,925	15,98,455
1889-90	3,397	1,905	15,76,123
1890-91	2,952	1,942	16,00,093

The figures for licenses include permits to licensed druggists authorising the retail sale of opium and its preparations and poppy-heads for medicinal purpose only. The number of these permits varies strangely in different districts. In Noakholly there were 360, in Burdwan 159, in Hooghly 142, in Backergunge 103 (against 271 in the previous year), and in Calcutta 101. In many districts, again, no permits at all have been issued. The subject seems to need further inquiry. It is not enough to say, as the Excise Commissioner says, that it is the duty of excise officers to prevent the sale of opium for ordinary consumption under the cloak of these permits. Since the close of the year under review the price of excise opium has been raised in the districts of Eastern and Northern Bengal which border on Assam, and the Lieutenant-Governor will be prepared to raise it still further should it be found hereafter necessary to do so. In order to combat the trade in contraband opium, arrangements are being made to issue excise opium in the form of ten-tola slabs, so marked and sub-divided as to be easily broken into one-tola tablets, each bearing an impression on both sides.

Offences against the excise laws.

20. The number of arrests for offences against the excise laws rose from 4,441 to 5,054, and the convictions from 3,747 to 4,233, the percentage of convictions to arrests during the past year being 83·7. Out of Rs. 85,795 imposed as fines, Rs. 58,729 were realised, being 68·4 per cent. as against 69·8 in the preceding year. The amount paid in rewards increased from Rs. 52,592 in 1889-90 to Rs. 68,244 in the past year, of which Rs. 30,688 were paid to the police and Rs. 37,556 to excise officers. It would appear from this that no rewards at all were granted to private informers. The Lieutenant-Governor would be glad to know whether this is the case. He understands that one of the chief objects of spending large sums on rewards is to induce people to give information of excise offences, but this object seems likely to be defeated if an official monopoly is set up, such as this report seems to indicate.

21. The Lieutenant-Governor desires to thank Mr. Westmacott for his energetic and on the whole successful administration of excise during the past year. The subject is difficult in itself, and it has been further complicated by the changes of policy which have taken place during recent years, and the effect of which is likely to be felt for some time to come. The names of the officers commended by the Excise Commissioner will be communicated to the Appointment Department.

GOVERNMENT OF BENGAL—PUBLIC WORKS DEPARTMENT.

Irrigation.

Dated Calcutta, the 20th October 1891.

READ—

Statements Nos. I, II, and III, showing irrigation operations of canals in Bengal during the rabi season of 1890-91.

OBSERVATIONS.—The area irrigated from Bengal canals during the rabi season of 1890-91 was 58,655 acres, of which 53,137 acres were irrigated from the Sone Canals. These figures differ but slightly from those of the previous year, and represent the amount of irrigation usually effected in years of favourable rain. The only cause likely to produce any great fluctuation in the rabi returns is the occurrence of a very dry season in South Behar, such as that of 1888-89, when, out of 106,883 acres irrigated in Bengal, 97,225 acres were irrigated from the Sone Canals.

2. The details of increase or decrease in the area irrigated by each canal are given in the following comparative statement:—

SUMMARY OF THE METEOROLOGICAL AND RAINFALL OBSERVATIONS TAKEN IN BENGAL, AND OF THE METEOROLOGICAL OBSERVATIONS TAKEN IN ASSAM, FOR THE MONTH OF SEPTEMBER 1891.

THE most notable peculiarities observable in the weather conditions of September, are :—

1. The numerous shallow depressions which formed during the early part of the month in the north-west angle of the Bay, and moved in a north-westerly direction along the trough of low pressure, which extending from the head of the Bay over part of the Central and North-Western Provinces remained, more or less, distinctly defined till nearly the end of the third week. The influence of these depressions was very limited, and the rainfall caused by them, though generally heavy near the centre, was almost entirely confined to the south-west corner of the province. The wind circulation was distinctly cyclonic but always light.

2. The high temperature which owing to the absence of rainfall has obtained in the northern districts, and the low readings in Orissa, where heavy rainfall occurred during the passage of the depressions.

3. The scanty rainfall in all districts except Orissa and Chutia Nagpur, defect varying from 2·59 inches in South-West Bengal to 8·46 inches in North Bengal.

Meteorology of the month.—At the beginning of the month a centre of low pressure existed off the Orissa coast with north-easterly winds at the Orissa stations, and a steady easterly current elsewhere. During the next two days it gradually filled up, and became merged in the trough of low pressure which was then very distinct lying in a north-westerly direction from the head of the Bay The wind circulation on the 3rd was of ordinary monsoon character. The rain caused by the depression was light, and on the 1st extended over Orissa, South-West Bengal, East and North Bengal, and part of Chutia Nagpur. On the 2nd it was more scattered, but on the 3rd was general over the whole province.

On the 4th the second low-pressure area began to form in the north-west angle of the Bay, and wind directions showed a slight indraught towards a point between Saugor Island and False Point Rain was less general and lighter at inland stations, but on both the 4th and 5th very heavy falls occurred in the north-west of the Bay and the neighbouring parts of South-West Bengal and Orissa. This heavy rainfall caused a deepening in the depression, and on the morning of the 5th a very distinct but small and feeble storm existed near the Sandheads, accompanied by a light cyclonic circulation of winds On the 6th it passed between Balasore and Cuttack in a north-westerly direction, giving heavy rain to Orissa and moderate rain to some parts of South-West Bengal and Chutia Nagpur, but Behar, North Bengal, and a considerable portion of East Bengal were almost rainless. Though the storm was accompanied by very heavy rain when passing over Orissa, and gave fairly heavy rain in the Central and North-West Provinces, yet the monsoon current which flowed over Bengal in its rear, was very feeble and mainly confined to the south-western districts.

Very light monsoon weather prevailed over the whole province till the 11th, when a distinct depression formed to the south-east of Saugor Island, and, as in the case of the previous two, moved to the north-west, passing between Balasore and Chyebassa on the 12th. Heavy rain again fell in Orissa, Cuttack reporting 9·81 inches on the 12th, Kendrapara 6·77 inches, and False Point 4·19 inches. On the 13th the depression, which was filling up and becoming more diffused, lay well to the west, and the light rainfall caused by the feeble inrush of monsoon winds after the passage of the depression was fairly general over Bengal. Light monsoon weather prevailed till the 16th, when westerly winds began at the western stations and, owing to the consequent interaction, heavy rain fell in the western districts and at some of the northern stations on the 16th and 17th. On the 18th a feeble low-pressure area passed over Ganjam, causing further heavy rain in Orissa

Conditions then began to change, pressure rose rapidly in Orissa and along the west coast of the Bay, while it fell rapidly at Rangoon and Moulmein, winds becoming northerly in Lower Burmah. On the morning of the 20th a depression showed in the Gulf of Martaban with its centre south of Rangoon. It then advanced in an almost westerly direction, and though of very slight intensity, its rate of motion was so rapid that by the evening of the 22nd it had crossed the Orissa Coast close to False Point. The lowest pressure registered was 29·436″ at False Point, but though pressure fell rapidly as the centre approached, and steep baric gradients followed, still the wind velocities registered were never more than moderate in amount. Hard squalls were reported at False Point, and generally squally weather at the coast stations. On the morning of the 23rd the depression was well inland, moving in the direction of Raipore in the Central Provinces, and on the 24th the centre was between Seoni and Raipore. Till the 26th the westerly motion continued, after which the depression began to fill up and moved more to the north, and ultimately in a north-easterly direction till it was near Allahabad, where it practically disappeared about the end of the month. Throughout the existence of the depression, the wind circulation over Bengal was under its influence, and moderately strong winds blew at some distance from its centre. Rain commenced to fall on the 21st in the southern districts, and on the 23rd or 24th in the north of the province. As the depression approached Behar from the west towards the end of the month, rainfall, which had become very scattered after the 27th, again became general in the northern districts from 1st to 3rd October

Pressure.—In consequence of the formation of the frequent shallow depressions in the first half of the month, pressure changes were very variable. As a depression began to form, slow downward changes prevailed over the whole province, generally followed by a brisk fall on the following day. A brisk to rapid rise then set in, and the cycle was generally completed in three or four days. During the latter half of the month when the small cyclonic storm was crossing the Bay, pressure in Bengal fell steadily from the 20th to the 23rd and then rose till the 26th, after which irregular small oscillations prevailed till the end of the month.

The low pressure which had existed in the north-west angle of the Bay almost continuously for many weeks, remained during the first half of September, and readings were generally below the normal at inland stations. At the end of the first week defect in mean pressure varied from ·02″ in the northern and eastern districts to ·06″ at some of the coast stations. Some rapid changes occurred during the second week, but means were in almost all cases below the normal, and defect from being practically nil in the north of the province, increased to ·07″ at the head of the Bay. The steady rise which prevailed from the 17th to the 19th brought the distribution above the normal, and for the third week means were in excess by amounts ranging from ·01″ to ·04″. Unimportant changes prevailed till the 20th, when a general fall commenced, and though moderately large changes continued for some days, the means for the latter part of the month were generally only slightly above the normal, excess varying from ·05″ in the north to ·03″ in the south. In Orissa and Assam excess was less than ·02″.

Means for the whole month are very nearly normal in South-West Bengal and Assam, below the normal in Orissa, Chutia Nagpur and the west of Behar by less than ·02″, and above elsewhere by variable amounts ranging up to ·03″.

Temperature.—Owing to the very scanty rainfall in all districts except Orissa and the adjacent parts of South-West Bengal and Chutia Nagpur, temperature has been almost without a break above the normal, while in these districts in the south-west corner of the province readings have been steadily largely below the normal. During the first week the mean for Orissa was almost normal, and about 1·5° above in the rest of Bengal and Assam. During the second week the contrast became stronger, excess in the northern districts increasing to between 2° and 3°, while in Orissa the heavy rainfall lowered the temperature to 1·3° below the normal. Between the 12th and the 19th changes were moderately large, but the means were more normal, the only districts where the difference was greater than ·05° being North and South Behar. From being between 1° and 2° above the normal in Assam during the first half of the month, temperature fell there also, and about the middle of the month was practically normal. During the week ending on the 26th rainfall was again heavy in the south-west corner, and the mean temperature was below the normal in Orissa, Chutia Nagpur, and South-West Bengal. In Behar and North Bengal excess was between 1° and 2°, and in Orissa defect amounted to 1·7°. Till the end of the month there was very little change, as, notwithstanding a slight upward tendency, differences from the normal continued fairly large.

The means for the month are very high in Assam, North Bengal, and Behar, and low in Orissa, while there is a small defect in Chutia Nagpur, and a small excess in South-West and East Bengal.

Rainfall.—As stated above, very heavy rain has fallen in Orissa, and about normal amounts in Chutia Nagpur; but probably owing to the small influence of the numerous depressions in the early part of the month, the monsoon current which has flowed over the eastern and northern districts has been unusually weak. Almost the whole of Orissa has received excessive rainfall, and in the Midnapore district and part of the 24-Pergunnahs, there was excess of between 2 inches and 3 inches. The only stations in Chutia Nagpur where falls were below the normal are all in the Hazaribagh district, except the station of Hazaribagh and Gobindpore in the Manbhoom district. Excess at Cuttack is 20·88 inches, at Kendrapara 14·57 inches, and at Jagatsingpore, Chandbally, and Jellasore more than 10 inches. Over the whole of the rest of the province falls were below the normal, defect increasing towards the north-east. Defect is greater than 8 inches in the greater part of North Bengal and part of North Behar, including Purneah, Bhagulpore, and the northern halves of Durbhunga and Mozufferpore. In the rest of Behar and in South-West and East Bengal defect varies from 3 inches to 8 inches.

The comparison of the actual rainfall of the various large divisions of the province during the month is most accurately shown in the form of a percentage. The figures representing the rainfall for the month calculated in this way, are included in the following table under the heading of September. This table really gives a condensed summary of the rainfall statistics of the present year up to date for each meteorological division, the first nine columns giving the actual average falls in each division for each month expressed as a percentage of the normal, while the tenth column gives the actual rainfall of the first nine months as a percentage of the normal rainfall for that period:—

Meteorological Divisions.	January.	February.	March.	April.	May.	June.	July.	August.	September.	Actual rainfall of first nine months of 1891 expressed as a percentage of the normal fall for the period.
Orissa	11	167	424	36	134	28	74	139	180	115
South-West Bengal ...	58	193	308	50	170	61	94	84	71	95
East Bengal ...	2	311	98	130	151	71	100	65	51	88
North Bengal ...	78	377	239	77	140	53	117	46	37	78
North Behar ...	171	283	600	19	172	94	83	65	35	82
South Behar ...	253	159	734	30	165	83	85	83	56	92
Chutia Nagpur ...	163	91	506	30	148	47	97	93	102	99

It will be seen that the percentage for the month of September for North Behar is only 35, for North Bengal 37, East Bengal 51, and South Behar 56. The total rainfall in Chutia Nagpur for the year is practically normal, and in Orissa 15 per cent. in excess. The defect is not large in either South Behar or South-West Bengal, but in North Bengal the total fall is 78 per cent., and in North Behar 82 per cent. of the normal.

The actual falls are over 20 inches in the Cuttack district, part of Balasore, and in parts of the Julpigoree Dooars and the Dargeeling Terai, but these heavy falls in North Bengal are very local, and, in fact, in Julpigoree, Cooch Behar, and the Dargeeling Hill districts nearly half the stations have received less than 10 inches. Falls are generally over 15 inches in Orissa, and over 10 inches in Chutia Nagpur, but towards the north and east amounts diminish very rapidly, and it is only in a rather narrow strip of country running from the Sunderbuns in a north-westerly direction that falls are generally between five and ten inches. The only falls over 5 inches in North Behar are in Purneah and Chumparun, and in South Behar at a few scattered stations in Shahabad, Patna, South Bhagulpore, and the Sonthal Pergunnahs. The districts where rain has been most scanty are North Bhagulpore, Durbhunga, and Mozufferpore, falls being frequently less than 3 inches. No rain has been registered during the month at Siuhar, in Mozufferpore, the falls at this station during the two previous months having been 11 inches and 7 inches respectively. The stations in North Bengal which have received less than 3 inches are Pubna, Beauleah, Dinagepore, Baloorghat, Kurigram, and Bagdogra, and more than half the stations have received less than 5 inches. In East and South-West Bengal falls are generally between 5 and 10 inches.

* Mean of 6 days.

Explanation.—Summary:—The normal means of air pressure and temperature are the arithmetical average or means of the reading during the same period for the last [illegible] years. The humidity of the atmosphere is expressed at percentage, saturated air being presented by 100. A clear sky is denoted by 0 and an overcast sky by 10. The numbers given are the numerical means or average of the rainfall in that district determined from the returns sent in by the sub-divisional station for the period in question during the [illegible] wet stations in the district sending in returns divided by the number of stations. A rainy day is one on which at least a tenth of an inch fell.

for the week ending Saturday, the 17th of October 1891.

Explanation.—.....indicate that no rain has fallen. If the return for any day has not been received, the corresponding space is left blank. If any of the returns are wanting, the corresponding spaces in the total rainfall columns are left blank. With reference to the column of rainy days, the definition of a rainy day is when at least 0·1 inch of rain has fallen.

CALCUTTA, the 20th October 1891.

SUMMARY OF THE METEOROLOGICAL AND RAINFALL OBSERVATIONS TAKEN IN BENGAL, AND OF THE METEOROLOGICAL OBSERVATIONS TAKEN IN ASSAM, FOR THE WEEK ENDING SATURDAY, THE 17TH OF OCTOBER 1891.

FINE settled weather has prevailed throughout the week, with clear skies, low temperature especially at night, and an almost total absence of rain. At the commencement of the week the pressure distribution was very favourable for the continuance of northerly winds and clear dry weather, as readings were lowest in the south of Madras and gradually increased to the foot of the Himalayas, and from being slightly below the normal in the south they were more than a tenth of an inch in excess in Behar. The wind circulation was very light, but there was a decided northerly element in all districts except Behar, where calms or light variable airs prevailed. In Lower Bengal the easterly element was most pronounced; this, however, disappeared after a day or two and north or north-westerly winds prevailed. Pressure slowly fell and gradients became steadily more slight towards the end of the week, but the general character of the distribution remained unchanged, readings being highest in the north and lowest in the extreme south of Madras. While this arrangement of pressure and winds obtained, the air became drier, only very light cloud appeared, and temperature, though normal or slightly above during the day, was considerably below the normal during the night. Oscillations in both temperature and pressure during the week were very unimportant and, in fact, all meteorological conditions have been unusually settled.

Pressure.—As stated above, pressure oscillated very slightly during the week. There being a large excess at the beginning readings were never below the normal, but as there was a general downward tendency, the difference from the normal was smaller at the end of the week, and nowhere above a twentieth of an inch. From the 11th till the 13th there was a very slow rise, a moderate fall prevailed on the 14th, a slow fall on the 15th, and on the 16th and 17th small irregular changes. Means for the week are above the normal by about ·08 inch in all districts except Assam, where excess is small in the extreme east and about ·05 inch in the western half.

Temperature—Changed irregularly during the first half of the week, rising and falling in the northern and southern districts on alternate days. Then an almost general fall prevailed of between 1° and 2°, continuing on the 15th especially in Lower Bengal, after which irregular changes began again and continued till the end of the month. Lowest readings were recorded in Lower Bengal and Assam on the 17th and in the northern districts on the 11th or the 13th. On the 17th defect in mean temperature in all districts except Behar was nearly 3°, and this was almost entirely due to low temperature at night, defect in minimum readings being in some places as much as 8°. Means for the larger divisions are all below the normal, 2·6° in North Bengal, 2° in North Behar, 1·9° in East Bengal, and 1° or more in all the other districts except South-West Bengal, where defect is ·8°.

Rainfall.—No rain has fallen in North Bengal or North Behar, and only a few light showers in the other districts except Orissa, where an average of nearly half an inch has been received. In South-West Bengal the mean fall is ·08 inch, in South Behar ·05 inch, and in East Bengal and Chutia Nagpur ·02 inch. Thus the greater part of the province has been practically rainless, and the larger fall in Orissa is due to thunderstorms which were fairly general in the Cuttack and Balasore districts on the 15th.

The following table gives the summary of the temperature and rainfall data of each of the seven meteorological divisions of the province for the week ending Saturday, the 17th of October 1891 :—

The mean pressure, temperature, &c., are deduced from the traces of the Barograph and Thermograph, and from observations made at 6h, 10h, 16h, and 22h.

The maximum and minimum temperatures are obtained from self-registering thermometers. All the thermometers are verified, and the readings have been corrected to a standard constructed and verified at the Kew Observatory. They are exposed under a thatched shed open at the sides, and are suspended four feet above the ground.

The barometer readings are corrected approximately to those of the standard, Newman's No. 86, formerly at the Surveyor-General's Office.

The hygrometric elements are obtained from Tables III, IV, and V of the official tables computed in the Meteorological Office, and based on Regnault's modifications of August's formula.

The directions and the movement of the wind are taken from the trace of a Beckley's anemograph.

The mouth of the rain-gauge is one foot above the ground.

No. 3677.—In exercise of the power conferred by Act I of 1870, the following rules for quarantine against cholera have been made by the Government of Bombay, with the previous sanction of the Governor-General in Council: they have effect from the 12th instant in the ports of Aden, Perim, and the Somali Coast as a temporary measure :—

I.—The Commander of every vessel, including buggalows or other native craft, arriving from the Arabian Coast of the Red Sea from and including Yambo to Cape Babel-man-deb shall, before entering the harbour, indicate by signal the port from which such vessel has come.

II.—Such Commander shall not, except as hereinafter provided, allow any communication, either with the pilot boat, except orally, or with the shore, or with any other vessel or boat in the harbour.

III.—Immediately on arrival the Commander shall cause the letter R. of the Commercial Signal Code to be hoisted, and shall keep the said flag flying during his stay in port or until authorized by the Health Officer to haul it down. If communication with the shore is not desired, the vessel shall anchor at such place as may be pointed out by the port authorities, having regard to the season of the year. If communication with the shore is desired, the Health Officer shall go alongside the vessel, and, after all necessary enquiries, shall direct the Commander to take the vessel to the quarantine anchorage duly appointed and notified in that behalf by the Resident, there to remain for a period of seven days from the date of arrival, or for the shorter period prescribed in Rule IV, and undergo disinfection, which should apply as well to crew, passengers, effects, and susceptible goods.

IV.—If the Health Officer of the Port has sufficient evidence that no cases of a suspicious nature have taken place on board during the voyage, and if the vessel is besides in good hygienic condition, the duration of the quarantine will be diminished according to the following scale:—

After eight days of voyage	...	...	six	days of quarantine.
Do. nine	do.	...	...	five	do.
Do. ten	do.	...	...	four	do.
Do. eleven	do.	...	..	three	do.
Do. twelve	do.	...	...	two	do.
Do. thirteen	do. and upwards		...	twenty-four hours of quarantine.

V.—If during the period a vessel is at the quarantine anchorage aforesaid, any case or cases of cholera should occur on board, the said vessel shall remain in quarantine for a period of seven days from the date of the last case occurring, and be subject to all the prohibitions provided for in Rule III.

VI.—When any vessel has been placed in quarantine as aforesaid, the Health Officer may direct the removal of so many of the passengers and crew as may not be suffering from illness, and whose services may not be required on board the vessel, to such particular spots as may from time to time be selected by the Resident as places of quarantine, there to remain for a period of seven days. If a case of cholera occurs among such passengers and crew during any such period, they shall remain in a place of quarantine for a period of fifteen days from the date of the occurrence of the last case of such illness.

VII.—Any mails or cargo which may be brought by any vessel so arriving shall be landed under such precautions as the Health Officer may deem necessary to prevent the spread of the disease.

VIII.—It will be the duty of the Port Officer to facilitate the conveyance to all vessels in quarantine of such supplies of provisions, stores and other articles as may be required by those on board. Such supplies will be placed on the boats of the vessels in quarantine to be subsequently removed by members of their crews.

IX.—All vessels arriving at Aden, Perim, and the Somali Coast which may have communicated with vessels coming from the Arabian Coast of the Red Sea from and including Yambo to Cape Babel-man-deb shall be subjected to the same quarantine as vessels arriving at Aden, Perim, and the Somali Coast from the Arabian Coast of the Red Sea from and including Yambo to Cape Babel-man-deb.

REVISED ADVERTISEMENT.

BY DR. GEO. WATT, C.I.E.

Reporter on Economic Products.

Published under the authority of the Government of India in the Revenue and Agricultural Department.

The first five volumes of this work are now ready for issue, and intending subscribers are invited to register their names with the Superintendent of Government Printing, Calcutta.

The Dictionary is intended to deal with the products of India—animal, vegetable, and mineral; each product being treated after a uniform plan, the paragraphs of which give the scientific, vernacular, and European names; habitat or source; history; properties and uses (both chemical and industrial); trade statistics; markets; &c. The work is arranged alphabetically according to scientific nomenclature, but commercial and important vernacular names are also given as cross references, so that little difficulty need be experienced in finding the account of a product even when its scientific name is unknown to the reader.

An important feature of the Dictionary consists in the fact that derived information is in every instance given under quotation marks, and with a reference to the original publication Numerous contributors have, however, furnished the results of new discoveries and confirmed the vernacular names, so that the Dictionary is not only a complete compilation of published information, but has been brought abreast of the most recent inventions and discoveries.

Volume I contains the letters A and B, and consists of 559 royal octavo pages; Vol. II embraces the letter C in 689 pages; Vol. III contains the letters D, E, F and half of G. Vol IV latter half of G to middle of L; and Vol. V contains the latter half of L to end of "O." The whole work will, it is expected, be completed in seven volumes during the current year; but an eighth volume may also be issued consisting of an Index to all the vernacular and other names contained in the Dictionary. The Index will practically be a Glossary of the vernacular and European names of the plants, animals and minerals of India, and as such will be a work of reference, which, it is hoped, may prove of considerable value.

The period of registration of subscribers' names having expired on the 1st October, the price will in future be in India Rs. 45 and in England 3 guineas, payable in advance, for the complete set (exclusive of the Index, for which a separate charge will be made). An extra charge for packing and postage will be made for the set—in India, at 8 annas per volume, and for England, at 2 rupees 6 annas per volume.

For copies bound in half calf or half morocco, Rs. 6 and 8 shillings respectively will be charged extra for the whole sets.

No copies will be issued to non-subscribers till the work is complete, and no single volume will be sold separately.

FINANCIAL RESOLUTION 1891-92.

FINANCIAL DEPARTMENT—FINANCE.

No. 4501.

Darjeeling, the 26th October 1891.

RESOLUTION.

IN a Resolution dated the 17th April 1891, immediately after receiving the orders of the Government of India on the Budget Estimates for the currrent year, the Lieutenant-Governor reviewed the financial results of the quinquennial period covered by the contract of 1887, which expires with the present year. The Accountant-General's figures for March 1891 had not then been issued, and the estimates for 1891-92 were therefore framed with reference to the preliminary figures for ten, and in some cases eleven, months of the preceding year. The Accountant-General's Appropriation Report on the accounts of 1890-91 has now been received, and his unadjusted figures for the first five months of the current year are sufficient to form the basis of a review of the Revised Estimate for 1890-91 and the Budget Estimate for the current year. The usual examination of the general financial position of the Province need not therefore be postponed.

3. Land Revenue.—The latest return from the Accountant-General shows that the total collections during 1890-91 amounted to Rs. 3,88,20,000, against Rs. 3,84,74,000 passed by the Government of India as the revised estimates for the year. The 10 per cent. collections from Government estates aggregated Rs. 3,87,000, and the Provincial share of land revenue is therefore one-fourth of (Rs. 3,88,20,000 — Rs. 3,87,000) plus Rs. 3,87,000, or Rs. 99,95,000. The adjustments between Imperial and Provincial will probably result in a net deduction of Rs. 21,80,000, as shown below—

4. The only new credit which has been taken under this head under the orders of the Government of India, Public Works Department, No. 4387A., dated 19th December 1890, is on account of the receipts and charges connected with the land pertaining to the Burrakur Iron Works' property, which has been leased to the Bengal Iron and Steel Company, Limited. The rents realized from the Company during 1890-91 amounted to Rs. 281, and the rent paid Rs. 6,626, showing a loss of Rs. 6,345 to the Provincial revenues. But against this credit there has been a debit of Rs. 1,71,000, on account of the duty levied in stamps under the Succession Act VII of 1889 on probates, letters-of-administration, and certificates under Act XXVII of 1886; and the debit of Rs. 4,00,000, which was allowed for in the estimate of the Government of India on account of the net profits of the Bengal and North-Western Railway Company for the last quarter of 1890-91, has been raised to Rs. 9,39,000, as the Company's share of the profits for the preceding half-year ending 31st December 1890, amounting to Rs. 5,39,000, was not paid until May of the current year.

5. Stamps.—The Provincial receipts from stamps amounted to Rs. 1,06,86,000, against Rs. 1,07,63,000, the revised estimate of the Government of India. The decrease was under "court-fee stamps," and was due to the fall in the number and value of suits instituted.

6. Assessed Taxes.—The revised estimate under this head was placed at Rs. 42,00,000, against Rs. 41,67,000, the actuals of 1889-90. The percentage of collection on the final demand for the income-tax rose from 92·5 in 1889-90 to 93·3 in 1890-91, and the actuals in the latter year amounted to Rs. 42,39,000. The revised estimate of the Provincial share has accordingly been placed at Rs. 21,19,000.

7. Jails.—The final accounts of 1889-90 show that the receipts from Jails in that year amounted to Rs. 8,60,000, against Rs. 5,60,000 exhibited in the preliminary accounts of March 1890. The preliminary account of March 1891 shows that the receipts for the last year were only Rs. 4,90,000. The adjustment made up to August shows that the total amounted to Rs. 7,67,000. The bills of the Jail Departments for manufactures supplied to other departments during 1890-91 have not probably been yet all adjusted; but looking to all circumstances, the Lieutenant-Governor does not think that it will be safe to take more than Rs. 8,50,000 as the approximate figure for the year.

8. Stationery and Printing.—The receipts under this head amounted to Rs. 2,94,000, against Rs. 1,37,000, the revised estimate passed by the Government of India. The increase was under "Other Press receipts," and was due to the sale of census forms to other Provinces and Administrations.

10. The fourteenth report of the Directors of the Bengal and North-Western Railway Company contains the Capital and Revenue Accounts of the Tirhoot and Bengal and North-Western Railway for the half-year ending 31st December 1890, and shows the first half-year's working since the Tirhoot State Railway was made over to the Company. The gross earnings of the combined undertaking for the half-year amounted to Rs. 19,75,209 against Rs. 18,65,683, the earnings of the corresponding period of 1889, showing an increase of Rs. 1,09,526, of which Rs. 1,05,623 has been contributed by the Tirhoot State Railway, and the balance, Rs. 3,903, by the Company's line. The increase is attributable to the opening of the Sitamarhi branch and Kosi extension of the Tirhoot Railway. The working expenses of the combined undertaking amounted to Rs. 9,75,394 against Rs. 10,04,730 for the half-year ended 31st December 1889, and were 49·38 per cent. of the gross earnings against 46·40, the percentage for the Tirhoot line, and 61·86 for the Bengal and North-Western Railway, or an average of 53·85 for the two railways in the corresponding period of 1889. The net profits for the half-year amounted to Rs. 9,99,815, and this has been divided under the terms of the contract with the Company, the share of the Tirhoot line, amounting to Rs. 4,60,653 and that of the Company's Rs. 5,39,162, against Rs. 5,17,787 and Rs. 3,43,166 respectively, the net earnings of the two lines for the corresponding period of 1889. This result has been obtained notwithstanding that the additional length of line opened was on the Tirhoot side. The total mean mileage worked during the half-year was 692·62, of which 376 belonged to the Company's line and 316·62 to the Tirhoot line. Dividing the total gross working expenses in proportion to the mileage worked for the two lines, the share of the working expenses of the Tirhoot line amounts to Rs. 4,45,886, and deducting this from the gross earnings of the line, the net profits come to Rs. 6,25,711. The difference between this amount and Rs. 4,60,653 actually credited, or Rs. 1,65,058, represents the loss to the Provincial revenue for the half-year by the transfer of the management of the Tirhoot line to the Company. Calculated on this principle, the working expenses of the Bengal and North-Western Railway during the last quarter of 1890-91 would amount to Rs. $\frac{376}{692 \cdot 62} \times$ 4,77,973 (joint working expenses) = 2,57,247, and the net profits to Rs. 5,97,721 — 2,57,247 = 3,40,724. But as the share of the Company's net receipts under the contract has been estimated by the Government of India at Rs. 4,00,000, and a deduction of this amount has already been made from the Provincial share of Land Revenue, the Provincial revenues are entitled to recoupment of the loss for the last quarter, amounting to Rs. 4,00,000 —3,40,724=59,276. A credit for Rs. 1,65,058+59,276 = 2,24,334 has accordingly been provisionally taken under this head, subject to final adjustment under the orders of the Government of India who have been separately addressed on the subject in letter No. 382T.—F., dated 26th October 1891.

The total Provincial receipts would amount to Rs. 1,49,24,000, thus—

11. Civil Works.—The original estimate of the Public Works Department under this head for 1890-91 was Rs. 1,50,000. Subsequently a plot of land on the north-west corner of the Custom House premises in Calcutta was made over to the East Indian Railway Company for the extension of their office buildings on payment of Rs. 3,17,041. The revised estimate was therefore placed at Rs. 4,67,000. The actual receipts have, however, amounted to Rs. 4,72,000.

EXPENDITURE.

12. Land Revenue.—The Accountant-General's preliminary account shows that the total expenditure under this head amounted to Rs. 33,96,000, against the revised estimate of Rs. 37,16,000, the charges for the survey and settlement amounting to Rs. 1,83,000 only, against Rs. 4,90,000, the revised estimate passed by the Government of India. As the adjustments between the Imperial and Provincial accounts on account of the professional surveys have not yet been completed, the estimate passed by the Government of India has been retained.

13. Salt.—The original estimate under this head, amounting to Rs. 30,000, was raised to Rs. 93,000 in the Financial Resolution, dated the 19th October 1890, to provide for the cost of a shunting line directly connecting the golahs with the East Indian Railway, and for the regrant of Rs. 51,425 for the purchase of Mr. Kilby's patent scales for the weighment of salt. But the total expenditure amounted to Rs. 68,000, the decrease being due to Rs. 29,431 only having been spent in the purchase of new scales.

14. Provincial Rates.—The total expenditure under this head exceeded the estimate by Rs. 26,000. The revised estimate now amounts to Rs. 4,06,000.

15. Police.—The revised estimate of the Government of India under this head is Rs. 52,58,000, but the total expenditure amounted to Rs. 58,42,155. The increase is due to the inclusion of the charge, amounting to about 5½ lakhs, connected with the Chin Lushai expedition incident to the formation of the South Lushai Hills district. The question of final adjustment of these charges is under consideration, and pending its settlement the charges have been eliminated from the Provincial account.

16. Marine.—The total expenditure under this head amounted to Rs. 9,40,000, against Rs. 9,16,000, the revised estimate accepted by the Government of India. The increase was under "Pilotage, Pilot establishments and vessels, and Marine establishments."

17. Education.—There has been an increase of expenditure under "Government Colleges—both General and Professional" and "Grants-in-aid." The total charges amounted to Rs. 25,25,000, against the estimate of Rs. 24,86,000.

18. Stationery and Printing.—The cost of stationery supplied from Central Stores in 1890-91 amounted to Rs. 6,52,000, against Rs. 5,35,000 provided for in the budget, and the total expenditure, Rs. 11,51,000, against Rs. 10,50,000, the estimate passed by the Government of India.

19. Civil Works in charge of Civil Officers.—The expenditure under Ferries amounted to Rs. 8,000, against a provision of Rs. 29,000, and the total revised estimate now stands at Rs. 64,000, against Rs. 94,000, the amount provided in the estimate.

20. Closing Balance.—According to the revised estimates now adopted, the closing balance will stand at Rs. 33,77,000, against Rs. 32,61,000 anticipated by the Government of India when passing the estimates for the current year.

BUDGET ESTIMATE, 1891-92.

22. Land Revenue.—The Government of India have accepted the estimate of total collections under this head as passed by the Local Government for 1891-92, amounting to Rs. 3,82,50,000, against Rs. 3,88,20,000, the actuals of 1890 91. The collections in the first five months of the current year amounted to Rs. 70,38,000, against Rs 74,67,000 in the corresponding period of last year. The falling off is due to the arrear demand collected in the first quarter of 1891-92, being Rs. 17,85,164 against Rs. 22,46,426 in the corresponding period of 1890-91. Full allowance had been made for this short collection in the original estimate, which is the same as the contract figure, and will be retained.

1891-92 ..	3,82,50,000
Total of 5 years	19,13,26,000
Average per year	3,82,65 000

The average receipts during the quinquennial period covered by the present contract have amounted to Rs. 3,82,65,000,* and for the purpose of the next contract it will not be safe to take a higher figure in fixing the assignment under this head. The percentage on collections from Government estates for their management and improvement has been raised from 10 to 12 under orders of the Government of India, Home Department, No. 196, dated the 29th May 1891, in order to provide for sanitary improvements in villages, and the estimate under this head has accordingly been raised from Rs. 3,90,000 to Rs. 4,68,000. The Provincial share of Land Revenue (proper) will therefore amount to one-fourth of (Rs 3,82,50,000 – 4,68,000) + Rs. 4,68,000, or Rs. 99,14,000 against Rs. 98,55,000, the original estimate. The adjustments between Provincial and Imperial according to the estimate of the Government of India will afford a net credit for Rs. 31,000 to the former, and in the absence of any later information, this figure will be retained. The details are as follows :—

23. In addition to these adjustments, an application has been made to the Government of India for an assignment of Rs. 11,000 on account of additional remuneration paid to Mr. J. C. Macgregor, Receiver of the High Court, equal to three-tenths of the net profits derived by Government from the receipts of his office. Additional grants have also been asked for to meet the increase of charges under survey and settlements over the contract allotment for five years from 1887-88 to 1891-92, and for improvements in the Judicial Service effected by increasing the number of Subordinate Judges and Munsifs. Pending the orders of that Government, no credit has been taken for these sums.

24. Salt.—The receipts during the first five months of 1891-92 amounted to Rs. 49,387, against Rs. 50,633 obtained in the corresponding period of 1890-91. The total receipts in last year amounted to Rs. 1,28,000, and although some increase is anticipated from the improvements in the Sulkea Golah when completed, the Lieutenant-Governor does not think that it will be safe to place the estimate for the current year at a higher figure than Rs. 1,35,000, which has accordingly been adopted, against Rs. 1,50,000 originally estimated.

25. Stamps.—The total revenue from stamps has been estimated at Rs. 1,45,00,000, showing an increase of Rs. 2,52,000 over the approximate actuals of last year which amounted to Rs. 1,42,48,000. The Comptroller-General's latest statement shows that the receipts during the first five months of the current year have exceeded those of the corresponding period of last year by Rs. 4,42,000, and the increase is almost entirely under court-fees; but looking to the prospects of the season, the Lieutenant-Governor does not think it safe to provide for a larger increase than has already been allowed for in the estimate of the Government of India, which will accordingly be retained. The Provincial share will amount to Rs. 1,08,75,000.

26. Excise.—The original estimate of receipts under this head for 1891-92 amounts to Rs. 1,05,00,000, against Rs. 1,04,65,000, the revised figure for 1890-91, as it now stands. The result of the recent settlement of excise shops for 1891-92 shows an increase of more than two lakhs in "License fees" as compared with that of the last year. The estimate will be raised to Rs. 1,06,00,000, and the Provincial share to Rs. 26,50,000.

27. Provincial rates.—The following statement compares the receipts under his head in past years :—

	1887-88.	1888-89.	1889-90.	1890-91.	Estimate, 1891-92.
	Rs.	Rs.	Rs.	Rs.	Rs.

Total ...	42,37,000	41,56,000	43,06,000	43,20,000	44,02,000

28. The latest returns submitted by district officers show an increase of about Rs. 16,000 under "Public Works Cess" collections in the first five months of the current year as compared with those of the corresponding period of last year. The actuals in 1890-91 amounted to Rs. 38,94,000. The estimate of Public Works cess for the current year will be placed at Rs. 39,25,000, and the total at Rs. 43,27,000. The recoveries from District Funds of the cost of collecting Road cess amounted to Rs. 3,55,000 in 1890-91, but as these erroneously included in some cases arrear contributions for pensions of Government officers transferred to District Boards, the original estimate of Rs. 3,20,000 for the current year has been retained.

29. Customs.—The estimate under this head amounts to Rs. 56,000, against Rs. 58,000, the latest estimate for 1890-91. The average of the past four years amounts to Rs. 55,000. The estimate will be retained.

30. Assessed Taxes.—Both the revised estimate for 1890-91 and the estimate for 1891-92, as passed by the Government of India, amount to Rs. 42,00,000. The actual receipts in 1890-91 amounted to Rs. 42,39,000, but the collections in the first five months of the current year show a decrease of Rs. 2,02,000 as compared with those of the corresponding period of last year. The decrease is mainly in Calcutta and in the Dacca Division. It would perhaps be premature to assume that the collections will not come up to the estimate of the Government of India, though it is unlikely that the amount realized last year will be obtained. The estimate of the Provincial share will accordingly stand at Rs. 21,00,000.

31. Forests.—The Conservator of Forests anticipates an increase of Rs. 35,000 over the sanctioned estimate in consequence of 3,000 standing sâl trees supplied to the Bengal-Nagpore Railway. The Provincial share has accordingly been raised from Rs. 3,90,000 to Rs. 4,07,000.

32. Registration.—The estimate under this head amounts to Rs. 12,50,000, against Rs. 12,39,000, the approximate actuals of 1890-91. The actuals in the first five months of the current year show an increase of Rs. 31,000 over those of the corresponding period of last year; but looking to the prospects of the season, the Lieutenant-Governor is not sure that this rate of increase will be maintained throughout the year. The estimate will, however, be raised to Rs. 12,70,000 and the Provincial share will stand at Rs. 6,35,000.

33. Law and Justice.—Courts of Law.—The Government of India placed both the revised estimate for 1890-91 and the estimate for 1891-92 at Rs. 8,50,000. The receipts in 1890-91 were Rs. 8,96,000, but these included a special credit of Rs. 58,000, paid into the Purneah treasury on account of the value of Court-fee stamps. The receipts in the first five months of the current year show a decrease of Rs. 20,000 as compared with those of the corresponding period of last year. Looking to all the circumstances, the Lieutenant-Governor would place the estimate at Rs. 8,20,000.

33. Jails.—The original estimate under this head amounts to Rs. 11,05,000 against Rs. 8,50,000, the latest estimate for 1890-91. The receipts in the first five months of the current year show an increase of Rs. 41,000 only over those of the corresponding period of last year; and although the recent orders of the Secretary of State will lead to a larger supply of the requirements of the public consuming departments by the Jail Department, the experience of past years does not justify a provision for a larger increase than a lakh and a half over the receipts for the current year. The estimate will be placed at Rs. 10,00,000.

34. Police.—The latest revised estimate for 1890-91 stands at Rs. 4,50,000. The receipts during the first five months of the current year show a decrease of Rs. 31,000 as compared with those of the corresponding period of last year. The estimate of the Government of India, amounting to Rs. 4,30,000, will be retained.

35. Medical.—The receipts under this head in 1890-91 amounted to Rs. 1,43,000. The same figure will stand as the estimate for the current year.

36. Scientific and other Minor Departments.—The receipts under this head in 1890-91 amounted to Rs. 1,77,000, and in the first five months of the current year show an increase of Rs. 38,000 over those of the corresponding period of last year. Some slight increase is also anticipated from the extension of the supply of quinine from Government factory to municipal and other local dispensaries, which at present buy the drug at a higher price than is charged for the Government preparation. The estimate will be raised from Rs. 1,54,000 to Rs. 1,80,000.

37. Superannuations.—The estimate of receipts under this head for 1891-92 amounts to Rs. 68,000, against Rs. 1,26,000, the revised estimate for 1890-91 as it now stands. The receipts of last year comprised arrear contributions received on account of the employés of District Boards whose services had been declared to be qualifying for pension. But these contributions are subject to refunds in consequence of the recent orders of the Government of India, under which no contributions are payable by the officers of the Education Department who have been transferred to District Boards along with the schools to which they were attached. The original estimate will be retained.

38. Miscellaneous.—The estimate of receipts amounts to Rs. 7,97,000, against Rs. 7,69,000, the approximate actuals of 1890-91. The receipts in the first five months of the current year show a decrease of nearly Rs. 45,000 as compared with those of the corresponding period of last year. Judged by this standard, the estimate might be reduced to Rs. 7,50,000. But as a sum of Rs. 30,000 has just been paid by Baboo Shew Bux Bogla in aid of the proposed establishment of a veterinary school and hospital for cattle in the vicinity of Calcutta, the estimate will be placed at Rs. 7,80,000.

39. Railways.—The following statement compares the estimate of the Government of India with the latest estimate for 1890-91:—

* This share for nine months has been adjusted under Land Revenue in the accounts of 1890-91.

The high receipts of 1890-91 were due to the influx of coaching traffic on the occasion of the Ardhodoya Joga bathing festival in the latter part of the year, which is not expected to occur in the current year. The returns from the Examiners of Accounts show but a small increase in the receipts of the Eastern Bengal System, but present more favourable results on the Tirhoot and Bengal and North-Western Railways. There are, however, no sufficient materials to justify any alteration of the estimates so as to affect the Provincial share of net receipts; but a credit for three lakhs will be taken provisionally under this head for the loss to the Provincial revenues caused by the transfer of the management of the Tirhoot line to the Bengal and North-Western Railway Company for which no provision was made in the original estimate. As has been stated in paragraph 10 above, the Government of India have been specially addressed on this point, and the Lieutenant-Governor has expressed his readiness to accept their decision as to the method in which the loss to Provincial revenues should be calculated. For the purposes of the estimate dealt with in this Resolution, it is, however, necessary to assume a definite figure, and the estimate of Provincial gross receipts has accordingly been taken, subject to the results of the reference which has been made to the Government of India, at Rs. 1,67,00,000+3,00,000—11,80,000=Rs. 1,58,20,000.

40. Irrigation, Major Works.—The latest revised estimate for 1890-91 amounts to Rs. 13,47,000, and the estimate for the current year Rs. 14,19,000.

The receipts in the first three months of the current year show an improvement of Rs. 33,000 over those of the corresponding period of last year. The estimate will be retained.

41. Civil Works.—The average ordinary receipts of the Public Works Department amount to Rs. 1,50,000. A special credit for Rs. 80,000 has been allowed under this head on account of the contribution payable by the Darjeeling-Himalayan Railway Company towards the maintenance of the Hill Cart Road, out of their surplus profits for the two years ending 30th June 1891. The estimate for 1891-92 therefore stands at Rs. 2,30,000.

EXPENDITURE.

42. Land Revenue.—The original estimate of the Local Government amounts to Rs. 38,36,000, which has been raised by the Government of India by Rs. 72,000 to provide for increased expenditure under survey and settlement charges. The estimate has further been raised by Rs. 78,000, being the 2 per cent. on collections from Government estates for sanitary improvements. The estimate now stands at Rs. 39,86,000.

43. Salt.—The estimate under this head, amounting to Rs. 31,000, has been raised by Rs. 21,994, being the amount of regrant of the unspent allotment sanctioned last year for the purchase of Kilby's salt-weighing scales in Calcutta. The total grant will stand at Rs. 52,000.

44. Excise.—The Government of India have adopted the estimate under this head as passed by the Local Government, amounting to Rs. 6,81,000. The estimate includes the necessary provision for the salary of 21 Deputy Collectors now employed on special Excise duty in Bengal. There is, however, no provision for the travelling allowance and other charges of the two Deputy Collectors employed as Inspectors of Excise, and for other small increases of establishments sanctioned in the several districts. The establishment of the Excise Department is under revision, but pending final orders the estimate will be placed at Rs. 6,88,000 to meet the new charges mentioned above. The Provincial share will stand at Rs. 1,72,000.

45. Assessed Taxes.—The estimate under this head provides for the salary of a separate Collector of Income-tax in Calcutta. As there is no probability of the new appointment being made during the current year, the estimate will be reduced from Rs. 1,98,000 to Rs. 1,93,000. The Provincial share will stand at Rs. 97,000.

46. Forests.—The Government of India have raised the original estimate under this head by Rs. 15,000 to provide for changes in the staff sanctioned by the Secretary of State. The total grant stands at Rs. 4,69,000. The Conservator has asked for the regrant of Rs. 14,000 for the cost of a steamer for the Sunderbuns Division, which was provided for in last year's budget, but which could not be utilized in that year, as the Marine Department could not comply with the requisition. The Provincial grant will be raised from Rs. 2,35,000 to Rs. 2,41,000.

47. Interest on Ordinary Debt.—The estimate of loans and advances sanctioned by the Government of India places Rs. 25,06,000 at the disposal of the Local Government, including the opening balance of 1890-91, and provides for net outgoings of Rs. 7,79,000. The closing balance at the end of the year is thus estimated at Rs. 32,85,000, and the mean balance at Rs. 28,95,000. Interest at 4 per cent. on this amounts to Rs. 1,15,800, and Rs. 1,16,000 has been taken as the amount payable to the Government of India during the current year. Pending the submission of revised estimates for the current year which are under preparation, the original estimate will be retained.

48. Law and Justice, Courts of Law.—The estimate passed by the Government of India amounts to Rs. 85,05,000, against Rs. 82,39,000, the latest estimate for 1890-91. The estimate for the current year includes the following provisions:—

	Rs.
6 Additional Subordinate Judges, 2 on Rs. 800 and 4 on Rs. 600	48,000
55 Additional Munsifs (5 on Rs 400, 10 on Rs. 300, 15 on Rs. 250 and 25 on Rs. 200)	1,65,000
Establishment of Additional Subordinate Judges	6,000
Ditto ditto Munsifs	36,000
Cor[illegible] contingencies of ditto	5,000
For [illegible]provement of the ministerial establishment of Civil Courts	50,000
Fifth Judge of the Calcutta Small Cause Court	12,000

It has been decided to sanction four extra Subordinate Judges, or one in addition to the three now temporarily employed, of which one officer will be in the second grade on Rs. 800, and the other three in the third grade on Rs. 600 each per mensem. The annual cost will be Rs. 31,200. A reduction of Rs. 16,800 will therefore be made under this sub-head. A reduction of Rs. 4,000 will also be made on account of establishment of the two Additional Subordinate Judges not sanctioned by the Government of India. As regards additional Munsifs, the Government of India have decided to sanction the full number but to place them in the following grades:—

		Now employed.	New appointments sanctioned.
First grade	... ...	(400)—75	...
Second „	... ...	(300)—70	5
Third „	... ...	(250)—65	10
Fourth „	... ...	(200)—20	40
	Total ...	235	55

The salary of the 55 officers sanctioned by the Government of India amounts to Rs. 1,44,000, against Rs. 1,65,000 provided for in the budget. A reduction of Rs. 21,000 will be made on this account. The Extra Small Cause Court Judge, Calcutta, temporarily sanctioned, is still employed in the Court, and no saving can be expected on this account. Final orders have since been passed regarding the improvement of the ministerial establishment of the Civil Courts recommended by Messrs. Stevens and Toynbee, and it has been decided that Rs. 5,000 will be sufficient provision to make on this account during the current year. Taking these reductions into account, the Lieutenant-Governor considers that Rs. 84,20,000 may fairly be taken as the revised estimate for the current year.

49. Jails.—The estimate passed by the Government of India amounts to Rs. 21,96,000, against Rs. 20,40,000, the latest estimate for 1890-91. The estimates of receipts and expenditure under this head are compared below with the actuals of the preceding years—

	1887-88.	1888-89.	1889-90.	Latest Estimate.	Budget Estimate.	Estimate now proposed.
				1890-91.	1891-92.	1891-92.

Manufactures.. Expenditure ...	5,29,000	6,49,000	5,84,000	7,88,000	9,00,000	8,30,000
Net Receipts ...	1,77,000	1,18,000	2,73,000	59,000	2,00,000	1,65,000

The estimate provides for a net expenditure of Rs. 12,91,000 under Jails and for net receipts of Rs. 2,00,000 from Jail manufactures. Looking, however, to the great increase of jail population that has taken place during the last six months, the Lieutenant-Governor thinks it will be necessary to raise the net grant for Jails to Rs. 13,75,000, a net credit for Rs. 1,65,000 being taken on account of the proceeds of Jail manufactures as shown in the last column of the table above. The estimate of expenditure on Jails and Manufactures together will thus amount to Rs. (13,80,000 + 8,30,000 =) 22,10,000. But this will be raised by Rs. 700 to meet the cost of constructing a latrine for the convicts employed at the Presidency Jail Press, and reduced by Rs. 3,757, the amount made over to the Public Works Department for the construction of a corrugated iron shed at that Jail. The grant for the year will stand at Rs. 22,07,000.

50. Police.—The estimate of the Government of India, amounting to Rs. 53,33,000, has been raised by Rs. 1,30,000 to provide for the following charges recently sanctioned for the improvement of the police on the recommendation of the Police Commission:—

(a) Raising the pay of the constables in the Presidency, Burdwan, Rajshahye, Dacca, and Chittagong Divisions from Rs. 6 to Rs. 7 each per mensem.

(b) Granting a free kit and increasing the clothing allowance.

(c) Abolishing deductions for superannuation fund.

The grant will stand at Rs. 54,63,000, which will be exclusive of any new charges for the Lushai country to be met from any special allotment for the purpose. An estimate of these charges is under consideration.

51. Marine.—The latest estimate under this head for 1890-91, amounting to Rs. 9,40,000, includes grants of Rs. 20,000 to each of the Balasore and Cuttack and Pooree Port Funds. The original estimate for the current year is Rs. 8,78,000, and includes a grant of Rs. 10,000 to the Port Funds. This estimate will be raised by Rs. 12,000 to meet the cost of the repairs of the yacht Rhotas which have not been fully provided for in the budget. The revised estimate will then stand at Rs. 8,90,000.

52. Education.—The estimate under this head, amounting to Rs. 24,94,000, has been reduced by Rs. 6,684, and a corresponding grant has been made to the Public Works Department for additions and alterations to the Darjeeling, Dumka, and Khulna Zillah School buildings, and for the repairs to the Goluckpore house at Bankipore for the Patna Survey School. Against this reduction an additional grant of about Rs. 8,000 has been made for regrants of undrawn building grants for 1890-91. The total grant now stands at Rs. 24,95,000.

53. Medical.—The estimate passed by the Government of India will be raised by Rs. 2,000 for the establishment of an out-door dispensary for the Campbell Medical Hospital. The revised estimate will stand at Rs. 15,53,000.

54. Scientific and other Minor Departments.—The estimate under this head has been reduced by Rs. 4,789, and a corresponding grant has been sanctioned to the Public Works Department for the completion of the quarters of the Curator of the Herbarium in the Royal Botanic Garden at Sibpur. On the other hand, the Government of India having discontinued their grant of Rs. 2,500 on account of sericultural experiments in Bengal, the amount has been made good by a corresponding grant from the Provincial revenues. A special grant of Rs. 5,000 will also be made for the inprovement of the roads and walks in the Botanic Garden. The estimate now stands at Rs. 3,10,000.

55. Superannuations.—The estimate under this head amounts to Rs.15,43,000. The actual charges in past years amounted to—

			Rs.	Increase. Rs.	Rs.
1886-87	... ...	...	12,68,000	... .
1887-88	... ...	...	12,80,000	12,000

1891-92	... ...	(estimate)	15,43,000	———	2,46,000

The increase in the last four years amounted to Rs. 2,46,000, or an average of Rs. 61,000 a year. The actuals in the first five months of the current year show an increase of Rs. 41,000 over those of the corresponding period of last year, and justify the estimate being raised to (Rs. 15,14,000 + 61,000=) Rs. 15,75,000.

56. Construction of Railways.—An additional grant of Rs. 6,856 has been sanctioned for the erection of certain bridges and embankments for the safety of the Kaunia-Dhurla State Railway line, which has raised the estimate from Rs. 5,000 to Rs. 12,000.

57. Minor Works and Navigation by Public Works Department.—An additional grant of Rs. 80,000 has been sanctioned to the Public Works Department to meet the cost of the following urgent works—(1) Godagari road embankment; (2) removing embankments on the right bank of the Damuda; (3) tug for the Midnapore Canal; (4) survey of Gogra river; and (5) construction of a retired line for the safety of the Chumparun embankment. A transfer of Rs. 14,000 has also been made from Major to Minor Works, and the estimate now stands at Rs. 17,87,000.

58. Civil Works.—The grant for Provincial Civil Works for the current year was originally fixed at Rs. 37,00,000, and the preliminary budget was prepared for that sum, but subsequently in a letter from the Public Works Department of this Government, No. 540A., dated the 20th February 1891, the Public Works Department of the Government of India were requested to raise the estimate by Rs. 3,17,000, being the proceeds of a portion of the site of the Custom House buildings sold to the East Indian Railway Company and credited to Provincial revenues in the accounts of 1890-91, on the distinct understanding that the amount would be spent on the erection of a new building for the Calcutta Collectorate and for the improvement of the Custom House. The amount was also included in the statement of alterations in the estimates submitted to the Finance and Commerce Department in this Department letter No. 1299, dated the 9th March 1891. The works have already been taken in hand, and the amount will be placed at the disposal of the Public Works Department. A further grant of Rs. 2,00,000 will be required for the extension of the Park Street cemetery in Calcutta, the construction of a Veterinary School and Hospital, the building of a combined zillah and Bhutea school at Darjeeling and other urgent unforeseen charges not provided for in the estimate. This and other small additions already made have raised the grant to Rs. 43,00,000, thus—

These make a total of Rs. 8,41,001; and as some provision is necessary to meet unforeseen demands, such as the payment of arrears of contribution, the estimate under this head has been raised from Rs. 8,30,000 to Rs. 8,67,000.

60. Closing balance.—According to the estimate passed by the Government of India, it was expected that the year would close with a credit balance of Rs. 31,47,600. According to the estimate now adopted, the closing balance will be Rs. 25,16,000, against an opening balance of the year amounting to Rs. 33,77,000.

62. The result of the first three years, of which the accounts have been finally closed, shows a net improvement of Rs. 37,06,000 under Railways (Revenue Account), of Rs. 18,05,000 under Revenue Heads, and of Rs. 2,70,000 under Miscellaneous; while the net expenditure on Civil Works and Irrigation exceeded the contract assignment by Rs. 15,97,000 and Rs. 19,85,000 respectively, exclusive of the grants made to District Boards amounting to Rs. 3,59,000 for maintenance of provincial roads transferred to their management. In Civil Departments the net increase of expenditure on General administration was Rs. 49,000; on Judicial Courts, Rs. 1,02,000; Jails, Rs. 2,35,000; Police, Rs. 17,08,000; Marine, Rs. 6,04,000; and Medical, Rs. 1,01,000. Against these increases there has been a net decrease of Rs. 26,64,000 under Education, of which about Rs. 3,00,000 represent a real improvement in receipts, and the balance, Rs 23,64,000, is more than counterbalanced by grants to the District Boards concerned.

Against the large increase under Irrigation, Police and Marine, the Government of Bengal received grants-in-aid of Rs. 5,40,000, Rs. 3,23,000 and Rs. 1,91,000 respectively from Imperial Revenues, while a sum of Rs. 1,89,000 was spent on Famine relief without any assignment. The net result of the three years was an improvement of Rs. 16,77,000 over the contract assignment, and the balance at the disposal of the Provincial Government rose from Rs. 20,00,000 on 1st April 1888 to Rs. 36,77,000 on the 31st March 1890.

63. The accounts of the last two years have been unduly swollen by the inclusion of the transactions of the Bengal and North-Western Railway from 1st July 1890, and the provision for the payment of its net receipts to the Directors of that railway. The net gain to the Provincial Government from Railways in these two years amounted to Rs. 48,26,000—Rs. 9,39,000 = Rs. 38,87,000, over the contract assignment; and of Rs. 16,06,000 in revenue heads. But the excess expenditure on Civil heads amounted to Rs. 15,41,000; on Irrigation Works Rs. 16,33,000; on Civil Works Rs. 20,48,000; and Miscellaneous Rs. 36,000. The grants to local funds amounted to Rs. 14,43,000 in excess of the assignment provided for in the contract between Imperial and Provincial, and the net result of the two years' transactions is a reduction of the Provincial balance by Rs. 11,61,000. The net improvement in five years amounts to Rs. 5,16,000.

O. T. BARROW,

Accountant-General, Bengal.

EXHIBITITION OF METAL WARE AND POTTERY TO BE HELD AT THE OPENING OF THE IMPERIAL INSTITUTE IN LONDON.

REVENUE DEPARTMENT.

RESOLUTION No. 326Mis. (F.)

Darjeeling, the 22nd October 1891.

READ—

A circular letter No. 21—23M & E., dated 26th September 1891, from the Secretary to the Government of India, Revenue and Agricultural Department, with enclosures, on the subject of an exhibition of metal work and pottery to be held at the opening of the Imperial Institute in the summer of 1892.

IT is proposed by the Governing Body of the Imperial Institute, Exhibition Road, London, to hold a special exhibition of metal work and pottery at the official opening of that Institute by Her Majesty the Queen-Empress in the summer of 1892.

The Secretary to the Imperial Institute has drawn up the annexed memorandum* relating to this subject, and Her Majesty's Secretary of State for India has been requested by the President and Council of the Institute to make the contents of that memorandum known to the Local Governments and Administrations, and Political Agencies in India, with a view of obtaining from the several Indian provinces contributions to the proposed exhibition. It is suggested that any contributions suitable for permanent display in the collections which are to illustrate the industrial resources of India, received through the Local Governments and Administrations should be assigned to the permanent collections to be represented at the Imperial Institute; and it is expressly stated that the specimens should be useful rather than ornamental, and should be small in size; any consignments of Indian metal work and pottery that are contributed should be restricted to purely commercial exhibits. The Government of India have forwarded a copy of the correspondence on the subject to this Government for such action as may be considered desirable.

* Dated 13th July 1891.

2. The Lieutenant-Governor desires to co-operate, as far as it lies in his power to do so, with a view to securing suitable contributions from Bengal to the proposed exhibition. This Government will bear the cost of carriage to Calcutta of any articles that may be sent from any part of this Province, and of their freight from Calcutta to England. For the exhibits themselves, Sir Charles Elliott will look to the public spirit of local bodies and to the liberality of private persons. Any local bodies or private persons who may be willing to contribute specimens are requested to communicate with the Under Secretary to the Government of Bengal in the Revenue Department, informing him of the number, nature, and size of what they propose to send. If he decides that the articles referred to come within the scope of the exhibition, he will ask the parties concerned to forward them to Mr. Troilokhya Nath Mukharji, Assistant Curator, Economic and Art section of the Indian Museum, Calcutta, who will be supplied with funds to pay for their carriage, and will arrange for their despatch to England.

ORDER.—Ordered that the foregoing Resolution be published in the Calcutta Gazette for general information.

Ordered also that a copy be forwarded to Mr. Troilokya Nath Mukharji, for information and guidance.

By order of the Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal,

C. E. BUCKLAND,

Offg. Secretary to the Govt. of Bengal.

MEMORANDUM.

IT is proposed to hold, upon the occasion of the opening of the Imperial Institute, an exhibition of metal-work (including jewellery) and of pottery and porcelain.

Such of the articles exhibited as are suitable for permanent display in the collections which are to illustrate the industrial resources of the Empire might be retained in the Institute: the remainder might be returned or sold, and contributors to the Exhibition would be invited to regard the permanent exhibits as loans, which could be replaced from time to time as fashion or improved production might require.

As space is limited, the exhibits should not include objects of large size.

Rare specimens of very special artwork would not be suitable for retention as permanent exhibits, which should include only such articles as are likely to be in demand by the "Trade."

Metal-work is understood to include the application of metals to the enrichment of fabrics, leather, &c., in such proportions as materially enhance the value and change the character of the objects.

Pottery includes porcelain.

The materials used in the different manufactures illustrated might be included ; also small models showing the various processes employed

The following is a rough list of exhibits which might be furnished from North India (chiefly Native States) ; it includes an indication of the nature of such representations of the mineral resources of North India as are connected with metal-work, and should be contributed to the permanent collections.

Explanation.—Summary.—The normal means of air pressure and temperature are the arithmetical average or means of the reading during the same period for the last
are the numerical means or average of the rainfall in that district determined from the returns sent in by the sub-divisional station for the period in question during the

for the week ending Saturday, the 24th of October 1891.

Explanation.—..... indicate that no rain has fallen. If the return for any day has not been received, the corresponding space is left blank. If all the returns are wanting, the corresponding spaces in the total rainfall columns are left blank. With reference to the column of rainy days, the definition of a rainy day is when at least 0·1 inch of rain has fallen.

CALCUTTA, the 27th October 1891.

SUMMARY OF THE METEOROLOGICAL AND RAINFALL OBSERVATIONS TAKEN IN BENGAL, AND OF THE METEOROLOGICAL OBSERVATIONS TAKEN IN ASSAM, FOR THE WEEK ENDING SATURDAY, THE 24TH OF OCTOBER 1891

SETTLED weather has prevailed throughout the week in the northern districts and in Lower Bengal, except on two days in the latter half of the week when, owing to the depression in the south west of the Bay, cloudy and in parts showery weather obtained. At the beginning of the week pressure was about ·05 inch below the normal in the south of the Bay and as much above in the west of Behar, so that gradients were steeper than is usual at this season. Consequently northerly breezes were blowing at all stations, and dry air with comparatively low temperature prevailed. The low-pressure area in the south of the Bay gradually deepened and concentrated off the Madras coast, where it remained stationary almost till the end of the week, and the slow fall of pressure which had been going on in Bengal during the previous week continued till readings were about a twentieth of an inch below the normal; but as the fall was very uniform over the Bay and Bengal, the distribution underwent very little relative change. Almost general rain fell at the Madras stations day after day, and the influence of the depression on the general weather conditions gradually advanced northwards, becoming apparent in Orissa and Lower Bengal, on Wednesday the 21st, in cloudy skies and local showers, especially in East Bengal. On the 22nd light cloud continued, and showers again fell in East Bengal and part of South-West Bengal, but after that there was clear sky and rainfall ceased.

The rainfall in East Bengal may have been partly due to local causes, as pressure fell there much more rapidly on the 23rd than in other districts, and squally weather with very heavy rain was reported from Akyab, but with the rise of pressure in the south of the Bay after the depression passed inland, conditions became settled over the whole province. No rain fell in Chutia Nagpur and Behar, and practically none in the other districts except East Bengal.

Pressure on an average for the week has been normal in the northern districts and about ·02 inch below in South-West Bengal. At the beginning of the week there was excess of about ·05 inch in the west of Behar diminishing to ·02 inches at the head of the Bay. The general tendency has been downwards, but changes have been very small except on the 22nd, when there was a brisk fall at some of the eastern stations, followed by a moderate rise. The depression in the south of the Bay was shallow throughout, and the greatest defect was about ·15 inch at Negapatam. The means for the week being normal is due to the small excess at the beginning counterbalancing the small defect at the end.

Temperature has at times changed irregularly, but it has generally fallen, and the defect of about 2° which prevailed at the beginning of the week has been maintained except in Behar and part of Chutia Nagpur, where there was a rather rapid rise during the last day or two, resulting in excess of between 1° and 2°. Means for the week are below the normal in all districts except South Behar, where there is a slight excess. Defect is 1° in Chutia Nagpur and North Behar, 1·2° in East Bengal, 1·4° in South West Bengal and Assam, 1·5° in North Bengal, and 2° in Orissa.

Rainfall was almost general in the following districts on the 21st and 22nd:—Chittagong, Chittagong Hill Tracts, Backergunge, and Noakhally; scattered in Furreedpore, Tipperah, Mymensingh, Nuddea, and Khoolna; and very scattered in Orissa and other districts of South-West Bengal. No rain fell in Behar and Chutia Nagpur, and only one shower was reported in North Bengal. The mean fall is very nearly half an inch in East Bengal, ·08 inch in Orissa, and ·03 inch in South-West Bengal.

The following table gives the summary of the temperature and rainfall data of each of the seven meteorological divisions of the province for the week ending Saturday, the 24th of October 1891:—

The mean pressure, temperature, &c., are deduced from the traces of the Barograph and Thermograph

The maximum and minimum temperatures are obtained from self-registering thermometers. All the thermometers are verified, and the readings have been corrected to a standard constructed and verified at the Kew Observatory. They are exposed under a thatched shed open at the sides, and are suspended four feet above the ground

The barometer readings are corrected approximately to those of the standard, Newman's No. 86, formerly at the Surveyor-General's Office.

The hygrometric elements are obtained from Tables III, IV, and V of the official tables computed in the Meteorological Office, and based on Regnault's modifications of August's formula.

The directions and the movement of the wind are taken from the trace of a Beckley's anemograph.
